Because beaver and otter have attained an abundance in the Upper Mississippi, Mud Lake, Tamarac, and Rice Lake National wildlife refuges in excess of the capacity of such refuges to support such species, and that such species are threatening the well being and continued production of the same and of other protected animals, beaver may be trapped in these refuges only from sunrise April 16 to sunset May 7, and otter in these refuges only from sunrise April 16 to sunset April 30, both dates inclusive.

Not more than 10 beaver nor more than 3 otter may be taken by any one licensed trapper during the seasons.

All beaver and otter taken by licensed trappers shall be submitted to the inspection of a game warden or other authorized agent of the director of the Division of Game & Fish for sealing as provided by law not later than 5 days after the close of the seasons prescribed for the area in which they were taken. Beaver shall be submitted with tail intact and attached to the hide.

No traps of any kind shall be set in, upon or closer than 6 feet from the water line of any beaver house.

No person shall molest or damage any beaver house or dam.

Taxes Are Seen as Top State Problem

Minnesota Poll Shows Unemployment Second

Minnesota's biggest problems, as the people of the state view them, are (1) taxes, (2) unemployment, (3) school finances and school shortages, (4) absence of new industry, and a "climate" not conductive to attracting new businesses to the state, (5) farm crop prices.

Those are the opinions of state adults, expressed in a survey by the Minneapolis Tribune's Minnesota Poll, in which a representative cross-section of men and women, aged 21 and older, was asked, "Right now, what would you say is the biggest problem facing the people of Minnesota?"

Many other problems were mentioned in the study — the high cost of living, how to improve the state highway system, problems of state government, traffic control, juvenile delinquency, the general issue of war or peace. But those five led the list.

Different segments of the population view the state's most pressing problems in different ways. For example, almost as many farmers comented on the problem of crop prices as did on tax matters. Mentions of unemployment turned up twice as often among city dwellers as they did among farm residents.

To Speak April 28

A. J. VANDER MEULEN

The Christian Fellowship Club of the Evangelical Free Church will hear an address April 28 at 8 p. m. by A. J. Vander Meulen, prison evangelist and rescue mission superintendent of Grand Rapids, Michigan. Mr. Vander Meulen will be bringing his personal testimony, "From Crime to Christ" as well as telling of some of his experiences behind prison walls and on 'Skid Rows' of America.

Vander Meulen terms himself an "ex convict saved by God's Grace," and will tell of his remarkable conversion from a life in the underworld in Chicago's famed Pacific Garden Mission.

Shortly after his conversion, Vander Meulen surrendered to the FBI and was sentenced to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, Michigan on old felony charges. It was in this prison that Vander Meulen decided to go into the ministry. In prison, he supervised the Prison Bible School, which grew from a handful of inmates to over 700 men studying God's Word behind prison walls.

Vander Meulen was paroled after having served only 2 years of his long sentence, and almost immediately thereafter entered into the ministry.

Auto Production Sets New Record to Date This Year

More Than 2,100,000 Cars Were Built in 1st Three Months of 1955

In the week ended April 9 U. S. factories built 173,310 cars. This brought the year's assemblies so far to a record 2,362,266 vehicles. The industry still is setting up new production records just about every day.

Unofficial reports indicate more high marks also are being made in retail deliveries. The figures available, however, are subject to revision. Unofficial tabulations indicate the year's 2,000,000th retail delivery was made last week.

Last year the comparable retail sale was not made until May 21.

Despite the high level of new car sales, inventories throughout the nation now are estimated at well above the 600,000 mark. This is somewhat more than a normal one month's requirement.

Neither manufacturers nor dealers are displaying concern about the mounting inventories. If sales follow the normal pattern new car deliveries will hit an even heavier pace in the weeks immediately ahead.

The factories built more than 2,100,000 cars in the January-March quarter. Present projections indicate another 2,200,000 will be built in the April-June quarter.

That pace will not be maintained through the second half of the year, but the year's overall total easily might exceed the 1950 record of 6,666,000 car assemblies.

Heads of the major car producing companies say the only thing that could prevent a new record this year is a possible production stoppage stemming from labor's demand for a guaranteed annual wage.

The pedestrian record reflected the 4th consecutive year of improvement of motor vehicle accidents in 1954.

80 Million Autos Expected by 1970

Total Number at End of 1954 Was 48 Million

A passenger car population of 80 million automobiles by 1970 was forecast today by the National Automobile Dealers association. The car population of this country increased from 25.6 million cars in 1945 to more than 48 million at the end of 1954.

Thus more than 2 million cars have been added to registrations each year in the last 10 years.

"In this 10-year period 42½ million cars have been produced," the association reported. "During the same 10 years some 18.8 million cars have been sent to junk heaps. There are now 11 million pre-war automobiles on our highways. Most of these cars will be scrapped in the near future. In the next few years the difference between cars produced and cars scrapped should be about 2 million. In 15 years that would mean an increase of about 30 million cars.

"We must allow for population growth and continued prosperity. Our allowance of 2 millions cars in a 15-year period is most conservative."

about this question

A farmer can be ever so careful, yet, a farm animal on the road, a grass fire, hazardous farm machinery, all make a farmer open to a possible law suit for damages or injuries. Is there a low-cost insurance that will protect a farmer from such liability?

Rev. Robert H. Harper

Asa's Religious Reforms.

Golden Text: II Chronicles 15: 12.

Asa was a grandson of Rehoboam and he came to the throne of Judah about nine hundred years before Christ. His grandmother was a wicked old woman and the court in which Asa grew up was corrupt. But, instead of giving way to the many inducements to evil about him, the young man rebelled against prevalent evils and decided to do something toward changing them.

Life in high places often finds a counterpart among the masses. The conditions throughout Judah were bad indeed. Vice and idolatry were rampant. The worship of Jehovah was forgotten.

Soon after he came to the throne, Asa was met by the prophet Azariah, and the prophet recited some of the familiar and tragic features of Hebrew history. He dwelt upon the times when the people had forgotten God and practiced idolatry, and he made clear what the course of Asa should be in the face of the prevailing corruption and promised that the young king should find rich reward.

The lesson text tells of the reforms that were carried out. The lesson may lead us to consider reforms that are needed today and the principles involved. They are reforms that must not be carried primarily through politics but through religion. They must be steered clear of "entangling alliances" with men and parties and must be based upon the word of God and carried out in dependence upon him and in consecration to his will.

the New PACKARD with Torsion-Level Ride

Smooths the Road ...Levels the Load Automatically

Here's comfort you've dreamed of . . . and a ride to set you dreaming! It's the new Packard Torsion-Level Ride—a new system of suspension eliminating conventional coil and leaf springs to give you comfort unequaled by any car, on any road.

In other cars, twisting forces due to wheel shocks are transmitted to the frame. You submit to the resulting pitch and bounce . . . the car is subjected to wracking of frame and body. But with Packard Torsion-Level Suspension, these same twisting forces are transmitted along the new torsion bar system, and absorbed before they can reach either frame or passengers. And an ingenious power-controlled leveller automatically compensates for changes in passenger and luggage load.

All this is yours plus the tremendous power of the new "free-breathing" V-8 engine developing 275 horsepower in the Caribbean and 260 in all other models. Plus, too, the smooth response of the new Packard Twin Ultramatic—actually two transmissions in one. All this in a setting of magnificent luxury and beauty. See and drive this one new car in the fine car field. "Ask the Man Who Owns One."

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

"I've asked all of Bill's junior high teachers how he is getting along in school, and they all say 'fine.' I want to know what he is really doing in school!"

Parents want to know and teachers are eager to give accurate information on children's progress. Often, however, the general question "How is Bill getting along?" is given a noncommittal and general answer. Specific questions are more likely to draw out specific information.

"Do you feel that Bill is making satisfactory progress in his work?" give a teacher the assurance that his parents realize that their child's achievement is related to his ability and that the goal is for him to achieve to his fullest capacity.

"Is Bill having any difficulty in reading?" allows the teacher to point out that Bill understands what he reads and is able to learn most new words as they are used, but that he is handicapped by the inability to sound out words which cannot be guessed.

"Is there anything I can do to help Bill in school?" makes it easier for the teacher to bring up any number of things such as the need to see the dentist, or suggesting more rest because of his apathy and irritability in school, and so on.

"How does Bill get along with the other children?" opens the door for an exchange of helpful information. Teachers are grateful when parents bring up the important factor of social development.

Parents who plan their questions to get specific information are apt to be gratified at what they learn. At the same time they provide an opportunity for the teacher to be comfortable in discussing the progress of her pupils.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA Contact Representatives at the Minpls VA Hospital, or the Bismarck or Grand Forks VA Offices.

Q—I am taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. Although I have not completed my training, my employer has increased my pay so that now I am receiving the beginning wages paid to a fully-trained worker. Does that mean my GI allowance will be cut off?

A—Not necessarily. Your GI allowance will not stop, so long as it is established that you still are a trainee in all respects except pay.

Q—Is it possible to collect GI unemployment pay at the same time I am enrolled in school under the Korean GI Bill? Since I am in school, I am not working.

A—No, it is not possible, under the law, to obtain GI unemployment allowances while you are enrolled in training under the Korean GI Bill. Although you may not be working, you are drawing monthly GI training allowances from the Government.

Q—I am entitled to increased disability compensation pay by reason of my dependents. What does VA consider as the effective date of those increased payments?

A—The effective date of increased payments because of dependents is the date on which VA receives evidence establishing entitlement to the extra pay.

Q—A veteran-friend of mine who had been getting a pension somehow failed to send VA his annual income questionnaire. As a result, his pension has been stopped. If he now sends the questionnaire to VA, and if his income is below the legal maximum, will the payments be resumed?

A—If he returns the questionnaire within one year from the date it was originally sent to him, he will receive his pension payments all the way back to the date they were cut off. If he waits longer than one year, the payments will begin as of the date of ceipt of the questionnaire the date a new claim is fi All this presupposes that veteran's income is below legal maximum for a p sion.

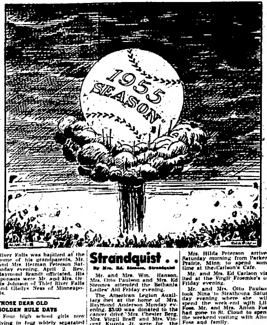
THE BLAST THAT ROCKED A NATION



THOSE DEAR OLD GOLDEN RULE DAYS

Four high school girls now living in four widely separated communities, who at some time in their short lives lived in and attended school at Shakopee, have recently won the same title, "Homemaker of Tomorrow." First Mary Strunk, still in Shakopee high, was named winner of the title; then came word that Sandra Seidel, now at Pipestone, had been similarly honored; then Karen Sanford, Phoenix, Arizona; then back to Lois Ann Buller in Guardian Angels high school, Chaska —For 65 years Richard Liljeblad and Gerda Lunden had not seen or heard from each other. Then at International Falls, where he is a veteran insurance agent, Mr Liljeblad had a letter from his one-time college mate in Sweden. Both are now well up in their 80s.

Price of Minnesota Land Mounts in 1954

Minnesota farm land prices stabilized and rose slightly in 1954, according to research by the University of Minnesota's agricultural economics department.

Philip M. Raup, professor of agricultural economics, says that a recent survey showed an average price of $112 per acre for 1954, or 7 per cent above the $105 per acre average of 1953. Figures come from an annual questionnaire sent farm real estate dealers.

Raup explains that the increase might be the 'first bounce' from a land price decline which began in 1952. The Korean War gave postwar land prices a new push in 1950 and 1951. By March, 1952 they were nearly as high as the 1920 "land-boom" peak when the Minnesota land price index stood at 213, figuring prices of 1912-14 as 100.

He says land prices reached their recent low in fall, 1953. He points out that Minnesota farm land prices recovered last year despite the down-trend of farm products prices in relation to farmers' production costs, which in 1954 was eight per cent below 1953.

Raup says a major reason for higher prices is the low "market supply" of farms. Recent estimates say only four farms out of 100 were sold each year, 1953-1954. Another reason: many farmers want to expand. One fourth of the 1954 purchases were farm additions. In the Northwestern Red River Valley, half of all sales reported were additions and the greatest increase in land prices occured there.

Raup believes a third cause of of the increase may be that farmers are less pessimistic about our economic future. Also, land prices lagged behind postwar farm product price increases. Part of the increase might be a "catching up" to present farm income levels.

Here are the average area prices and percentages of increase: Southwest, $139, 6.5 per cent Southeast, $187, 6.5 per cent; West Central, $99, 4 per cent; East Central $66, 6 per cent; Northwest, $72, 1 per cent; and Northeast $40, no increase.

Buying of Savings Bonds Continues

Pennington Residents Buy $82,563 to Date

As the first quarter of 1955 ended on March 31, Minnesota had achieved 23.8 per cent of its year's sales goal for U. S. Savings Bonds.

Forty-five counties out of the state's 87 were above the 25 per cent line. They were led by Hubbard (47%), Cottonwood (41.8%) and Yellow Medicine (39.7%).

The three metropolitan counties ranked as follows: St. Louis, 35.1%; Hennepin, 23.4%, and Ramsey, 23.1%.

Minnesotans purchased Series E and H bonds during March amounting to $8,800,000. This was one million dollars or approximately 13 per cent greater than a year ago. First quarter sales were moe than $26,000,000.

Puchases in Pennington county were $82,563, bringing its quota attainment up to 24.6 per cent. In Marshall county, purchases were $121,613 or 29.2 per cent, and in Red Lake county $21,003 or 16 per cent.

National sales during March were 518 million, up nine per cent over a year ago. Sales continued to exceed redemptions which resulted in a net volume of 242 million for the first quarter.

Individuals throughout the United States hold approximately 39 billion in E and H bonds, cash value — an all-time high.

Life Insurance Men Will Meet In St. Paul April 29

Life insurance men from all over the state will converge on St. Paul April 29 for their annual sales congress to be held in the St. Paul auditorium.

Sponsored by the Minnesota Association of Life Underwriters, the congress is designed to keep members abreast of new developments in legislation and taxation which affect their policyholders.

Over 700 delegates from the 11 local associations are expected to hear St. Paul Mayor Joseph E. Dillon open the Congress on Friday, April 29.

One of the highlights of the sessions will be the presentation of the Heart Fund plaque to state chairman Loane J. Randall of St. Paul. The state association has conducted the fight against heart disease since 1951 as a state-wide service project.

In that span of five years, they have increased contributions to support heart research from $113,000 in 1951 to over $350,000 in 1955.

Start with New Seed for Garden, Experts Advise

For good results in the home garden, it's best to start with fresh seed each year, according to extension horticulturists at the University of Minnesota.

Vegetable and flower seed over from last year are definitely not worth the gardener's time and effort in planting if too few will germinate to produce a good crop, the horticulturists say.

The only sure way of knowing whether last year's seed is worth planting is to test it by making a trial planting in a flower pot or tray of soil. Keep the soil moist and worm. If half the test seeds come up, plant the seed in the garden twice as thick as recommended.

The horticulturists also discourage gardeners from planting seeds which have been saved from favorite annual flowering plants in the home garden. Because of cross-pollination which takes place in the garden, flowers from such seeds may not have the desirable characteristics a second year. Colors, for example, may not be as intense and pure as they were the first year.

Fertilizer Makes Luxuriant Lawn

May Use Either Animal or Commercial Fertilizer

If you want a green luxuriant lawn this summer, fertilize it now.

That suggestion was given to home owners today by Richard Stadtherr, research fellow in horticulture at the University of Minnesota.

A spring cleanup of the lawn should precede fertilizing, he said. Rake up leaves, paper and fallen twigs, using a broom-type rake. Leave the old grass because it will soon decay and return nutrients and valuable organic material to the soil.

After the cleanup, rolling the lawn will make it more even. Using too heavy a roller or rolling when the ground is wet and sticky may compact the soil and hence should be avoided.

For fertilizing the lawn, the University horticulturist recommends a commercial fertilizer or a bushel of well rotted barnyard manure spread thinly and evenly on each 100 square feet of lawn.

Many home owners prefer commercial fertilizers to manure because they are easy to apply and are free of weed seeds. Stadtherr suggests a complete fertilizer which contains at least 10 per cent nitrogen, using it at the rate of 1 pound per 100 square feet. A safe rule to follow is to apply the fertilizer so each 1,000 square feet of lawn area receives 1 pound of actual nitrogen. Thus for 1,000 square feet, 10 pounds of 10 per cent nitrogen-carrying fertilizer would be required.

Apply the fertilizer when the soil is slightly moist but the grass is dry; otherwise the lawn may be burned. Spread the fertilizer as evenly as possible over the area. For even application, it is best to use a fertilizer spreader, but be careful not to overlap the fertilizer, Stadtherr cautions. Water thoroughly soon after applying the fertilizer to help prevent burning of the grass. Watering will also wash the fertilizer into the soil.

GOD at home

God is everywhere! And yet we speak of a church as God's House.

Well, man is everywhere. His planes soar above the clouds, his mines tunnel through the earth, his rails span mountains and plains, his ships ply the seven seas.

And yet, every man cherishes the one place he calls home. He cherishes it not for its location or appearance, but for the love and companionship he has experienced there.

In similar spirit man has thought it no blasphemy to call each church the House of God. For He Who made man in His own image must feel the same impelling attraction for the scene of His communion with those He loves.

The greatest honor you can bestow on a friend is to invite him into your home. Each hour of worship God invites you into His.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Are all gasolines pretty much the same
No, they're not. Standard gasolines are distinctly different. We've got our own way of making gasolines—and we're mighty fussy about things like purity, proper balance for all 'round performance, and guarding the quality of the gasoline until it's in your tank. That's why Standard maintains private and exclusive terminal facilities in your area—to assure you of uniform gasolines of the same consistent high quality day in and day out. Yes, STANDARD WHITE CROWN and RED CROWN Gasolines are protected for your benefit all the way from the refinery to your car . . . for Standard maintains private and exclusive lake tankers, river barges, pipelines, tank cars and trucks. And a good thing to remember is this . . . no gasolines arrive at or go out of our terminals but Standard gasolines.
Try a tankful of one of these clean burning, high octane gasolines today, and drive away convinced that there is a difference!
Everything it takes to be "TOPS"!
Standard's modern refineries are the finest it is possible to build and maintain. Our chemists and engineers conduct a continuing program of research and development to bring you the best in gasolines . . . to assure you consistent high quality day in and day out for peak performance and power . . . to give you gasolines that have everything it takes to be tops!

Here's why Chevrolet out-V8's everybody!

These features and advantages are the measure of a truly modern V8 engine . . . and only Chevrolet has them in the low-price field. Most aren't even found in high-priced cars. That's why Chevrolet is stealing everybody's thunder with the most modern V8 on the road!

Modern 12-volt electrical system! The only car in the low-price field with the extra energy of 12 volts . . . twice the electrical punch!

Faster, stronger cranking for cold-weather starts and a "fatter" spark for faultless high-speed operation.

Highest standard compression ratio in its field! Chevrolet's compression ratio is 8 to 1, to wring every possible ounce of power and extra miles out of every gallon of gas.

Requires only four quarts of oil! Chevrolet's V8 engines are so efficient they need only four quarts of oil . . . so you save on every change!

Highest horsepower per pound! These great V8's weigh far less than any similar engine in America, top the low-cost field in power per pound!

Shortest piston stroke in the industry! Three-inch stroke reduces cylinder-wall friction, generates less heat, permits more compact design.

The pistons do far less traveling per mile . . . that means less engine wear, lighter loads on bearings.

May 6 Is Achievement Day for County Home Extension Program

Members of the extension home groups in Pennington County are among some five million women in the nation—51,000 in Minnesota—who are taking part in a home economics educational program that is helping them to keep up-to-date in their jobs by learning the latest homemaking techniques.

During the tenth annual observance of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7, attention throughout the nation will be focused on this program of education for better homemaking. Known in Minnesota as the extension home program and in some states as home demonstration work, it is probably the most far-reaching voluntary educational movement for women. Homemakers in Pennington County will celebrate the week by holding an achievement Day on Friday, May 6.

This program is carried into rural communities in this state by home agents and state specialists, as a cooperative undertaking of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the University of Minnesota and the local counties. It is open to all rural women.

"Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World", theme of National Home Demonstration Week, embodies the objective of the extension home program, according to Home Agent Marge Olsen. Through the many projects of extension home groups, members learn ways of making family life more satisfying and their homes more comfortable and efficient.

Since the program was started in Pennington county, members of homemaking groups have studied a wide range of topics relating to homemaking and family living. This past year the emphasis has been on food, clothing, furniture and family life. The program is developed in each county by the county extension home council and the home agent.

In Minnesota as a whole, the extension home program has helped thousands of homemakers to improve family nutrition and health, has featured good home management, has helped consumers in selecting, buying and using food, clothing, household appliances and home furnishings. Through family life conferences, members of extension home groups have become increasingly aware of the influence of the home on the character and personality of youth and have been assisted in solving many of the problems of family living.

According to Miss Olsen, women who have not been connected with the extension home program and would like to enroll in a group may do so by contacting the home chairman in their local townships or the county extension office.

Milton Reierson, who was elected a state director, was presented with a past president's pin by Ormond Johnson, who in turn pledged his best efforts as president.

Jon Metusalem, chairman of the outstanding young farmer project, announced that the man selected was Clyde Christensen, 25-year-old Smiley township farmer. Stanley Nelson, adult agriculture instructor in Lincoln high school was called on to present him with a handsome plaque.

Nelson briefly recounted Christensen's record, stating that he had started out his career by winning 4-H dairy project trips to the state fair, later serving as president of the local FFA chapter. After finishing high school here in 1947, he started farming with his father, Waldie Christensen, and following service in the armed forces, he bought his father's quarter sec

1955 County Fair Will Be Final One, Fair Board Rules

County Institution, Now 53 Years Old, Will Come to End after 1955 Event

After more than 53 years of continuous operations, the Pennington county fair will terminate at the close of the 1955 season. This was the decision reached by the board of directors of the fair association at a lengthy business session held last evening in the Civic and Commerce office.

The board also discussed at length the possibility of cancelling the fair for the 1955 season, but because of the many legal obligations already incurred in connection with the 1955 fair, the board decided that it was compelled to continue with its plans for the 1955 fair and this event will be held as scheduled on July 11 through July 14.

Failure to win public support for its improvement program, especially in the rural area of the county, was cited by the board in its decision to close the fair after the 1955 season.

The board expressed its thanks to all those who worked in support of the bond issue and voted in favor of the bond issue at the polls.

TRF Intermediate Scouts Hosts to Winnipeg Guides

Minneapolis Dentist Held in Death of Former Local Women

Mrs. Mary Moonen Found Dead in Minneapolis Residential District

A special grand jury session has been ordered in Minneapolis for next Monday morning to consider charges against Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod, 49-year-old dentist being held in connection with the death of Mrs. Mary Moonen, whose body was found Saturday morning in an alley in an exclusive residence district in Minneapolis.

Dr. William Guthrie, Hennepin county coroner, ruled Tuesday that Mrs. Moonen had died of asphyxia by manual strangulation. Dr. Axilrod had admitted having been with her Friday evening, and he told authorities Mrs. Moonen had accused him of being the father of her unborn child. The coroner said an examination had revealed that she was in her third month of pregnancy.

Mrs. Moonen, the wife of Pfc. Mathias Moonen, now serving in Korea, is the former Mary Frederickson, daughter of Alfred Frederickson of Minneapolis who was formerly employed by a Thief River Falls wholesale house. Her mother died several years ago.

A graduate of Lincoln high school in the class of 1952, she was living at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moonen of rural Plummer, at the time her child, Gloria, was born nine months ago. She had gone in December to Minneapolis, where her sister, Mrs. Donald Newton, also lived.

Local people who knew Mrs. Moonen said she appeared to be rather shy and that she had a good reputation. Her husband is due to get his army discharge next fall, and he left Korea Sunday on an emergency furlough.

Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible, a gift of the groom.

186 Children Go Thru PTA Pre-school Clinic Held Last Saturday

The pre-school clinic was held last Saturday at the Northrop school under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse. Physical examinations, immunizations, and vaccinations, were given to 186 children which is an increase of 30 more children than last year. Doctors who participated were: Dr. Dan Greene, Dr. H. Paul Wendt, Dr. William Feigal, Dr. K. Stensgaard, and Dr. Thomas G. Murn.

Nurses assisting at the clinic were Mrs. Andy Williamson, Mrs. Pearl Iverson, Mrs. Betty Amiot, and the Misses Norma Jean Looker, Lydia Dahlen, Mary McLaughlin, LaVerne Larson, Adeline Oveson, Shirley Streeter, Darlene Carlson, Marion Torkelson, Carol Andrews, and Evelyn Hruby. The laboratory technician was Miss Ann Gunderson.

Representatives from the Knox, Northrop and Washington PTA groups who assisted were Mrs. Emmett Mousley, Mrs. Ray Borgeson, Mrs. James Gullingsrud, Mrs. Everett Amundgaard, Mrs. Henry Storhaug, Mrs. A. F. Burke and Mrs. Merle Lindberg.

Mrs. Race urges parents of all children entering kindergarten next fall to take the children to the dentist during the summer and return the pink dental cards the first day of school.

Local PTA groups were included among the Parent-Teacher Associations from 513 Minnesota schools which took part in the 1954 summer roundup of pre-school children. Over 36,000 Minnesota children went to physicians and dentists for health check-ups before entering school last fall. By urging parents to see that children receive complete physical check-ups before they begin school, the PTA helps make sure that every child will be able to participate fully in school learning and play activities.

graphs, gave reminiscences of his association with the Lakers and said that the records he had set up during his playing career wouldn't have been possible without the loyal cooperation of his teammates.

He stressed the necessity of teamwork in achieving success and added that while athletic sports are wonderful, they are only one means of a young man preparing himself for the future.

The program opened with selections by members of the Lincoln high school band directed by John Moum. The Rev. K. Pat node supplied the invocation and benediction.

Nelson said that Christensen maintains an outstanding herd of Holstein cattle, which average 508 pounds of butterfat per year, and that in addition he has 500 hives of bees as a sideline. He is active in church work and in dairy promotion, serving at present as secretary of the Thief River Falls Dairy club.

Christensen, whose name will now be entered in competition for the state award, expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him, adding that others deserved much of the credit for whatever he has accomplished.

Arthur Schrom, officiated as toastmaster, introduced the guest speaker, Richard Quinlivan of St. Cloud, treasurer of the Minnesota Junior Chamber, and agriculture chairman of the national organization.

Quinlivan discussed the benefits accruing to a community from projects sponsored by the Jaycees, and said that a membership in the group is one of the best investments a young man can make. Affiliation with the Jaycees, he stated, gives a man many valuable contacts and makes for personal growth.

Minneapolis Man to Face Charges in Woman's Death

Axilrod, who denied being father of the child, admitted to police he went for a ride with Mrs. Moonen about 9 p. m. Friday night. He blacked out during a fit of anger at her repeated accusations, he told police, and when he regained his senses, Mrs. Moonen was not in his car.

The time of Mrs. Noonen's death was set at about midnight Friday.

During police investigation of the case, it was learned that Mrs. Moonen had gone to another doctor for examination and had told him she had been assaulted by Axilrod while she was under influence of sedatives.

Sunday, Mrs. Donald Newton, sister of the dead woman, said she also had visited the dentist.

She told Eugene Barnath, detective captain, that Axilrod had kept her in a semi-conscious state nearly seven hours.

Detective Inspector Charles Wetherille yesterday said two more women have described their experiences in Axilrod's office.

One of the women told Wetherille that Axilrod told her he would have to use sedatives while he worked on her teeth. When she agreed, she told Wetherille, he asked her to come back for an evening appointment.

She declined and did not return to his office, she said.

Wetherille did not divulge what the other woman told him except to say it "was the same kind of a thing."

The latest reports brought to eight the number of women who have told of unusual occurrences at the dentist's office.

Burial services for Mrs. Moonen, who lived at 9 E. Seventeenth street, will be held at Red Lake Falls, when her husband arrives. Church services were held Tuesday in Plummer.

Lincoln High PTA Ends Season with Meeting Tuesday

Supt. W. G. Claffy Will Discuss Pressing Need for Bigger School Plant

W. G. Claffy, superintendent of schools, and Ted Hellie of the Lincoln faculty will speak at the final session of the 1954-1955 season of the Lincoln high school PTA, Tuesday evening, May 3, according to the Rev. W. P. Clausen, president.

Mr. Claffy will present the pressing need for more school facilities for Thief River Falls while Mr. Hellie will tell of the shortage of teachers to serve the increasing school population of this area.

Mr. Clausen said that many people seem to think that just because they see rather imposing school buildings that ample space is provided for all needs, this same reasoning being applied to the teaching question. He says that people generally are unconscious of the fact that the increasing production of babies is making for more children who need to be taught the fundamentals of learning.

Mrs. Frank Clinton, chairman of the nominating committee, will present the slate of candidates from which next year's officers will be chosen, and Mrs. Justus Larson will be in charge of refreshments.

Youth Committed on Perjury Count

Gary Carlson of this city plead-ed guilty in district court Monday to a charge of perjury in connection with the recent trial of Ronald T. Erickson in Red Lake Falls. Carlson was ordered committed to the youth conservation commission at St. Cloud, and was taken to that city Tuesday.

Tractor Accidents

I would like to start my column this week with a sober thought that comes to us from Glenn Prickett. Mr. Prickett is the University's farm safety specialist, and Glenn reminds us we're running right into the danger period for tractor accidents. Three causes of death and injury are speed, which results in loss of control and tipping; children playing around or being allowed to ride on the tractor, and children being allowed to drive the tractor when they're two young to handle it. Did you know that polio took fewer lives than tractor accidents last year? Here are the figures: 640 polio cases, 15 deaths; 1,800 tractor accidents, 36 deaths. 15 of the tractor accident deaths were of children under 14 years of age. 6 deaths were of children under 4. Yes, under 4.

Urge Early Tree Planting

If you are planting trees this spring, do the job as early as field condition and baby tree stocks permit. That is the suggestion of Parker Anderson and Marvin Smith, University of Minnesota extension foresters.

They say if dryer weather is in prospect, planting survival may be greatly reduced unless you do a good, early planting job. Plant early enough to get the benefit of moisture from melting snow and spring rains.

Growing health of trees is improved by careful handling before planting, planting right after receiving the trees is wise. But, if you're delayed in planting a day or two, "heal in" the trees.

"Healing in" means taking the trees from the bundle and putting them in a V-shaped ground trench and covering the roots with soil. Pick a cool, shady spot and moisten the soil thoroughly.

When you take the trees out of the trench for planting, carry them in a pail of muddy water to keep the roots from drying out. Plant trees at their original depths. Find this by noting the "dirt ring" on the tree. Pack the dirt firmly around the trees to keep the air out.

Timely cultivation is often the key to survival of young trees hit by late spring or summer drought. Shallow cultivation done often enough to keep the weeds from getting a good start will conserve moisture.

If youare planting trees this year I urge you to pay strict attention to good rules of tree planting. Any farmer in Pennington County who is planting a large number of trees is welcome to use the tree planting machine which is available to them. The two banks in Pennington County, the Northern State Bank and the Union State Bank have purchased a tree planter for use in Pennington County. If you would like to use this tree planting machine contact either the Soil Conservation Service or the County Agents here in Thief River Falls.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olson

This week I would like to talk to 4-H girls enrolled in the clothing project. Clothing is our biggest project in the 4-H program and here in Pennington county we have about 140 girls in the clothing project. Most of them will be getting busy with their work now that spring is here.

I would like to pass on suggestions from Athelene Scheid to help clothing members. Miss Scheid is extension clothing specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Since the pattern determines the kind of fabric to use, select it first. Choose a style that will fit your type of figure. The average figure can wear a large variety of styles, but since no two figures are just alike, a pattern is selected to make the most of each girl's best features.

Tall and slender girls will want to cut height with lines that broaden. Dresses with square shoulders and fullness in the skirt are good. Large collars, cuffs and pockets will also help to cut height.

To give a slender look, heavier girls may choose patterns with simple vertical lines that fit smoothly. Frills should be kept to a minimum.

Girls with small figures should select patterns that accent the waistline and have small details.

The pattern should be as near your size measurement as possible. Make sure the pattern is in the correct classification — girl's, teen-age, junior, or misses; then fewer pattern changes will have to be made. You will need to take into consideration these measurements when deciding which type pattern to buy; bust, waist and hip (seven inches below the waistline). If your body measurements do not fit any size exactly, choose a pattern with same bust measurement as yours. Waistline and hipline adjustments are easier to make than bustline adjustments.

At the Achievement Day Program next week, Mrs. Myra Zabel, extension home furnishings specialist, will give an illustrated talk. Her subject will be "Colors and Designs for Your Home." If you are interested in home decorating, you will find the talk very helpful. I'm sure that you will gain much from the rest of the program and meeting with your neighbors too! Why not join us? You'll find more news about Achievement Day elsewhere in the paper.

Here are garden tips from Orrin C. Turnquist, extension horticulturist. He recommends that to use your space more efficiently, try planting your vine crops like cucumbers, squash and melons between rows of some early crops like peas. Allow 2 feet on each side between the adjacent early crops. When the early crops are harvested, the space can be occupied by the vine crops. He adds that you shouldn't set out your tomato plants this month. The air and soil temperatures are still too cool for growth of the tender crops like tomatoes, peppers and egg plant. If you need information on vegetables, varieties and in getting your garden started, we have bulletins at the county extension office on these phases of gardening. Come in for your copy.

PUBLIC OPINION

Mr. W. E. Dahlquist,
Thief River Falls Times
Dear Sir,

Your editorial, 'One Year Closer to Recovery,' makes me feel that, if those are truly your opinions, it is very fortunate for our people that you lost out in the last election.

The lower prices for dairy products, as you stated, have "reduced income for producers and lowered costs for consumers." And this, you feel, is "recovery"? How much, actually, is the saving to the consumer in a year's time? The lowered purchasing power of the producer is being felt more and more by the business men and will, in turn, be reflected on the shortage of jobs available to these same consumers.

You state that, "the dairy industry, has been the most dependable payroll in this region." That is quite true. Then you state that "we are moving in the direction of fewer but larger herds, etc." These smaller herds, which are being squeezed out, are generally owned by those in most need of this "dependable income." Many of these turn to other ways of making a living, resulting in more unemployment in towns and cities, with increased requests for relief. And you call this being "closer to Recovery"? What, in your opinion, would be full recovery?

Considering the fact that newspapers and magazines are being heavily subsidized by the government, it seems you would be the last to criticize a fair price for the farmer.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Adolph Erickson
Grygla, Minnesota

Company F Responds Promptly to "Alert"

The great value of the National Guard to community, state and nation was strikingly demonstrated last Wednesday evening during "Operation Minuteman", the Guard's nationwide test alert.

Company F of the National Guard in Thief River Falls proved during the alert that it was ready, at a few minutes notice, to help defend this area or to extend invaluable assistance in case of fire, tornado, flood or other disaster.

The excellence of their Guard training was shown in the efficient manner in which they assembled under arms, and were ready to operate their equipment and move out in a remarkably short space of time.

Much like volunteer firemen, they were called from their normal civilian pursuits to carry out their part of "Operation Minuteman".

Three-quarters of the personnel of Company F responded to the alert within an hour and one-half, and all had reported for duty in two hours. The men were issued weapons and individual equipment, followed by preparations for loading and transportation of equipment. The company then conducted a drill session, and was dismissed at 10 p. m.

It was strictly a test operation to see how quickly the nation's 400,000 guardsmen could respond to a call to arms in a real emergency.

Dr. Gambell recalled having taught school in this city from 1880 to 1894, when, having saved $300, he made a tour of Europe. He later received his medical degree, and became superintendent of a government ranger station in Alaska, practicing his profession there until returning to Thief River Falls to resume his practice.

Knox 6th Grade Returns 100 Pct. of Dental Cards

Mrs. Walter Netteberg's sixth grade at Knox is the first room in years to get 100% dental card return. To celebrate the occasion the children will be given a party as a reward for obtaining 100% and reaching a long-awaited goal.

Every child should go to the dentist twice a year, but many children do not go even once a year, said Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

Each year since Mrs. Race has been school nurse the percent of dental card return has increased. In 1951 only 30% of the children saw their dentist while last year 90% visited the dentist.

All parents are urged to check right now to see if their child has seen the dentist this year. If not, please do so, and return the pink dental cards to the school, said Mrs. Race.

"Know Your Bank" Week to Be Noted Here May 1 to 7th

Two Banks Cooperating in Arrangements for Statewide Observance

Banking is one of Minnesota's major industries with more than 12,000 persons employed in the nearly 700 banks of the state, and during the week of May 1 through 7, bankers throughout Minnesota will be showing their industry to the public in the first "Know Your Bank" week. Participating will be the Union State and Northern State banks of Thief River Falls.

Governor Orville Freeman, in proclaiming the week of May 1 through 7 as "Know Your Bank" week called on citizens to visit banking institutions to learn firsthand the functions of banking in the community's economy.

"The bank is an active force in the operation and development of the community, state and nation," says the Minnesota Bankers association. "Money that is deposited with banks must be put to work to promote and sustain our great free enterprise system in America. Savings are insured, protected, interest is accumulated, loans are made, businesses are built, bills are paid and countless other services are provided by banks to put the money to work for its customers.

"Today, banks are owned and controlled by the people. Very few are the property of any one individual. The ownership of banks is comprised of many stockholders, each a partner in the bank.

"Farmers, businessmen, individuals have worked together with the banker to build America into one of the greatest nation's in the world—a healthy sound economy that is built on traditions of American banking and financial management."

Senator Roy Wiseth has been secured as speaker of the evening. After the meeting lunch will be served. Entertainment and door prizes are being planned by the committee. The Silverleaf Local was organized in March of this year and combines the townships of Silverton and Cloverleaf in its membership. Officers are A. Oakl, Goodridge, president; Dolph Fallet, vice president; and Bernard Myers, secretary-treasurer.

Calling all trap shooters. The City Trap Shoot league, which has been increased to eight teams, will open its 1955 season on Thursday night when, on the layout north of town, the boys hold their first shoot.

According to the firing-line comment, Stan Wilson's league champion Wilson Bros. squad will be the team to beat; and that's just what the other seven teams plan on doing. Last year, you will recall, the Wilson's out-pointed the Baumann-Oen team by one point, 14 to 13, to win the championship.

In a warm-up shoot last Sunday morning, Ole Ekeren, using his re-conditioned Browning over-and-under, broke twenty-five straight. It's to be understood, though, that Ole doesn't want that "twenty-five" included in his handicap basis.

The eight teams that will participate in this year's league shooting will be the Wilson Bros., Oen's Appliance, Amundgaard-Lunke, The Pharmacy, Johnson Bros., Northern Chevrolet, the Times, and Plummer.

Shaping up into a Duel

Did you notice the high and low hurdle event finishes at the Sioux Relays last week? In the 120-yard high hurdles, the Prowlers' Dave Kollitz was second to Grand Forks' spectacular Cliff Cushman, and Bemidji's Jack Whiting was in third place. In the 180-yard low hurdles event, Whiting finished in third place and Kollitz was in fourth place.

It begins to appear that the two, the Prowlers' Dave Kollitz and the Lumberjacks' Jack Whiting, are the region's best hurdlers, and they should put on a quite a duel when they meet in the Beaver Relays next week, and in the regional in a couple of weeks.

All Over but the Party

The men's city bowling leagues completed their 1954-55 schedule last week, and now the boys are waiting for the trophy banquet which will be held at the Eagles club on Tuesday night, May 3rd.

The team members in the four leagues that will receive championship trophies are the Ace Hardware in the Service League, the Northern Chevrolet squad in the Business League, the Knights in the Commercial League, and the Soo Mainliners in the City League.

On an individual bowling average basis, the city's keglers held their averages up pretty well this season. City John Jarmoert, bowling with the Elks Club team, won the high-pin title in the Service League with a 173 average in 100 games. Wally Duchamp continued to monopolize the high average honors in the Business League, having a 188-pin average in 78 games.

Art Wyeosal, member of the Northern Woodwork team, rolled a 177 average in 66 games in the Thursday night Commercial League bowling. Berdeen Nornes carried a 183-pin average in the Commercial, but Buttercup bowled in only 13 games; and John Snort Langseth of the Creamery, had a 178-pin average, but Snort was only in 30 games. In the Friday night City League bowling, lefty Phil LaCaull, a member of the third place Soo Branchliners, was the high average bowler with a 178-pin mark in 83 games.

Trout

Come Friday night or early Saturday morning, various of the city's shifty-eyed and untruthful characters, heavily laden with hip boots, waders, creels, and high hopes, will be enroute to the opening of the brook-trout fishing season, which opens at 10:00 a. m. on Saturday morning.

The trout fishermen, who have been busily churning up gardens in search of angle worms, will move into the streams to the south. Nassett creek, south of Clearbrook; Sucker creek, south of Bagley; Clearwater river, in the vicinity of Pinewood; Bad Boy creek, east of Mahnomen; and Lengby creek will be filled with anxious early season anglers.

Don Johnson and Dr. Jim Dietz will open at Nassett; Al Berge, Martin and Milo Gulbrandson will probably be bound for Bad Boy; and Leo Fahlen, who will, we wager, bring in the most fish, will be fishing the Clearwater, or maybe a stretch of Lost river. By the way, Don, do you have a recipe in your tackle box on the best way to prepare angle worms? Do you broil, pan-fry, or saute?

Ole Ness, Lowell Collins, and Frenchy Cloutier made the trip to the North Shore last week to take in the "smelt run." And the boys, due largely to Ole's expert work with the seine, came back with a tubful of smelt.

Golf Divots

With the new golf "pro", L. A. Betcher, moving into town this week and establishing his summer residences here, activities at the local golf club should be quickening.

The "pro" will be formally introduced to the membership at the season's first stag night, which, according to present plans, will be held on Wednesday evening, May 4th. Stan Dahlen and Frank Tunberg are in charge of arrangements for the season-opening stag night, and with Stan and Frank handling the reins, the party will be a success.

Several of the local golfers participated in the "early Bird" shortstop tournament at Warren on Sunday, and they fared well, too. Bob Ulsaker won the championship flight honors, defeating Warren's Kenny Nelson in the finals; and Lloyd Bennes won the second flight title by beating Alvarado's Henry Sands in the finals.

170 Attend Region Firemen's Session Held at St. Hilaire

Motion Picture Film and Discussion Feature Annual Spring Meeting

Twenty-four communities were represented by the near-record total of 170 men at the spring meeting of the Northern Region Firemen's association at St. Hilaire last Wednesday, Roy Langevin, secretary of the group, announced.

Following dinner, Mayor W. A. Corbet of St. Hilaire extended a greeting to the association and Langevin responded.

A movie film, "Train We Must," was shown, and Clarence Cherry, deputy state fire marshal, spoke briefly on fire extinguishers and their placement. He also urged attendance at the fourth annual fire school.

Others who spoke on firefighters' problems included C. O. Johnson of Bemidji, Miles Jackson, former St. Hilaire fire chief; Glenn Fellman of Red Lake Falls, Chief Peterson of Bagley and Chief Arthur Peterson of Hallock. A question box closed the program.

The group accepted an invitation to hold its summer meeting in Bagley, and to hold its fall session in Plummer.

Attending the meeting from Thief River Falls, in addition to Chief Langevin, were Tom Fuller, Wendell Olson, Ole J. Ness, Don Olson, Einar Barstad, Paul Bedard and Ray Halvorson.

It was announced that thru the kindness of Stan Nelson, the club could again have their course on his land this coming season. It was decided to hold another field shoot in August.

New officers for the coming year include Logan Grant, president; Jack Melby, vice president and tournament chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Anderson, secretary and treasurer. Floyd Canfield was appointed membership chairman; Gunder Legvold target chairman; and Emil Burdick, course chairman.

Club members and juniors are urged to shoot on Wednesday evenings when instruction and special events will be scheduled. Any one interested in joining the club is invited to contact any of the officers.

$1,875,000 School Bond Issue Coming up at Crookston

Propose Construction of New Grade School and High School Addition

With one eye on an evergrowing school age population and the other on its present school plant, Crookston's board of education is presenting a $1,875,000 building program to residents of Independent-Consolidated School District No. 1 in Crookston.

They will be asked to vote on the program May 17; a majority vote will determine its fate.

In brief, this is what board members have in mind:

1. A new McKinley grade school in Jeromes addition (estimated cost, $350,000).

2. An addition to Central high school housing a new gymnasium, library, cafeteria, and expanded facilities for manual training and music instruction ($1,455,000).

3. Improvements to Central high school—raising the auditorium stage ($10,000), and complete re-wiring and re-lighting of the building $60,000.

The proposed program would be financed through a bond issue to be retired in 30 years. It would cost Crookston residents 10 mills, or nine per cent more, in the property tax levy, the board estimates. In the districts rural areas, the increase would be slightly more.

EGF Bridge Bill Goes to Governor

Permissive legislation for a new intercity bridge between Grand Forks and East Grand Forks was passed Tuesday by the Minnesota legislature.

Passage of the bill, which previously had been adopted by the house, cleared the way for signing of the measure by Governor Freeman.

If the legislation is signed as expected by the governor, the next step would be the selection of the site by the two cities in cooperation with the North Dakota and Minnesota state highway departments and the Bureau of Public Roads in Washington.

Two Groups to Aid Cripples Combine

Groups Merge Because They Have Similar Objectives

Two statewide charitable organizations, the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults and Crippled Child Relief, have voluntary united their programs of help to the handicapped because of a similarity in "names, aims and objectives."

Miss Edith McNaughton, president of the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and Mrs. Richard Seely, head of Crippled Child Relief, signed an agreement at the Citizens' Aid building in Minneapolis to "coordinate and combine" their program activities and fund raising.

The two organizations will maintain their present identities but will unite in one drive for funds at Easter time.

Crippled Child Relief will administer the direct service program of the two groups, providing the handicapped with special equipment like braces, wheelchairs, walkers and hospital beds. The women of this group also will serve as an auxiliary to the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The operation of six rehabilitation centers in the state, formerly the responsibility of the Easter Seal Society, will be considered joint projects in the future. So will Camp Courage, a new summer camp for crippled children.

Method of Buying Hunting Licenses in State Amended

Residents of Minnesota may now purchase hunting and fishing licenses anywhere in the state without going to special "out of county" agents, it was announced by the state conservation department.

The Minnesota statutes 1953, section 98.50, subdivision 1 was amended by the 1955 legislature and the bill signed into law by Governor Orville L. Freeman.

Under the old law, no resident of Minnesota could purchase a hunting or fishing license outside of the county in which he resided, unless he made the purchase from so called "out-of-county" agents appointed by the commissioner of conservation. The amendment eliminates necessity for such appointments. Out-of-county agents appointed by the commissioner prior to the passage of this amended law will continue to sell the licenses in their possession but shall not receive additional licenses for sale.

The county auditor or his appointed sub-agents may now sell licenses to any resident of the state regardless of his county residence, providing, of course, the resident submits documentary evidence positively identifying himself as a legal resident of the state.

Home Owners Told to Check Nursery Stock Hardiness

'U' Floriculturist Urges Importance of Purchasing Hardy Trees and Shrubs

Minnesota gardeners were cautioned today to be careful about signing contracts with out-of-state nurseries for shrubs and trees which may not be hardy in this area.

R. E. Widmer, floriculturist at the University of Minnesota, reported that complaints are coming from many gardeners in the state who find that they cannot be released from contracts they have signed with certain out-of-state nurseries. The contracts are for trees and shrubs which are represented as hardy, but many of which will actually not survive under Minnesota conditions. Salesmen for these companies usually solicit business in new housing developments.

Householders are sometimes told by the nurseries that state inspection certificates on the trees and shrubs indicate their hardiness. Actually, Widmer said, the state inspection certificate has no connection with hardiness but refers to the fact that plants are alive and free from disease and insects.

If you order from out-of-state nurseries, be sure to check with the University of Minnesota department of horticulture, the county agriculture agent or with local nurserymen on hardiness of plants, Widmer cautioned.

The University floriculturist suggested that the safest practice for householders in the market for nursery stock is to buy from local, established dealers with a good reputation, as these firms are interested in continued business from their customers.

LET THE USERS DECIDE

If the largest engine in our municipal power plant should fail, and the river should go dry at the same time, and this should happen during the hour of peak load in the dark months of November and December, we might be inconvenienced for a few minutes here in Thief River Falls. It might be necessary to cut down on the street lighting while supper was cooking in our homes.

To guard against such a remote possibility the city fathers insist on buying another engine—a very expensive way of meeting this problem in view of the fact that a more dependable standby power service is available to us simply by connecting up with the Minnkota Power Cooperative lines at our city limits. Such a connection will be needed to bring in the low, low cost Missouri River power which will be available to us in a comparatively short time and so this connection will not mean any additional cost. We think the people of the city who use the power and will have to pay the bills should be given an opportunity to decide whether they want this service the low cost or the high cost way.

IT WAS DECISIVE

When the votes were counted in Tuesday's special election there no longer was any question about how the folks in the rural area felt on the proposal to bond the county for fair grounds improvement. It couldn't have been a more one-sided expression of sentiment. And with people in the rural area so definitely opposed, it is well that the favorable vote in Thief River Falls was not sufficient to offset the rural opposition. We may still go forward with a program of fair grounds improvement but clearly it should not be in the way that was proposed in this election.

And there is much to be said in favor of the rural point of view on this question. No one will maintain that the proposed project is essential. It is the kind of improvement that can be delayed without disastrous consequences. Last year's crop in this area was disappointing and this year's farm income is down. Under the circumstances there is much justification for the let's-go-easy-on-the-spending attitude.

SUGAR A SWEET MARKET

The world sugar market has advanced sharply in the past month although it is still far below the level of the American market. Commenting on this situation Business Week observes:

> "All these price gyrations on the world market have scarcely had any effect on the U. S. sugar price. The domestic market is tightly sealed off from the world market by a system of quotas, controls and allocations all its own."

This is interesting mainly because it cites an example of farm price controls that actually works. It has worked over a period of many years to the advantage of both producers and consumers. It has "worked" because there have been effective production and marketing controls.

Controlling sugar prices has not been difficult because of the restricted nature of the market. Acreage is limited strictly to what the market will absorb. It is not so easy to do this with pork, beef, eggs, butter, turkeys and many other similar products. Until someone develops an effective organization that can control production and marketing in these fields, as the fruit growers, for instance, have in theirs, these crops probably will continue to be sold in a saw-tooth market that is a series of price peaks and depressions.

One thing is certain, there can be no fair, stabilized price level for any product over a period of time, unless there also is production and marketing control.

TOP GRADE WILL BE AA

Minnesota now has a butter grading law, to become effective in July, that will provide standards of quality that consumers can understand. Dairymen have known that 93 score butter has been top grade, but to the uninformed it would be reasonable to assume that 93 score was seven points less than perfect. Top grade under the new law will be AA and, best of all, the low grade product will be branded "Undergrade."

The Minnesota law follows the pattern of the Wisconsin act adopted last year. It is inadequate in that it applies only to butter offered for sale in Minnesota. This means that our low quality product will find a market in other states and in other states it will still be sold in competition with good butter. But it is a step in the right direction nevertheless. Minnesota and Wisconsin alone cannot control the national market. But other states will fall in line and it may be expected that federal regulations soon will take care of the interstate traffic.

For the quality producer who, for too many years has received practically no financial reward for his special effort in producing a better product, it is a long step forward.

NO LONGER A MONOPOLY

The President's Cabinet Committee on Transportation has recommended that our railroads be given greater freedom in rate making. The committee report points up the fact that even as late as 1920 the railroads "held a virtual monopoly of intercity transportation with the exception of areas served by water." Rigid rate regulation had been imposed by the government as a means of protecting the public.

But, the report continues, "In striking contrast, there is available today a wide selection of transport methods for the movement of goods and people from one place to another with economy, expedition and safety." Because these new services have put an end to a monopoly in the field of transportation that at one time required strict regulation, the committee thinks we should now remove many of the old restrictions and permit the railroads greater freedom in meeting competition.

Moving in that direction would clearly be in the public interest. We need transportation by water, by air and by highway, but we need rail transportation too. In the transportation pattern railroads are basic.

The right way to find out which method of transportation will best serve our particular needs would be to permit them to compete on even terms. Each type would then survive in the field for which it proved itself best suited. But in such a fight for survival it would not be fair to insist that one of the contestants would have to have his hands tied behind his back.

The Legislature

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

Minnesota's 59th legislative session is out and over but for some time to come the record will provide interesting subjects for discussion. An understanding of just what was done during those last long days of the session will come gradually.

It appears now that the record was considerably better than was hoped for, due largely perhaps to the fact that the prospect was not bright in the beginning. Much good legislation has been passed and there always is consolation in the thought that rejected proposals that may have deserved favorable action can be considered again in future sessions.

The legislature and the governor got along better than many expected. There were fears that he would be arbitrary and explosive. As the session progressed however the expected explosions did not occur. The governor's door has always been open. He has given the impression that he was willing to go along with any reasonable adjustment of differences. Nice things have been said about him by members of the opposition group, and that is a noteworthy thing in our state of Minnesota.

In fairness to Freeman, he did inherit a difficult financial problem. He didn't have to take over the spending program of his predecessors of course, but he was elected as a liberal and could hardly be expected to be more conservative than the so-called conservatives he succeeded. Fortunately, the legislature could, and did, apply the brakes to some extent.

The close balance of power in the House added considerably to the difficulties of the session. Because of the one vote margin of control the division on too many questions was strictly along party lines rather than on the merits of the issue.

The House majority had no experience in majority responsibility and the minority didn't know how to act as a minority. An observation by house member Seth Phillips of Cass expressed the opinion of many. To an inquiry, at the end of a long night session, as to what business had been transacted in the House that evening, he said, "We have been listening all night to a spirited debate in the case of Ignorance versus Stupidity."

As usual in the closing days of the session there was the jam of business that revived the old complaint about the sessions being too short. There is much to be said in favor of a suggestion on this problem made by John Cowles Jr. of the Minneapolis Star. He thinks it is timing rather than time that has caused the difficulty, and proposes an interval of a few weeks between the governor's inauguration and the opening of the session.

This would give a first-term governor a chance to catch his breath and find out how to get in and out of his own office before forced to square off in a battle for a legislative program. It is a good idea.

The 1955 legislature will not be referred to in years to come as the session that did not make a mistake. The record will reveal many errors. It probably will be recognized however as a session that was confronted with unusually difficult problems but came through with a fair record of accomplishment.

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving and Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, Thursday ONLY, May 5, 1955. These private demonstrations will be held at the Pennington Hotel on Thursday ONLY, May 5, 2 p. m. till 9 p. m.

CHICAGO (Special)—In an interview here today Mr. E. V. Safranski, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Millard Hair and Scalp Specialists said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cureall could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Millard firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Safranski said.

Once a person avails himself to the Millard treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Millard specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Millard people can perform wonders.

Every one is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Millard firm in Chicago, and a trichologist will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Millard firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure all for slick, shiny baldness," Safranski emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Safranski wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Safranski said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you call Trichologist W. L. Organ at the Pennington Hotel in Thief River Falls, Minnesota on Thursday ONLY, May 5, 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Thief River Falls Is Among the Winners in 1954 Safety Contest

Governor Orville L. Freeman will formally honor 27 safety contest winners, including nine cities and counties, at the annual Minnesota Safety Council award presentation dinner at Hotel Saint Paul, St. Paul, May 18.

At this same gathering, Governor Freeman will also officially "kick-off" Minnesota's "Slow Down and Live" campaign which will be conducted from May 27 through September 5. He will point out that this traffic safety program will be aimed at the five accident causes associated with the "me-first" and "in-a-hurry" attitude resulting in more than 50% of all traffic accidents on the state's streets and highways.

For the seventh consecutive year, Minneapolis will receive an award for being the top city in its group, while Thief River Falls ranks first among cities in the 5,000 to 10,000 population group. Among the counties, Ramsey county will head the honors list for the fifth consecutive time.

The award winners in the various traffic safety contests are:

Cities

Group A, which includes cities having 100,000 or more population, won by Minneapolis for the seventh consecutive year and awarded a plaque.

Group B, comprising cities from 10,000 to 100,000 population, won by Austin, which will be presented with a plaque, with Fergus Falls being voted an Award of Merit certificate for its accomplishments.

Group C, which includes cities of 5,000 to 10,000 population, awarded to Thief River Falls.

Group D, for cities of 2,000 to 5,000 population, won by Two Harbors for the fourth year in a row.

Counties

Group AA, for counties of 50,000 or more population, again won by Ramsey county for the fifth consecutive year and awarded a plaque.

Group AB, which includes counties having 25,000 to 50,000 population, was deemed to have no county entitled to receive a plaque, but Olmsted county was given an Award of Merit certificate.

Group AD, comprising counties having from 15,000 to 20,000 population, awarded to Cottonwood county, for which it will receive a plaque.

Group AE, which includes 22 counties in the 10,000 to 15,000 population class, won by Rock county, entitling it to receive a plaque for its safety activities.

No county in the other two groups, AC and AF, were considered by the award committee as having conducted safety programs which merited awarding of plaques or certificates.

Job Agent Named in Goodridge Area

Postmaster C. Peterson Is Appointed by Starkey

Clarence E. Peterson, Goodridge postmaster, has been appointed employment representative of the Minnesota state employment service in the Goodridge community. In this capacity, he will be a key figure in that community for the recruitment of farm help and other workers in demand.

Peterson is one of approximately 400 employment representatives in the state who have been appointed to build up a closely knit network of contacts so that farmers and other employers in all parts of the state's agricultural area will have a handy place where they can go to get help.

Peterson was appointed by Frank T. Starkey, commissioner of the department of employment security on recommendation of R. S. Eldevik, manager of the office in Thief River Falls, under whose jurisdiction he will perform his duties.

Employers in Goodridge and vicinity who would like assistance in locating farm and other workers should contact Peterson. Skilled and unskilled workers, as well as farm workers, who are looking for local or out-of-area work are invited to check job opportunities with him. Current information for this area and for other areas in Minnesota and the Dakotas will be forwarded regularly to Peterson by the Thief River Falls office.

Poppler's Joins Furniture Syndicate

During 1954 Poppler's joined an association of upper midwest furniture dealers, and is now a member of the Northwest Buyers Syndicate.

These are independently owned stores who joined together to be able to buy in huge quantities. By so doing, great savings are made on quantity discounts and on freight.

By buying in quantity, Poppler's is able to pass these savings on to you. Values on these two pages are typical of the outstanding low prices of Poppler's.

Stores in the Northwest Buyers Syndicate are located in several cities in North Dakota, Montana and Minnesota. Poppler's is the only Minnesota store represented.

Ass't. Manager

JIM LARSON

Now associated with Poppler's is Jim Larson, who joined the store during 1954. Jim is assistant to Stan, and was a former student at the University of North Dakota. He has had several years experience in the furniture field.

Store Plans Improvements

When Stan Larson makes his final store payment, he has plans for several improvements.

Included in these plans are an increase in the length of the store — perhaps extending it in the present parking area in the back of the store to the alley.

Another anticipated change is the modernization of the store front and a complete redecoration of the store interior. In addition, changes will be made within the departments so that customers will find added convenience while selecting their purchases.

Several other anticipated improvements are planned by Stan Larson in the months ahead.

STORE MARKS RAPID GROWTH

Several major changes have been made in the Poppler's Store since Stan Larson purchased it in October of 1953. One of the first steps was to acquire new lines of merchandise that had not been previously offered in the Thief River Falls area. Several nationally famous lines of furniture and floor coverings have been secured by Poppler's during the past 18 months, while several other lines will be secured in the future. Another important step was the close relationship established between the Bill Larson Co. of Grand Forks and the Northwest Buyers Syndicate. The Bill Larson Co. of Grand Forks is one of the outstanding furniture firms of the Red River Valley and is operated by Bill Larson, a brother of Stan. By associating with the Bill Larson Company and the Northwest Buyers Syndicate, Poppler's have been able to purchase carload and truckload lots from manufacturers, gaining a major freight saving and quantity discounts. Several physical changes have been made within the store itself with the creation of new departments, complete re-tiling of the floor, a new messanine office area, and a new warehouse, which also offers a retail selling space.

These accomplishments have been made during the past 18 months and upon final ownership of his store, Stan Larson expects to offer even greater services to his customers.

Full Ownership Ambition Nears Reality

Just about a year and a half ago Stan Larson took a major step when he purchased the Poppler's Store of Thief River Falls.

The date was Wednesday, October 21, 1953, and during the 18 months since this purchase, Stan Larson has achieved marked success in his new business.

At the present time Stan is on the threshold of acquiring full title to this store, and has a goal of making the final payment by May 15 of this year.

Payment Due

In order to do this, a final payment of $12,500 must be made. The goal of the store is to accomplish this. So, Poppler's of Thief River Falls is launching a store-wide $12,500 cash-raising sale in an effort to liquidate a portion of the stock into cash to make this final payment.

"Just $12,500 more and the store is mine," says Stan. "And it's my hope that when May 15 of this year rolls around I'll be able to make the final payment and have complete ownership."

Larson started with the Poppler's organization in 1930, where he was associated with the original Popplers Store in Grand Forks, North Dakota. On April 1, 1940, he moved to Thief River Falls where he became manager of the Poppler's Piano and Furniture Store.

Many Changes

During the past 18 months, Poppler's has witnessed many changes and improvements. A new warehouse has been acquired, new lines of merchandise have been introduced, and association has been established with the Northwest Buying Syndicate. Interior changes include new tile on the floor, new modernized departments.

"I really appreciate the marvelous support you have given me since I purchased Poppler's" says Stan. "And I guarantee you some terrific bargains during the $12,500 cash-raising sale! It's my way of showing our appreciation in a tangible way."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Red Finds a "Sweet Solution"

Red Jackson found a slick way to get his cows to eat what's good for them. Seems they were passing up the tall green grass—full of minerals and vitamins—and eating the short grass, which is naturally sweeter.

Red solved the problem by spraying a solution of corn syrup over the grass that was going begging. The cows sure went at it. Red says it's lucky for him—and the cows—that every one of them has a "sweet tooth."

Next week, according to Red, he's going to have his cows clean up all the weedy grass along his fences—after he sprays them with more corn syrup, of course.

From where I sit, some folks, like Red, are always trying out new tricks—and others stick with the old tried and true methods. Just a question of preference, I guess. Like the way you may enjoy coffee with meals, while I prefer a cold glass of beer. So let's not allow any bad feelings to "crop up" by thinking ours is the only choice.

Joe Marsh

HOTTEST-SELLING BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.
$2376.88 delivered locally!

COME ON IN—the price is fine!

Unless we miss our guess, a lot of surprised people are going to do some new back-of-an-envelope arithmetic when they see the Buick price shown here.

Because we know that many folks still don't realize how little a Buick really costs—that the dollar difference between this big Buick Special and the leading smaller cars has virtually disappeared.

Buick Sales Are Soaring As Never Before

But more and more of them are finding it out. And that's a major reason why Buick production and Buick sales are soaring to all-time highs today—and why Buick again is outselling all other cars, regardless of price range, except two of the well-known smaller cars.

Big reason, too, for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of automobiles, giving you a choice in any price class—the rock-bottom-priced Special, the high-powered Century, the supremely spacious Super, and the custom-built Roadmaster.

But above all, more and more people are discovering that the price you pay for a Buick buys more sheer automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

More advanced styling, more deep-down comfort, more pure power thrill, more ride steadiness and handling ease and solidity of structure.

More spectacular performance, too, from the modest extra cost of Buick's automatic transmission.

For here you get Variable Pitch Dynaflow†—the new wonder drive born of modern aeronautics to give you instant full-power getaway and acceleration when needed—and far better gas mileage when cruising.

Why not come see us this week, for sure? We'll be happy to have you test-pilot a new Buick, just for the sheer thrill of it—and show you quite clearly that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

†Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Cattle Feeders Day at N. W. School May 6

Friday, May 6, has been set as Cattle Feeders' Day at the Northwest School and Experiment of surplus and home-produced feeds in the fattening of beef cattle, according to Superintendent T. M. McCall, has been a feature of the beef cattle experiments at Northwest School now for a number of years. The feeding trials using cull potatoes, which were concluded last year, demonstrated that cull potatoes could be profitably fed to fattening cattle.

Feeding trials this year have been conducted with another Red River Valley feed--molasses beet pulp. Molasses beet pulp has been fed to beef cattle at the station during this past year work is a continuation of the feeding trial with pulp which was started in 1952-53. In the trials this year, twenty-four steers divided into four groups of six steers each have been fed the different rations with varying amounts of molasses beet pulp supplemented by alfalfa hay, corn silage, and concentrates.

The Cattle Feeders' Day program will be held at the animal products building at the Northwest School at 2:00 P. M. Speakers representing the department of animal husbandry, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul; American Crystal Sugar Company, Crookston; and livestock marketing agencies of St. Paul and Fargo will apppear on the program. Subjects to be discussed include the use of Stilbestrol in cattle feeding, the value of sugar beet pulp as livestock feed, and the market outlook for the purchase and salee of beef cattle.

H. D. Fausch, head of the animal and dairy husbandry department at Northwest School, will conduct the tour of the feeding pens and give the results of the 1954-55 feeding trials.

Polk County Supt. of Schools Quits

H. E. Sorvig Resigns Post Because of Ill Health

Henry E. Sorvig, Polk county superintendent of schools for the past 20 years, has resigned his post due to illness, according to the county board of commissioners.

The board has appointed his wife to fill his unexpired term of nearly four years, Alfon Hanson, board chairman, announced last Wednesday.

Sorvig has been in ill health the past few months, and is now reported by Mrs. Sorvig to be critically ill in a local hospital.

He was first elected superintendent in 1934, and had served as assistant superintendent prior to election. And before that he had taught school. His 20-year tenure of office is the longest of all Minnesota's county superintendents.

Mrs. Sorvig is a native of Crookston. She brings to the post a background of 22 years of teaching, both in city and rural schools. For the past three years she has been employed in the superintendent's office. The office is responsible for maintaining and supervising the county's 30 rural and village schools.

Announcement of the scholarships comes from A. J. Schwantes, head of the agricultural engineering department, located on the St. Paul campus.

Agricultural engineering is a recent addition to the offerings in the University's college of engineering. Due to increased developments in farm mechanization, there is a big demand for graduates with training in professional agricultural engineering. Graduates receive an engineering degree.

Graduating high school seniors interested in an agricultural engineering course and desiring scholarship information should write Prof. A. J. Schwantes, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

Head of State FU to Speak Apr. 28 at Highlanding Hall

Farm income in Minnesota is likely to take another severe drop this year, a state farm leader will warn in a talk Thursday, April 28.

Speaking at a farm meeting at the Highlanding Hall, Edwin Christianson, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, will explain that Pennington county farmers will likely lose some $900,000 in income this year because of price support cuts on butterfat, barley, wheat, oats, & flax. The meeting will begin at 8:30 p. m.

"The flexible support system is unworkable by its very nature and it will cut net farm income very sharply in 1955 and 1956 if it is allowed to stay in operation. Restoration of 90% supports is the first step which Congress should take this year to put the farm economy back on the right track," Mr. Christianson will say.

Itasca Co. Girl 13, Wins Spelling Bee

Linda Roubalik to Enter Contest in Washington

A thirteen-year-old girl from a 2-room school deep in the pine country of northern Minnesota will go to Washington May 16 to match her skill with the best spellers from thruout the nation.

She is Linda Roubalik, an eighth grade student at Wirt school in Itasca county, midway between Big Fork and Blackduck. She won the title of champion grade school speller of the Upper Midwest at the Minneapolis Tribune Spelling Bee, April 16.

Linda is looking forward to the five days she will spend sightseeing in Washington.

On May 19 she will vie with fifty-seven of the nation's crack spellers for the title of national spelling champion. The national winner will receive $500 in cash, plus a bonus award of $100 for a weekend trip to New York City.

To win the trip to the national spelling bee in Washington, Linda out-spelled 140 other county and city champions from Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and western Wisconsin—top spellers in regional competitions in which more than 100,000 boys and girls from more than 3,000 schools took part.

Scholarships to Be Given in Dairy Science at 'U' M.

Five freshman scholarships of $300 each will be awarded young men who enter the University of Minnesota next fall to study dairy industry—the field of dairy products processing and distribution. And the dairy industry has promised to provide more scholarships if deserving and qualified young men are found for them.

This announcement comes from W. B. Combs, professor of dairy industry at the University. Combs says that salaries of men trained in the field of dairy industry are high and are increasing. The reason: a shortage of technically trained dairy industry specialists.

Supporters of the dairy scholarship program include Land O'Lakes Creameries, Minneapolis; Nelson Ice Cream company, Fairmont; Campbell Dairy Products company, Northfield; Central Dairy Products company, Willmar; and the Minnesota Dairy Technology Society.

Applications for the scholarships now are being accepted from high school seniors and qualified undergraduate college students interested in the dairy industry course.

Students interested should write Prof. W. B. Combs, Dairy Department, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, for full information.

Nearly 14,000 persons were killed in weekend traffic accidents last year.

REV. DON FLADELAND

will conduct a series of meetings in the Rindal Church located 6 miles north and 3 miles west of T. R. Falls beginning on Sunday, May 1st, at 11:00 A. M. Sun. thru Thursday evening at 8:00 P. M. Everybody Welcome ...

Theme of the meetings will be "Redeeming the Time"

THE WONDERFUL SHIP

She'll sail with the best of them, because into her fashioning have gone the eager hands of a small boy and the gentle, experienced touch of an old man. Across bright blue water her miniature sails will billow clean and white, and into the eyes of these two will steal a new light of pleasure.

There has been guidance in the making of this boat, the loving guidance of one who has weathered life's storms and gained from them the comfort of experience. And the boy, sensing this experience, is happy in a childlike confidence that this ship ... this wonderful ship ... can never sink.

It may be that on some brave voyage the little boat will meet disaster, and this lad will learn that material possessions so seldom last. He is also learning to find faith in a ship that is unsinkable. That ship is the Church ... and it will carry him through calm seas and storms throughout the voyage of life. Every child should learn early to anchor his life to the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Don't Work Soil Too Early

"Jumping the gun" can have bad effects on your soil's "tilth" or workability according to Wallace W. Nelson, agronomist at the University's Northeast Experiment Station in Duluth. Working too-wet land breaks down desirable structure which gives soil its "mellowness". Result: a hard, puddled soil. Nelson explains that "puddling" lowers the supply of air to plant roots, cuts down the plant's ability to get nutrients and makes things far harder for seedlings. Naturally, puddling makes soil harder to work. All this adds up to lower yield, less profit. Nelson's suggestion: "This spring, when you think you can just get out and make it through, wait a couple of days. You'll have a better seedbed, better chances for higher yield and working your land will be easier and more enjoyable."

Weed and Erosion Control

Here's a new prescription for weed and erosion control. Grain drill soybeans in rows six to seven inches apart at two bushels an acre. Then, right away, grain drill one bushel of winter rye per acre. Or, mix rye and soybeans, drill them in together. How does it work? The rye soon produces leafy growth when sown after May 15, competes vigorously with weeds and protects soil from erosion. In July, when soybeans are going strong, the rye dries up from heat, diseases and soybean competition. By August 1, it has "quit." Thus far, cultivated rows 40 inches apart have yielded "just a tiny bit" more than soybeans sown with rye. We don't recommend it as a substitute for cultivated rows on level land—it isn't quite as good as cultivating. But it does appear to be the best method for growing beans on rolling land. This story comes to us from R. G. Robinson, a University of Minnesota agronomist who is conducting large scale experiments with the new method.

Conservation Gains Strength

More Minnesota farmers "installed" wise soil conservation practices on their land last year than in any year before. This encouraging report came recently from Herbert A. Flueck, state conservationist with the SCS. Flueck complimented that state's farmers on their concern and desire to "do something" about soil and water loss problems. Minnesota farmers in soil conservation districts alone set up 11,680 acres of contour farming, 10,508 acres of strip cropping, planted 2,115 acres of trees and 180 miles of windbreaks.

It would be interesting to know if any other Minnesota employer has as many pensioned employees as the Oliver Iron Mining Co. Probably the dean of their family is Hibbing's oldest resident, John Thomas, who at a rotund 95 plays an old pedal organ—without benefit of eye glasses; at 94 Mike Stark watches television in his Eveleth home—also without glasses. Longest Oliver record is credited to John Mitchell, also of Eveleth, 52 years which ended in 1946. Other Oliver "Iron Men" raise flowers, grapes, blueberries, take pictures, carve wood, play golf, fish, and travel.

Week's Events In Newfolden

By Edith M. Lindbeck, Newfolden

Pre-School Round-up At Newfolden School

A pre school roundup of the youngsters who will be starting in the first grade next fall was held in the cafeteria of the Newfolden school on Monday. This was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Newfolden with Mrs. Louis Farstad as chairman. Helpers were Mrs. Irv Tvedt, Mrs. Hjalmer Lofstrom, Mrs. Lowell Anderson, Mrs. Evonne Olson, Mrs. J. P. Halvorson and Mrs. Clarence Cook. Those who furnished refreshments were Mrs. Henning Olson, Mrs. Gordon Thompson, Mrs. Edor Anderson, Mrs. Howard Wergeland and Mrs. Joe Weber Jr.

Mary Vattendahl, R.N. spoke to the mothers and outlined what they were trying to do at these pre-school roundups. She stressed the fact that it was hard for a doctor to give a complete medical check-up to the children at a meeting like this, because of the lack of facilities, and suggested that each parent take her child to the family doctor for a complete checkup before school starts in the fall and a dental check was also suggested.

What was done at this meeting was to register the children, check and record their height and weight and check their eyesight. This was done by the helpers and after this was done, each mother talked to Nurse Vattendahl, and gave her a report on childhood diseases the children have had, and got answers to any questions they might care to ask her.

Also during the afternoon, the youngsters visited the room in which they will go to school and got acquainted with their teacher for the coming year, Miss Torkelson. They also got a chance to look in on Miss Masoner, who was having band practice at the time, and listen to the band practice.

A prize was given for the mother having the largest number of children going to school at this time, which was won by Mrs. Harvey Dyrud, with a total of seven in school at present. Gwendolyn Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Guy Johnson won a prize because her birthday was the nearest one to the date of the roundup.

Parents are asked to have their doctor and dentist sign and fill out the report and give it to Mrs. Farstad, who will attend to it from there and on. If by any chance, you don't get to have the report signed, you are asked to turn it in by the start of the school term next fall anyhow.

Lunch was served to mothers and children after the roundup by Mrs. Henning Olson and Mrs. Olger Green.

I am sure all the parents join me in thanking the auxiliary and those who helped on Monday, as well as Miss Vattendahl, for making the roundup possible.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BEING SAFE OR SORRY

To "play it safe" on the highway, ride with a female taxi driver under 18 who has less than six months driving experience, between 7 and 8 on a snowy and foggy Tuesday morning; if she is backing up and cutting in, without a tail light, chances are she will collide with some vehicle other than a motor car. Those are the persons, cars, and conditions, according to Travelers Insurance Company, accounting for fewest drivers involved in the least number of driving deaths. If you itch for an accident, try riding in a passenger car in good mechanical condition with an experienced male driver from 25 to 65 years old, between 7 and 8 p. m. on a clear dry Saturday, at excessive speed on a straight-away. Chances are good you'll hit another motor vehicle and someone will be killed.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

RIDING TO HOUNDS

Among those who came to Southern Minnesota in the 1870s was a group of interesting Englishmen. They settled in Martin county where their recreation was riding to hounds.

One of this group was Maurice Farrar who returned to England and wrote of his experiences of five years in Minnesota. In this colony a former journalist became noted as a bean grower and a former policeman took to hotel keeping. One of the newcomers had a pack of hounds. Some of the horses gave evidence of working on a plow or farm wagon in their off-jumping time. But such a matter was never talked about. Red coats were the style.

In 1878 the colony sent eight of their best bobtailed horses to the state fair. They demonstrated racing and jumping. They showed skill and daring.

An account of the fair of 1878 showed that Minnesota had two very distinguished visitors in that year. One was President Hayes. The other was the famous trotter, Rarus, who did his mile in two minutes, 13¼ seconds. In spite of these attractions the Britishers from Fairmont, with red coats, boots and horses received a great deal of attention from the stands.

HARDSHIP AND HELP

The pioneers of Minnesota had many, many troubles but they also had a friend in the government of the state.

In 1871 there were great prairie and forest fires in Minnesota. They followed on the destruction by great hail storms. Many died in the flames of their early homes.

The Minnesota legislature was generous for its day and resources. Twenty thousand dollars was given for grain seed to help restore the stoned and burned fields.

The winter of 1872-3 was probably the worst in the history of Minnesota. On January 7, 8 and 9, the state endured what was then called an "arctic cyclone." Seventy lives were lost and 31 lost arms or legs. The legislature voted five thousand dollars to help the victims of the great blizzard.

In 1873 the grasshopper years began. In 1874 the legislature voted five thousand dollars for general relief and 25 thousand for seed grain.

The next year, the grasshoppers ate nearly everything in sight and the legislative session of 1875 voted 20,000 for general relief and 75,000 for seed. Those of the state who had anything left also contributed.

The grasshopper scourge lasted through 1877. Again funds were voted for relief and seed. A hundred thousand dollars was voted as a bounty to hopper killers and egg destroyers. None of this money was ever expended.

In 1778 the legislature voted $150,000 for seed grains. This was made in the form of loans to six thousand farmers in 24 counties to plant 223,727 acres of land. Most of this money was repaid.

GREAT DISCOVERY

Henry R. Schoolcraft is credited with the discovery of the source of the Mississippi in 1832. It is conceded that many of the early day probably knew of the source of the Father of Waters. The early fur trader knew that once in they could not find another way out of the lake later known as Itasca.

In 1804 one William Morrison came to the real source of the big river. But he did not give the world an account of his expedition and discovery until 1856. Schoolcraft set out to find the source, he was well equipped with helpers and witnesses and he gave the world an account of his achievement as soon as it could be written and printed. Historians agree that he deserves the credit for his find.

Schoolcraft was accompanied on this expedition by three interesting men. One was Douglas Houghton, who was of outstanding scientific ability. Five years after the Mississippi discovery, Houghton was appointed geologist of the State of Michigan. He was the first to point out the possibilities of the Michigan copper and iron country. He drowned in a tragic night on Lake Superior in 1845.

Lt. James Allen, USA, wrote an interesting account of the country. Rev. W.T. Boutwell later became a missionary at Leech lake. There was a godly number of packers and canoe men and the guide of the party was the Chippewa Chieftain, Ozawindib.

The headwaters lake was named Itasca. There are at least three conflicting accounts of the meaning of this word, two of them advanced by Schoolcraft in his own writings.

FISHING RUNS INTO BIG FIGURES

Number of persons, resident and non-resident, fishing in Minnesota waters is now perhaps pretty close to a million and a half annually; the actual count in 1953 was 1,372,842, which is almost exactly one-and-a-half fishermen for each of our 2,029,000 acres of fishing lakes. Besides which Minnesota has several hundred miles of fishing streams. This, according to wildlife experts, is a lot of "fishing pressure". To help meet which federal aid has come in to a total of $690,000, under the Dingell-Johnson program of research, conservation, and restocking. Funds are raised by a 10% excise tax on fishing gear.

Dentist Indicted in Mary Moonen Death and Pleads Innocent

Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod, Minneapolis dentist who has been in custody since the discovery of the body of Mrs. Mary Moonen, formerly of Thief River Falls, in a Minneapolis alley April 23, was indicted by a grand jury Monday for first degree murder.

Axilrod, who has admitted having been in Mrs. Moonen's company the night before her body was found, pleaded innocent to the murder charge Tuesday in district court in Minneapolis.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Moonen were conducted last Friday morning from St. Vincent de Paul Catholic church at Plummer following the return of her husband, Pfc. Mathias Moonen, from Korea.

The Rev. Vincent Zarzecki, pastor of the church, officiated at the rites, and interment was in the Catholic cemetery at Plummer. Serving as pallbearers were Ted Jaeger, Ronald Gerardy, Cornelius Van Lith, Arthur Schifert, Ray Culkins and Norbert Van Lith.

Mrs. Moonen was born in Forest River, N. D., and while still a young girl she came to Thief River Falls with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fred Erickson. She attended St. Bernard's school and was graduated from Lincoln high school in 1952, following which she worked in the ice cream department of Land O'Lakes Creameries. Her mother died in 1949.

Mrs. Moonen met her future husband during high school days, and they were married July 25, 1953, in St. Bernard's church. After her marriage, she lived with her husband's parents on their farm near Plummer, until going to Minneapolis last December.

County Board Has Busy May Session

School District Matters Occupy Board's Attention

In a busy May session, Tuesday, the Pennington county board disposed of a variety of business. A group of 15 residents in School District 180 were present for an adjourned hearing, and revealed divided opinion as to whether to join up with the St. Hilaire district 102, or the Thief River Falls district 18. They were advised to wait until plans for school district organization have been further developed.

After a hearing, the board approved a petition for dissolution of School District 44 in the east end of the county, and its attachment to the Goodridge school district, No. 8.

Andy Anderson, auctioneer, submitted a bid of $500 for the county-owned lot across the alley from Wilson Bros. garage on First st. The board deferred action until its June session.

Joseph Seidel was renamed as county engineer for a four year term.

Council Buys F-M Unit for Power Plant

Fairbanks-Morse Engine of 1,900 Brake H. P. Is Purchased for $132,841

The city council at a special meeting Tuesday evening voted to buy a Fairbanks-Morse two-cycle Diesel engine with a brake horsepower rating of 1,900 for the municipal power plant on the company's base bid of $132,841.

The unit purchased is a twelve-cylinder engine similar to the one bought from the same company in 1951, and which Morris Owen, chief engineer, stated has given excellent service.

Three other companies submitted higher bids covering four-cycle slow-speed units. The firms and their base bids include the Worthington Corp., $153,525; Cooper-Bessemer Corp., $151,920; and the Enterprise Engine & Machinery Co., whose bid covered three units at respectively $142,152, $152,420 and $151,145.

Details of financing in connection with the purchase of the new unit remain to be worked out.

John A. Sater Accepts Post Offered Him by Local Education Board

Sater, superintendent of the Princeton, Minnesota, school system the past two years, Tuesday morning notified Elmer Bratsch, president of the local board, that he definitely accepted his appointment as head of the Thief River Falls schools.

They have two daughters, one a student at Moorhead state teachers college.

Molester Is Caught after Chase in RLF

Apprehended in Red Lake Falls largely as a result of information supplied by Mrs. Klemens Gigstad, St. Hilaire school teacher, Robert Milligan, 20, of Crookston was committed Monday in Red Lake county probate court to the state hospital at Fergus Falls as a psychopathic personality.

Mrs. Gigstad had noticed Milligan when he parked his car Thursday afternoon near the school playground at St. Hilaire, where he had tried unsuccessfully to pick up two small girls. She took his license number, and got Joe St. Michel, store operator, to call Sheriff Arthur Rambeck.

Learning that Rambeck was in Red Lake Falls attending a peace officers meeting, St. Michel contacted him in that city. Rambeck, in turn, notified Henry Thode, Red Lake Falls police chief, and they started looking for the Milligan car at the north edge of the city.

Milligan soon came along with a 14 year old Red Lake Falls girl as a passenger, but when the officers tried to stop him, he speeded up and sped thru the city at a 60 mile clip with the officers in pursuit. They finally overtook him in the south part of the city, as he was letting the girl out of his car. It was indicated that she had not been molested.

Milligan, the officers learned, had previously served a sentence in St. Cloud, after being convicted on a molesting charge, and after being released had violated his parole and had been returned to the institution.

Red Lake county sheriff Carl Kankel took Milligan to Fergus Falls Monday.

Plans Mapped for 6th Dairy Day June 14th

More Than Dozen County and Home Agents Share in Discussion of Plans

Advance reports given by county agents from nearly a dozen Northwest counties at a meeting Thursday evening in Thief River Falls indicate that the number of calves to be entered in competition in the sixth annual Dairy Day June 14 in Thief River Falls will be equal to the 1954 record total of 301.

Also present at Thursday's meeting in the Rex Cafe were members of the board of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsor of Dairy Day; a half dozen county home demonstration agents and several Valley newspaper editors. Stuart McLeod, president of the group, conducted the meeting.

One of the principal topics of discussion was the Dairy Princess contest, in which the age limit has been raised to include girls from 17 to 21 years of age. This change was made to permit the winner in the Dairy Day contest to be eligible for selection as Princess Kay of the Milky Way in the statewide contest at the Minnesota state fair this fall.

The manner of selecting the candidates in the various counties is being left in the hands of the several county agents, home agents and local creameries. In charge of the contest is a committee headed by Rudy Mehlhoff of Thief River Falls, working in cooperation with the county home agents.

McLeod announced that Dairy Day awards will be presented at a smorgasbord supper at 5 p. m. in the spacious Thief River Falls tourist park. The outdoor supper substituted for the banquet held in previous years will permit the attendance of

Drivers License Fee Raised to $2

Governor Signs Bill Doubling Present Fee

Minnesota motorists now must pay two dollars every four years for the privilege of driving a motor vehicle, following passage by the legislature and approval by Governor Orville L. Freeman of an act setting the drivers license fee at $2 instead of the previous $1.

This applies immediately to all original or renewal applications, but not to "learner's" permits or duplicate licenses, which remain at 35 cents. Present stocks of driver license application forms will be accepted, along with the $2 fee, until new application blanks are received from the printer.

The increase was voted in order that the operation of the highway department's driver license division may be made as nearly self supporting as possible. The division reported a $133,892 deficit for its 1954 second-half operations, which had to be made up from trunk highway funds which would otherwise have been used for physical improvements to the trunk highway system.

Lincoln Sophomores Present Radio Talks

A group of Lincoln high school sophomores are broadcasting a series of programs which they are calling "Teen Agers Talk It Over."

The series began at 7 p. m. Monday, May 2, over KTRF, with a discussion of "Teen Age Problems and Troubles." Taking part were Martha Uggerud, Karen Austin, Darlene LaFave, Janice Helgeneset, Mary Halvorson, and Josephine Votava.

These radio talks will continue for the next three weeks on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, all at 7 p. m. The second of the series is scheduled for this evening, Wednesday, May 4th, with the subject, "Dating Can Be Fun." Participants will be Beverly Haugen, Jaclyn Carlson, Sharon Hauswirth, Yvonne Harder, Joy Goulet, and Randal Carpenter.

More than sixty students will go on the air to give their own opinions on subjects which they have selected. In organizing the radio series they felt that adults would be interested in getting the teen agers' viewpoints.

They will try to give their own answers to such pertinent questions as to causes of juvenile delinquency; how to get along with other people; whether or not a part time job interferes with scholastic standings; and other teen age problems of general interest.

Scripts for "Teen Agers Talk It Over" have been prepared in connection with English 10 classes under the supervision of the instructor, Katherine Barzen.

Here is the schedule for the series:

May 4—"Dating Can Be Fun."
May 6—"How to Get Along With Other People."
May 9—"Teen Agers and Comics."
May 11—"Should Teen Agers Work on Part Time Jobs?"
May 13—"How to Make and Keep Friends."
May 16—"Smoking and Drinking Among Teen Agers."
May 20—"Juvenile Delinquency"
May 23—"Should Teen Agers Own Their Own Cars?"
May 25—"What Teen Agers Think About a Higher Education"
May 27—"Vocations"

Marge Olson

Achievement Day is Friday, May 6, and you're invited to attend. This is the one time during the year that homemakers get together, and a very worthwhile time at that.

Mrs. Theodore Bjorge of Smiley township has been in charge of the committee to plan the program. Her committee has been busy planning a well-rounded program, and they have arranged a very enjoyable one. Main speaker for the occasion is Mrs. Myra Zabel who is specialist in Home Furnishings at the University of Minnesota. She will talk on Pattern in Home Furnishings, a topic I know that all of you are interested in. Mrs. Zabel came to Minnesota from Kentucky last fall. You will enjoy hearing her talk in lovely Southern accents, I am sure.

Also on the program will be an evaluation of the home program by Mrs. Edwin Koglin of Kratka township. Mrs. Koglin, who has been in homemakers for many years, will give her view of the extension home program, representing the county homemakers on the program.

Mrs. Sig Folkedahl of Smiley township has helped prepare a skit on the rule of 14. You will find this skit hilarious. Several homemakers that you know will be taking part.

If you are interested in seeing furniture that has been repaired, you will enjoy looking at the exhibits which will be displayed. Dairy products and materials used at pressure cooker clinics will also be exhibited.

A new feature this year will be the hobby show. Each of the homemaker groups will be displaying the different hobbies done by the members of the group. This show should be very interesting.

In addition, the door prizes, donated by the homemaker groups will be displayed, and will be drawn for during the program.

All arrangements for Achievement Day have been made by members of the extension home council. They are Mrs. Theodore Bjorge, Mrs. Frank Hobbs, Mrs. Edwin Helgeland, Mrs. Carl Finstad, Mrs. George Breznay, Mrs. Melvin Melin, Mrs. Ole Gunderson, Mrs. Joe Johnson, Mrs. Herb Swenson, Mrs. Clyde Hutchinson, Mrs. Orris Olson, Mrs. Charles Sorenson, Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom and Mrs. Andrew Kisch.

We'll see you at Achievement Day on Friday.

Here are more tips on the 4-H clothing project from our extension clothing specialist at the University of Minnesota. She says that when you make a garment that will meet your needs and fit in with other clothes you own, it is important to choose the right fabrics.

Several kinds of material may be suitable for one pattern, but the one that you will be able to wear for a variety of activities is a good choice. It will help you look better dressed for more occasions. For example, taffeta and polished cotton will make the more practical dress.

The color of the fabric should be becoming to your own coloring of skin, hair and eyes. The color should also go well with accessories and other clothes to be worn with the finished garment. The smoothness or roughness of a fabric and the finish—whether it is shiny or dull—should be kept in mind since they will affect your apparent size.

Another check before making the fabric selection is to make sure the pattern and fabric are "friends." In a pattern calling for many yards of material, the actual weight of the fabric should be less than in a pattern which requires only a few yards. A firm fabric is more suitable than a soft fabric to pattern calling for few yards such as a slim skirt.

Post-prom Party Is Staged by Elks

68 Lincoln Students Are Guests Saturday Night

A total of 68 Lincoln high school students were guests Saturday night at the second annual party sponsored by the Elks lodge as a sequel to the Junior-Senior Prom held earlier in the evening.

After dancing until a late hour, the young people were served breakfast at 4:30 before departing for their homes. A program of musical numbers and skits also was supplied by John Moum, Malcolm Boyd and Miss Judith Halverson of the Lincoln faculty.

Serving as chaperons at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kolitz, Mr. and Mrs. Cy Glass, Mrs. Frank Clinton, Mrs. Ervin Pearson, Alvin Christofferson, R. J. Dryden and Berdeen Sornes.

High School Band Presents Spring Concert Tonight

The Lincoln high school band will present its annual spring concert this evening (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium under the direction of John Moum. Sixteen graduating seniors will be making their final appearance with the group. The program will include numbers of a classical nature, as well as the lighter type of music.

Bell Co. Installs Robot Secretary in Express Office

You're always "in" the office even when you're out when you have a "mechanical" like the one the Northwestern Bell Telephone company has recently installed at the Railway Express Agency, Soo Depot.

The new automatic answering equipment, first to be installed in Thief River Falls, answers the phone, records messages and gives out information, without any human supervision.

The answering equipment operates as a part of the telephone. Consisting of a compact unit measuring seven inches high and 14 inches square, it is easy to operate. A flick of a switch turns the set on or off, and it has large control knobs with simple instructions.

Anyone calling the Railway Express Agency while the device is on hears an answer of this kind:

"This is the Railway Express Agency. Your call is being answered mechanically by an automatic telephone answering device. Please leave your name and telephone number and a message. We will call you. Start talking at the first tone signal and you may continue until the second signal. You have about 25 seconds to record your message. Please speak clearly."

Argyle Youth, 16, Is Accidentally Shot by Brother

A 16-year-old rural Argyle boy died late Sunday afternoon after the .22 caliber rifle his brother was carrying discharged into his chest as he was getting out of a pickup truck near his farm home three miles west of Argyle at 3:15 p. m.

Clarence Pagnac was pronounced dead on arrival at a Crookston hospital where he was brought after the accident. The youth had been hunting gophers together with his brother, Elmer, 14. The truck in which the boys were riding was driven by L. Pagnac, their uncle.

After the shooting, the uncle took the wounded boy to the Pagnac home, where he was transferred to the family automobile and rushed to Crookston.

Thieves Ball Team to Play Exhibition Tilt at Red L. Falls Sunday

Manager Berdeen Nornes will send his senior baseball Thieves into action on Sunday afternoon when, at 2:30 p. m. on Red Lake Falls' Riverside diamond, the locals meet Howard Johnston's Lakers in an exhibition tilt. The Red River Valley league, of which the Thieves are the defending league champions, will open its 1955 schedule on Sunday, May 15th.

Manager Nornes stated that an important practice session has been called for this evening, Wednesday, at the Fair Grounds, and it is probable this practice will determine the lineup that will start against the Lakers on Sunday. The Thieves have a number of experienced players available for this season's play, but the senior club will be forced to rely quite heavily on coach Ralph Skjod's baseball Prowlers. Sid Vraa and Joey Poole, both of whom have played with the Thieves for the past several years, Jack Poole, Larry Jorgenson, Rod Collins, and Glenn Carlson are Prowler team members who are rated as Thieves roster members.

Holdovers from last year's league championship, in addition to Vraa and Joe Poole, are Shorty Perkins, Jack Hoppe, Gene Leslie, Jerry Stevens, Al Williamson, Dick Edlund, and Derwood Swede Lund. Lefty LeRoy Aasland and Cal Vraa, both of whome are attending college in Moorhead, are expected to be on the Thieves' roster this season, with Aasland slated for pitching duties, and Vraa being available for first base and as a catcher.

Viking Oilers Win First Two Games

Take Doubleheader from Goodridge, R. L. Indians

Manager Reuben Rosendahl's Viking Oilers opened their 1955 season on Sunday afternoon when, in a doubleheader played on the Viking diamond, the Oilers defeated Goodridge, 3 to 0, and the Red Lake Indians from Redby, 12 to 9.

The Oilers will play at Viking again next Sunday, meeting the strong Karlstad team in an exhibition tilt. Sunday's game will mark the final exhibition series for the Oilers before they open their Red River Valley league schedule by meeting the league champion Thief River Falls Thieves at Viking on Sunday, May 15th.

In the first game of Sunday's twin bill, George Erickson, on the mound for the Oilers, limited the Goodridge club to but four hits, and given excellent support by the Oiler defense, with Viking completing three double plays, well-earned the 3 to 0 shutout.

The second game of the double-header was a free-hitting contest, with the Oilers moving into a 10 to 1 lead in the early innings. With a comfortable lead, manager Rosendahl was able to juggle his players considerably, experimenting with different combinations.

Prowler Golf and Tennis Teams Win over Crookston

The Prowler tennis and golf squads scored victories over the tennis and golf teams of Crookston Central in matches played here on Monday. In the tennis competition, the doubles team of Jerry Veven and Brad Teal, by scores of 6-0, 6-0, and 6-0, defeated the Crookston Central doubles team.

In the singles play, Bill Frahm, by scores of 6-2 and 6-2, defeated Crookston's number one player; and Bruce Larson, by scores of 6-0 and 6-3, defeated the Pirates' number two singles player. Verni Selheim, by a 6 in 1 score, and Kenny Jones, by a 6 to 3 score, won their singles matches. The Prowler tennis squad will play at Bemidji on Friday, May 13th.

In the golf play, at the Thief River Golf club, the Prowlers, with Daryl Williamson scoring a 41, medalist honors, Dale Liggett, with a 43, Roger Heyn with a 46, and Eddie Fillatrault with a 46, had an aggregate of 175 to beat the Crookston Central quartet by six strokes.

Crookston scoring found Boyer with a 43, Stenseth with a 45, Teal with a 46, and Schultz with a 47. Coach John Moum's golf squad will go to Detroit Lakes on Tuesday for a team match.

Prowlers Play at Bagley Thursday

Ball Game at Alvarado Tuesday Was Canceled

Tuesday's dust and wind storm blew away the ball game slated to have been played that afternoon at Alvarado between coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers and coach Charley Picken's Indians, the contest being postponed. The Prowlers, defeating Oslo, 6 to 3, at Oslo on Thursday afternoon, will play the Bagley Flyers in a 2:00 p. m. game at Bagley on Thursday, May 5th. On Tuesday, May 10th the Prowlers will meet the highly-regarded Crookston Pirates at Crookston, with game time at 4:00 p. m.

The Prowlers weren't very impressive in scoring their 6 to 3 win over Oslo last Thursday afternoon, with coach Skjod expressing dissatisfaction with the base-running exhibited by the Prowlers.

With Joey Poole getting three hits in four trips to the plate and Rod Collins poling out a pair of hits in three tries, the Prowlers clubbed the offerings of Nordling and Solem for nine solid base-hits. Meanwhile the righthanded slants of Sid Vraa, Jack Poole, and Bob Hallamack limited the Oslo batsmen to a pair of safeties.

City Bowling Assn. Hold '55 Banquet

Roy Jorgenson Elected President of Group

The City Bowling association climaxed another successful season of bowling on Tuesday night, when, in the Eagles Club, the various team members and sponsors enjoyed a turkey dinner. Following the dinner, which was expertly cooked and served by the ladies of the Eagles Auxiliary, the election of officers for the 1955-56 season was held.

With retiring president Art Burke emphatically declining to be a candidate for another term the association, by a unanimous vote, elected Roy Jorgenson president of the group for the 1955-56 season. With the two-year terms of Phil LeGault and Alt Langseth expiring, the members elected Del Harbott and Harold Nelson to the office of directors. Ambrose Wysocki, who has handled the duties of secretary-treasurer in an efficient manner, was unanimously re-elected to that position.

Following the election of officers for the ensuing year, Doug Tegtmeier was introduced, and in his capable manner he presented the various team captains with the league championship trophies that their respective teams had won, and also presented the runner-up trophies and high average awards to the bowlers of the four leagues.

Susan Mills, with a 270-point total, was runner-up, having [illegible] points prone, 91 points sitting and 83 points kneeling. Elody Kulseth, scoring 264 points by having 89 points prone, [illegible] points sitting, and [illegible] points kneeling, was the third place winner.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

First Reports

Lou Hetland produced most of the angling news this week when, on Sunday, he returned from Crow Lake with a 23-pound lake trout. Learning that the Canadian lakes had "opened up" last week, and it was one of the earliest ice break-ups on record, Einar Swanson and Lou Hetland, who have always been on Crow lake [illegible] the first contingent of fishermen, left here Friday afternoon.

They reached their campsite, on "Indian Rock" on Crow Lake, late Friday night. Early Saturday they began fishing, using minnows and still-fishing off the rock. Einar collected the "pool" money by catching the first trout, and he had landed four of the fish before Lou tangled with the 23-pounder. It took some maneuvering, but the boys were able to get the fish into a landing net. Einar paid off on the "big fish" wager without any argument; and now the question is whether or not he, Einar, owes Lou for the "most" fish wager. According to Lou, twenty-three pounds is a lot of "most" fish.

This week will find a number of local fishermen heading up to Crow lake, and prospects are bright. We were told that the ferry at Baudette is in operation, with the ferry leaving the American side on the half-hour, and the Canadian side on the hour. Tommy Fuller, Wendy Olson, and Leo Travnicek are due to leave for Crow this week, and with Tommy and Leo baiting the hooks, guiding the party, and landing the fish, they should have an exciting weekend.

They Get a Dunking

And speaking of excitement, Dr. Jim Disse and Milo Gulbranson had plenty of it on Saturday when they were dunked into the icy-cold Clearwater river a couple of times. The dunking has served to dampen Jim's enthusiasm for a "float trip" down the river. The two fishermen, using Jack Melby's aluminum canoe, had intended to drift down the Clearwater from the highway bridge just west of Pinewood to the Soo Line trestle, a stretch of a couple of miles. The river at this point has a turbulence that compares with a mountain stream, and as they tried to maneuver the canoe around a sharp bend, the boys were upset. They lost much of their equipment as they scrambled to shore. A fire was started and they, in a measure, were able to dry out; but as they were about to start down stream again, and had the canoe in mid-stream, shifting of the current upset the boat again. That was the end of the trout fishing trip.

The only evidence we noticed of brook trout fishing luck was the creel brought in by Leo Pahlen. Leo, an expert at handling a number six hook baited with an angle-worm, had nine fine trout, with the largest being an 11-incher. And we know that for a fact for we put a ruler on the brookie. Leo is very secretive about where he gets these brookies, but it must be around the Shevlin, Lengby, and Pinewood area.

The Season's First Stag Night

The local golf club will conduct its first stag night of the year this evening, Wednesday, and it is hoped and expected that a large crowd will be in attendance. Given a break in the weather, it will give a number of golfers an opportunity to get in a round or two of golf, and the course is in fine condition for this time of the year. And too, the golf club membership will have a chance to make the acquaintance of the new pro, L. A. Betcher.

A match has been arranged that should attract quite a gallery, and provoke a number of comments. According to present plans, Stan Larson and Bob Carlson are to play Phil LeGault and Cotton Langevin, with the winners being the guests of the losers at the stag supper. It's doubtful if Phil and Cotton will appear on the first tee, for on the record Stan and Bob are better golfers. Stan, who is the club champion, should be able to beat Phil and Lefty with ease; and Bob and Tiger shouldn't have any difficulty with Cotton the Cat.

Worth a First Look

The Thieves, with a new manager in Berdeen Nornes, and wearing a new set of uniforms, will open a new season on Sunday afternoon when they meet the Red Lake Falls Lakers at Red Lake Falls. Play ball time is slated for 2:30 p. m.

While Sunday's game won't have the intensity that usually prevails when the Thieves and the Lakers cross bats, being billed as an exhibition game, it should provide an afternoon of fine entertainment.

About the only thing that we can be sure of in Sunday's game is that Shorty Perkins will connect for a double, and then be a strike-out victim; that Al Williamson will beat out an infield hit; that Gene Leslie, [illegible], will loft a high fly to the outfield; that Joey Poole will take the Laker pitching for a pair of bingles; that Swede Lund will reach for a couple of high ones; and that Jack Hoppe will look good striking out.

Added: Fishing

Bob Mattson and Frank Riley were on Crow lake on Sunday, fishing for lake trout; but not being the fishermen that Lou Hetland and Einar Swanson are, they caught but three trout. They're philosophic about it, claiming that there is more to fishing than fish.

Pennington Co. Gets Record '55 Road Fund

A record high of $227,516 in current funds will become available this year to Pennington county for local road purposes, the state highway department announced today. This sum will result from 1955 all-time peak allotments to counties of $15,210,000 in state aid gas tax funds and $5,690,000 in federal aid secondary funds, totalling $20,900,000, plus the revenues anticipated from the 1954 county road and bridge levies collectable in 1955.

The total of all current funds for county road purposes thruout the state during the year ahead has hit the $42,695,000 mark, as compared to the previous record of $39,240,000 in 1954. It is more than double the sums available ($20,017,000) in 1947.

The total of county road and bridge funds available became known this week with the announcement by the state board of allotment of the county allocations for state aid and county aid road work from state gas tax funds, and compilation by the state auditor of revenues anticipated from individual county road and bridge levies. Allotments of federal aid secondary money to the various counties previously had been announced by the state highway department.

The state allotment board, consisting of Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann, State Treasurer Arthur Hansen, and State Auditor Stafford King, announced the following totals of allotments from the counties' one-third share of gas tax revenues: $1,210,000 for state aid roads, $75,000 for operation of the county division of the highway department, $13,377,052 in regular allotments for county aid roads, and special allotments totaling $547,948 for special projects on state aid roads, county aid roads and state aid parkways. In addition to this total of $20,900, the state auditor's compilation of anticipated returns from local county road and bridge levies indicates that they also will produce a record total, some $21,795,000.

The position of many counties also has been made more favorable by recent action of the 1955 legislature which authorized any county that may find it necessary or desirable to do so, to issue up to $250,000 in bonds to match available federal aid secondary money.

Pennington county will have available the following sums:

State gas tax funds: For state aid roads, $12,100; for county aid roads $104,876. Federal aid secondary funds allotted county $36,990; total "outside" aids for county roads $153,966; proceeds of county road and bridge levy $73,550; grand total, state, federal and county funds $227,516.

Pennington county also received a special allotment of $6,500 for grading four miles of SAR 6 north of Oklee, and Red Lake county received a companion allotment of $6,500 to complete the Red Lake county section of the project. Marshall county also received an allotment of $7,500 for construction of a bridge over Moose River.

Marshall county will receive allotments of $221,852 for state and county aid roads; $99,010 in allotment of federal aid secondary road funds; and $139,972 from the county road and bridge tax levy, making a total of $460,834 available for the county in 1955.

Red Lake county receives county and state aids totaling $116,976; $30,160 in federal aid secondary funds; and $38,739 in county road and bridge levies making a total of $185,875 available to the county this year.

10-year Low Mark Set by 29 Deaths in April Traffic

A new 10-year low mark for April traffic deaths was registered during the past month by Minnesota motorists, according to Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety, on the basis of preliminary figures available late last week. With only 29 fatalities reported, it was the lowest toll for any April since the war year of 1945, when 26 died as the result of curtailed, low speed driving which was in effect that year.

As of Friday of last week, traffic deaths stood at 145, or exactly 40 less than the 185 killed in traffic during the comparable period of 1954. They represented a "saving" of 10 lives for each of the first four months of this year.

Many People Lack Social Security Cards, Says Agent

Stresses Importance of Filing at Once for Social Security Number

"Many individuals are now covered by old-age and survivors insurance for the first time," Mr. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks social security office, announced today. "They need to take certain steps right away to be sure that they get social security credit for their present employment."

There are about 800,000 persons in the nation who should apply for social security account numbers. These applications should be filed without delay so that the employer of newly covered individuals will have the employees' social security account numbers which he needs for his quarterly report.

Mr. Kistler went on to explain that a hired farm worker who is paid as much as $100 cash wages in a year by any one farm operator, regardless of the number of days he is employed, must have a social security card and show it to his employer.

Household employees (maids, butlers, chauffeurs, gardeners, cooks, etc.) who are paid as much as $50 cash wages in a calendar quarter by any one household employer, regardless of the number of days worked, will also have to have a social security card. Their employers are required to report their wages to the District Director of Internal Revenue, beginning with the first quarter of 1955.

"The old test of regularity for farm and domestic laborers was repealed by the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act.

All newly covered employees are instructed to write, visit, or phone their nearest social security district office and ask for application Form SS-5 if they have never had a social security account number before or have lost their original card. He cautioned them not to get more than one number, to use the one assigned to them originally if they still have it or to apply for a duplicate of the old number if they have misplaced their original card.

The district manager also advised that most post offices have a supply of account number applications on hand and that workers can obtain one there. They are requested to mail them to the district office of the Social Security Administration located at Grand Forks, North Dakota.

At the beginning of 1950 there was one automobile for every three persons 14 years of age or older. by 1975, it is estimated there will be one car for every two or two and a half persons in that age group.

Jobless Benefits to Be Increased July 1

An increase in the unemployment compensation benefit schedule is the principal change made by the 1955 legislature in Minnesota's employment security program Commissioner Frank T. Starkey's staff is now preparing to put the revisions into operation.

On July 1, the higher benefit rates will go into effect. The maximum weekly rate is to be increased from $30 to $33 and the minimum from $11 to $12. The minimum qualifying earnings during a claimant's base period are increased from $500 to $520.

Starkey reminds workers that the new higher rates will apply only to the claims of workers who file an initial claim on or after the effective date. The old rate will continue to the expiration of the benefit year for persons whose initial claim started prior to July 1.

Another change extends employer liability and coverage for the workers of such employers in towns having less than 10,000 population. Now such employers having less than eight employees are exempt. Beginning on January 1, 1956, they will be exempt only if they have three or fewer workers. Beginning on July 1, 1956, the workers of such additional employers will become eligible for benefits when they lose their job and are otherwise eligible.

However, since the $520 minimum qualifying earnings provision applies, the benefits program will not become fully operative for them until late in 1957 because benefits are based on the earnings of the applicant during the first four of the five calendar quarters preceding the quarter in which the claim is filed.

Within a short time the managers of all 31 offices of the department will be supplied with official advice as to the effect of revisions in the law. The department's forms and explanatory literature will be revised and circulated as quickly as the changed material can be produced.

A SUBSIDIZED PRESS?

We now have been told that newspapers enjoy heavy government subsidies, and that information of course interests us a great deal. Frankly we have not been aware of our good fortune and so have not been duly appreciative of the favors we are said to have received.

The only free deal we know of that might be charged to the rural press is the free circulation provided by the post office to rural subscribers in the county of publication. The Times, like many other rural weeklies, passes this benefit along to its readers by a lower cost (about 1c a week) to local subscribers.

More than offsetting any free service the post office may extend to newspapers is the free service newspapers extend to the government. It is common practice to publish without charge the notices that come to us from the post office, and this includes the kind of notices local merchants, and local units of government pay for.

We are certain there is no government subsidy that guarantees publishers a fair return for their product. For further information on this point we are glad to refer our informant to the publishers of the Grygla Eagle, the St. Hilaire Spectator or the Plummer Pioneer.

It would not be proper for us to say that we do not benefit from government subsidies. Indirectly we benefit very substantially.

Our main industry, and one of the most ture. Most of the dollars that pass through ture Most of the dollars that pass through our hands come to this area in the first place as payment for the produce of our farms.

At the present time agriculture is in a difficult period of adjustment from a wartime production level to the level of peacetime needs. Without government price supports the market for farm products would break under the heavy load of surpluses the market cannot suddenly absorb.

Our agricultural community would be very sick right now if it were not for the marketing assistance we are getting from the government. We all benefit from the subsidies that are making possible an orderly adjustment of agriculture to peacetime needs. To that extent we will agree that our rural newspapers are heavily subsidized.

Forgive us for talking shop.

CHECK AID DOUBLE CHECK

It is a healthy thing to have a Hoover Commission checking on the spending agencies of our federal government. At the present time the managers of our military machine are on the carpet. It has been pointed out that some purchases have been unreasonably excessive and because related agencies have acted independently of each other there has been unnecessary waste in the procurement of supplies.

A Hoover Commission serves a good purpose at the national level and an organization of this kind would be equally useful at the state and local levels. Just the knowledge that they were being checked and double checked would make better officials of a lot of people holding responsible government positions.

THEY HAVE PROBLEMS TOO

Overproduction is not an exclusively down-on-the-farm problem. The petroleum industry is one of many that are similarly plagued.

At a meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America in San Antonio last week there was much gloom over the production prospect. Petroleum products are being marketed on a quota basis. Inventories are large and there is some price cutting in several markets.

Our domestic oil production already is too high. Too many new wells are further increasing our production capacity. And too much oil is being imported.

The oil men have problems too.

We can remember way back when at this time of the year we had an Arbor Day, an occasion for good people to plant trees. Looking over some of the scrubby box elders around town that we are trying to preserve it occurs to us that maybe a tree-planting bee would be a proper annual community event here in Thief River Falls. Could Arbor Day be revived?

Thief River Falls has been awarded the top honors for traffic safety among Minnesota cities of from five to ten thousand population and that is an award of which we have a right to be proud. Some of these awards no doubt are just as accidental as some accidents. But here in Thief River Falls we have had strict enforcement of traffic safety regulations. The court records bear out the fact that our police, state, county and local, have been on the job. To them, we think, should go much of the credit for a good traffic record.

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!
This is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has motor car timers doing a "double take" at their stopwatches wherever experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1955 cars.
For example, in the recent NASCAR* stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chevrolets. And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, the Motoramic Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!
What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8".

RURAL READERS: TRY TO AVOID FORM 4056

Many city folks may deserve 'em, but never get Post Office Form 4056. It is a "Notice of Irregularity in Rural Mail Box," signed by your local Postmaster and delivered by your rural route carrier. The fore part of May each year postmasters are required by the Post Office Department to inspect all rural mail boxes. Deficiencies are reported on Form 4056—not an approved style, no signal, no door, obstructed approach, too far from road, too low, too high, on the wrong side, not waterproof, wrong number or name, insecure, not adequately painted. It's surprising how many things can be wrong with what really should be the spic-and-span receptionist for the most frequent and welcome caller in the United States—the mail man.

Highway Department Maintenance Men to Be Honored Thursday

Local maintenance workers employed by the state highway department are included in a group that will receive recognition at the American Legion hall in Crookston Thursday afternoon at 1:30 for their outstanding safety records compiled during the past year.

The men, who will be presented with National Safety Council awards, include Fred Hollander and Albert Severson, both of Thief River Falls, 24 years; Harland P. Lee of Grygla, 19 years; Donald K. Pream, TRF, eight years; Julius Dahl, TRF, five years; and Matt J. Bimler, also of this city, one year.

More than 1,000 employees thruout the state will receive National Safety Council "Safe Driver" awards if their work assignments required them to devote more than 50 per cent of their working time to driving motorized equipment and if they achieved accident-free records during the past year. These awards are made possible through the cooperation of the Mutual Service Liability Insurance company, St. Paul, which has the contract for providing liability insurance on all state-owned vehicles.

Heading the list of recipients of highway department safety awards are 115 men who have been on the honor roll every year since the employee safety program was initiated 24 years ago. Their accident-free driving represents 2,760 man-years of outstanding operation of state-owned motorized equipment.

C. L. Motl, chief maintenance engineer, will present safety awards at the meeting, while Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety, and Robert E. Green, of the Mutual Service Liability Insurance company, will discuss employee driving safety.

The District of Columbia has the highest density of population of any governmental unit unit in the nation—some 11,000 people per square mile. Nevada is the lowest with about 1 person per square mile. Washington also has the distinction of having the highest liquor consumption record of any area in U. S.

New Traffic Laws Seen as 'Tools' to Reduce Accidents

Safety Experts Praise Laws Enacted at Recent Session of Legislature

The 1955 legislature made one of the greatest records of any lawmaking session in many years in the number and scope of the measures it enacted aimed at reducing Minnesota's toll of traffic accidents. This was the opinion expressed by traffic safety leaders. Among the most outstanding accident prevention measures cited were:

(1) Establishment of the previous 60 m.p.h. prima facie speed limits (and such other limits as may be posted) as absolute limits. This also makes it practicable for traffic enforcement authorities throughout the entire state to use radar for speed detection.

(2) Authorization for the addition of 29 more patrol officers and 10 supervisory officers in the state highway patrol, bringing the patrol's total force up to 255; also giving highway patrol officers broader powers of arrest.

(3) Authorizing the courts to impound the motor vehicle license plates and registration cards of any person driving after suspension or revocation of his driver's license, or if any car owner knowingly loans his car to an unauthorized driver.

In addition to these three provisions which many traffic and safety authorities regard as the most important, the Legislature also enacted many other measures in compliance with the recommendation of the Minnesota Safety Council and the Governor's traffic safety conference held on January 20. These included:

Clarified the state law with regard to yielding right of way by providing that when two vehicles approach an uncontrolled intersection at approximately the same time, the vehicle approaching from the left shall yield right of way, but further providing that any vehicle traveling at unlawful speed shall forfeit any right-of-way rights which it might have otherwise have possessed.

Authorized use in court of voluntary chemical tests as evidence in drunken driving arrest cases.

Provided for use in the future of reflectorized motor vehicle license plates readable at night from a distance of at least 110 feet.

Required trucks with high rear ends to be equipped with bumpers after January 1, 1956, to prevent passenger cars from sliding underneath.

Our civilization has borrowed the idea of printing (movable type) and gunpowder from the Chinese, agriculture from the Egyptians, architecture from the Greeks, the alphabet, military organization and civil law from the Romans, crops and domesticated animals from the entire world, it seems. We have produced very little that is completely original.

Selective Service College Tests Set

Special Qualification Test Scheduled May 19

Colonel L. E. Lilygren, state director of selective service, today announced that a special selective service college qualification test will be given on Thursday, May 19, because there were some students who for reasons beyond their control were unable to take the test given on December 9, 1954 or April 21, 1955.

Although the May 19th test will be given primarily for students who for reasons beyond their control were unable to take the previous test, it is to be emphasized that this does not bar any qualified student from taking the test if he applies immediately.

Applications for the May 19th test must be postmarked not later than May 9, 1955 to be accepted. Therefore applicants for the test should submit their applications at the earliest possible date.

It is stressed that students who have a certificate of admission for the April 21st test, which they failed to use on the assigned date, must submit new applications if they wish to take the May 19th test. A student may obtain an application blank from any selective service local board or his college or university registrar. This does not necessarily mean he must apply at his own local board.

Colonel Lilygren also stated that this would be the last opportunity for college students to take the test until December of 1955. Therefore, it is important that students who plan to request deferment for the next school year have a test score in their file before the end of this academic year since at the end of each student's academic year the local board reviews his file and determines on the basis of class standing of the past academic year or test score if the student is to be considered for deferment for the ensuing academic year.

The names of some states are projected in other states. For example, New York has a town named Alabama, Pennsylvania has an Indiana, and Louisiana an Arizona. Five states have a California, three an Ohio and seven a Wyoming.

1st John Brandt Fellowship Given to Dairy Student

Walter Donald Schultze, 30, will receive the first John Brandt memorial fellowship for graduate study in dairy industry at the University of Minnesota.

Announcement comes from J. B. Fitch, head of the University's dairy husbandry department, and Carl Leaf, Litchfield, president of the John Brandt Memorial Foundation.

The fellowship has a value of $1,500 and the University gives free tuition to its holder. A native of Philadelphia, Schultze is completing work on a doctor of philosophy degree in dairy research.

Shultze was granted his bachelor's degree at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, in 1948 and his master's degree in bacteriology from the University of Wisconsin in 1951. He enrolled in the University of Minnesota's graduate school in the fall of 1952 to earn his doctor's degree.

The John Brandt Memorial Foundation was set up two years ago by friends of the late John Brandt, widely known Minnesota dairy industry leader who died in 1953.

Income from the Foundation's trust fund will be used for research and scholarships in dairy science to improve dairy products' quality, expand their use, and develop new products.

The group plans to give one or two $1,500 fellowships each year to promising students in the dairy sciences.

Blue Lustre doesn't sog or mat the fabric, nor leave a gummy remainder. It simply brushes in and gets the dirt out. Easy to use and inexpensive. Blue Lustre is sold at KELLY HARDWARE CO.

THEY DON'T FORGET HER

How dear she is to her sons and daughters and her grandchildren. On this, her birthday, they don't forget her. These flowers are just a token, but in each blossom there is love.

She it was who taught them their first words . . . and their first prayers. She it was to whom they came with their childhood hurts. She it was who stood ready to console them when everything had gone wrong. She it was who taught them how essential religion is to a happy life—how vital it is that they belong to and take part in the activities of the church. On her birthday they remember all of this anew.

Men and women now, they are living their own lives and accomplishing their own successes. But the great truths she taught them about faith, hope, gratitude, love and fortitude will remain with them forever.

Grandmother has indeed made a great contribution to their lives. Little wonder each week in church they say a special prayer in her memory.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non-slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer ... glamorous "hardtop."

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in. This new Dodge is making a clean sweep in every price field!

Owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car find that money can't buy more luxury, more exciting features and beauty than in the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And owners of so-called "low-priced cars" are finding that a new Dodge, with all its dashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than any of the small cars—up to 19 inches shorter and far less exciting!

Governor Freeman Cites Legislature for Achievements

Gov. Orville Freeman said Wednesday the 1955 Legislature "can be credited with having enacted the broadest and most constructive legislative program in the last 20 years."

"There were some disappointments," he added at a press conference, "but the program brings into realization most of the proposals submitted to the Legislature by the governor."

The Legislature adjourned Tuesday night after one of the shortest, and cheapest special sessions in history.

It took just nine hours to pass the six bills left unfinished when the Legislature was forced to adjourn its regular session Monday night after five days overtime.

These are the bills enacted in the brief and—on the Senate side—bitter session:

A five-part tax bill to raise $7,747,000 a year and complete a revenue program to bring in 12½ million dollars a year in new money.

The 185 million dollar education appropriations bill, which includes money for the University of Minnesota, the teachers colleges and school aids.

The proposal to charge a $1 fee for motor vehicle title transfers.

A constitutional amendment to divert iron ore occupation tax money from trust funds to current operating funds for schools and the University of Minnesota. The amendment will be voted on at the 1956 general election.

A bill setting the state property tax levy at 9.15 mills for each of the next two years.

He listed as his two greatest disappointments the fact that income taxes were increased and failure to provide a greater increase in school aids.

The governor said he still believes an increase in the income tax could have been avoided and would sign the tax bill which includes a surtax on individual income taxes and a 1 per cent added income tax on corporations "with regret."

He added that these increases could have been avoided if the withholding plan of collecting individual income taxes had been adopted and expressed confidence that the next Legislature would enact it.

On education, he said the schools really needed basic aids at $92, which he proposed, and that the $82 figure finally approved would mean an increase in local taxes for school purposes.

He listed these as among advances in various fields:

Welfare—Increase in old age assistance from $60 to $65 a month.

Safety — Approval of chemical tests in drunken driving cases the absolute speed limit law, and the law empowering courts to impound license plates of motorists convicted of driving after suspension or revocation of their drivers' licenses.

Conservation — Measures to enable the state to share in federal funds for watershed conservation programs.

Labor — Improved workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance laws; fair employment practices law.

Reorganization — Though amended substancially by the Senate, still provides many tools for more efficient, economical and responsible government.

The governor expressed disappointment at failure of constitutional revision, party designation for legislators and legislative reapportionment but said he was sure they would eventually be enacted.

He said he was disappointed, too, by failure of the Legislature to approve his proposal for reduction of the personal property tax on business inventory and equipment.

Cattle Feeders Day at Northwest School on Friday

Program to Be Given and Results of Feeding Tests to Be Announced

Area farmers are invited to attend the annual Cattle Feeders' Day at the Northwest School, Crookston, on Friday, May 6, at 1:30 p. m. The first part of the program will be held in the animal products buildings—across the street from the dairy barn; and the program will be concluded with the tour of the cattle feeding pens.

Twenty-four steers in four lots of six steers each were fed the different rations with varying amounts of molasses beet pulp supplemented by alfalfa hay, corn silage with and without Urea, and concentrates. The steers have been graded, and the results of the feeding—which have been compiled—will be distributed during the program.

A program of interest to cattle feeders has been arranged with prominent authorities in their fields as speakers. A. L. Harvey, beef cattle specialist of the department of animal husbandry, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will give up-to-the-minute information on the value of Stilbestrol in the feeding of cattle.

Jack Tanner, research director of the American Crystal Sugar Company, Crookston, will discuss the availability of beet pulp and its value in livestock feeding. The outlook for feeder and fat cattle will be discussed by Carl Spong of the Central Livestock Association, West Fargo.

H. D. Fausch, animal husbandman, Northwest School and Experiment Station, in charge of the cattle feeding trials, will give the results of the 1954-55 trials and conduct the tour of the feeding pens.

Robertson Lumber Co. Plans More Houses

Volume Forty-four · Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota · Wednesday, May 4, 1955 · Number Eighteen

Open House Is Slated for Three New Homes Thursday-Saturday

The Robertson Lumber Co. will hold open house Thursday thru Saturday at three recently completed and fully furnished three-bedroom homes in the 200 block on Maple av. S. in Merriam addition, John L. Peterson, manager, stated today.

He added that four other houses are being completed on the same street by his firm, and that construction is being started on three more, with sites available for additional dwellings.

Peterson invited local residents to inspect the homes, and said that coffee and doughnuts will be served each afternoon.

The homes have been furnished by the Diamond Furniture Co., Poppler's Furniture Co., Prior Electric and Northern TV and Appliance.

General contracts on construction were handled by Moe & Gusa, Oscar Hoglin, Hanson & Breznay and Oliver Fladeland. Heating was installed by Brodin Sheet Metal Works and Helgenset, Inc.; plumbing by Lee Plumbing & Heating Co. and Ripley Plumbing & Heating Co.; electrical work by O & P Electric and Prior Electric; painting and decorating by Clarence Dicken, Rux & Lane and Art Terrian; excavation by Hedeen Contracting Co.; and concrete work by Falls Concrete Co.

Record to Be Set in State in 1955 in Tree Planting

More Than 6,000,000 Trees Are Distributed by State Division of Forestry

More than 6,000,000 forest tree planting stock have been dug and shipped to 3,500 individuals and groups for planting on privately owned lands this spring, Ray Clement, forester in charge of nurseries and planting for the state division of forestry, reported today.

Clement said that more trees will be planted on private lands this year than in any year since the state was authorized to grow and sell trees in 1947. The demand has been steadily growing and will increase in the future as tree planting machines become available to make the planting easier. Wood using industries, bankers associations, railroad and county groups have purchased 70 machines which are available for tree planting on private lands.

As soon as the majority of private tree orders were shipped, planting was started on public lands, forest, park, highway, community, and others. The planting will continue until hot weather conditions cause too much growth in the planting stock. From 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 trees will be planted, depending upon weather conditions and available labor.

Below normal rainfall may cause some loss of trees, Clement predicted, as there is now more than an average two inch deficiency over the state. The critical phase of planting is the three of four weeks following the planting, when plenty of moisture is needed to give the young trees a proper start.

The trees have been produced in two state nurseries, at Badoura, south of Akeley, and Willow River, near the town of Willow River.

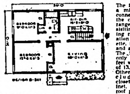
A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-341



DESIGN B-341. For economy in building, this plan is hard to beat. The combination of the simple rectangular shape of the floor plan, without costly projections, and the flat roof results in substantial savings in the labor of cutting, fitting and framing.

The first floor has a minimum hall connecting all of the compactly arranged rooms, consisting of the living room, combination kitchen-dinette, two bedrooms and a bath.

Cleanup Week Will Be Noted Here May 8-14

In common with other communities throut the state, Thief River Falls residents are called upon to observe the period from May 8 to 14 as Cleanup Week, is was announced today by Mayor Agnes Israelson and Dr Dan Greene, city health officer.

Governor Orville Freeman, in ordering the observance, called on all civic organizations and individual citizens to cooperate in a systematic and thoro cleanup of all private premises and public grounds.

Said Fire Chief Roy Langevin, in endorsing Cleanup Week:

"One of the greatest personal benefits of a community-wide clean-up campaign is that it can reduce the danger of exposure—that is, the danger of one fire being caused by another originating nearby.

"Every local citizen has a direct interest in the safety not only of his home but also of the mercantile establishments, industrial plants and public buildings of his community. Damage or destruction of any of these results in personal loss of one kind or another, ranging from mere inconvenience and loss of time to loss of job, home or family. By reducing fire hazards in every part of town, a successful clean-up drive brings added safety benefits to all."

Polio Vaccine Is Endorsed by U. S.

Public Health Service Supports Salk Vaccine

The public health service in Washington, D. C. urged parents Thursday to go ahead with any plans they have to get Salk polio shots for their children.

It said they can have "complete faith" both in the effectiveness of the serum itself and in the vaccination programs now underway throughout the country.

The health service made the statements in an effort to calm a wave of concern and uncertainty set in motion Wednesday by a government ban on all vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley, Calif.

The ban was ordered as a precautionary measure because one child died and at least nine and possibly 11 suffered paralysis from polio after receiving Cutter vaccine. Government experts don't think the serum is responsible, but they want to be sure.

The inoculation program was stopped in most of the west coast areas where Cutter vaccine was supplied for free use in the schools.

Christmas Seal Institute Set for St. Paul May 16

Three of every 10 Americans who died of tuberculosis last year were 65 years old or older, according to a news release from the state Christmas Seal organization.

The problem of tuberculosis in the aged will be one subject discussed at the annual Christmas Seal Institute set for May 16 and 17 at the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association headquarters, St. Paul. Approximately 150 volunteer workers from counties throughout the state will attend.

During their May institute, the state's Christmas Seal workers will hear reports on tuberculin test surveys for the aged and other special groups as well as on surveys in schools and communities. They will also talk over program plans for their own counties.

You'll feel like a pilot without leaving the ground

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!

Here's the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm—Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Riviera. The "convertible" look, with no center posts in the side-window areas—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model—also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

How would you like to take the wheel of a high-powered Buick and feel an experience you never felt before in any earth-bound vehicle?

How would you like to do—just by pressing down the gas pedal—what a pilot does when he's ready for take-off?

And how would you like to drive with the happy thought that you're getting plenty of miles per gallon in normal cruising—and the electrifying action of the world's first airplane-principled transmission when you need it for split-second getaway response?

It's all for you when you say the word and slip into the driver's seat of a new Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Not only do you take command of record-high Buick V8 power—and the most envied ride in the industry—and the brawn and heft and luxury of a truly solid automobile.

You also call the turn on twenty propeller-like blades deep inside a wondrous new Dynaflow that's patterned after the principle of the modern plane's variable pitch propeller.

You hold these blades in their high-economy angle when you press the pedal in the normal way—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

You switch the pitch of these blades to take-off position when you press the pedal way down—and you get spectacular action instantly.

Don't take our word alone that this is thrilling beyond all previous experience.

Talk to anyone who's tried it. Or, better yet, come try it yourself. That way you can learn firsthand why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

OVEN COMES CLEAN WITHOUT SCRAPING

You don't have to scrub or scrape your oven clean when you use "ITS."

The magic of chemistry made up this jelly-like formula. Applied with a brush that comes with the jar, you merely let "ITS" stand for two hours, then wipe it off with a damp rag.

Every bit of dried foodstuff and burnt-on grease comes away, leaving your oven like new. Non-inflammable, "ITS" also works well on chrome. Available at KELLY HARDWARE for

"WE'RE 25 YEARS YOUNG THIS WEEK"

The Officers, Directors and Employees of

THE UNION STATE BANK

EXTEND TO YOU A CORDIAL INVITATION TO AN

Open House Friday, May 6

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS OF SERVICE

To the People of Thief River Falls and Northwestern Minnesota:

The 25-year mark is one of those milestones that calls for special recognition, and we want you to join with us in celebrating our 25th birthday. It is going to be an open house and we hope you will drop in for a visit—and for a cup of coffee or a glass of milk. We'll stay open Friday evening, so come any time from 9:00 'til 9:00.

We are proud of this first twenty-five years. In our agricultural community they have been both good and bad, including both depression and prosperity. Things have not always been easy for you or for us. But our community has survived and grown strong. We have grown with it.

And that is what we hope to keep on doing—growing with the community and providing adequately for its banking needs. For our depositors we offer safety and service. For borrowers we are able to meet all needs within the limits of banking regulations. No loan is too small to receive consideration in our small loan department. And through our affiliate we are able to provide a loan service far beyond the limits of our own capacity.

An anniversary calls for some looking-back, and it is well that we look back occasionally as a guide to future conduct. We learn a lot from past experience.

But it is an occasion, too, for looking forward. The area we serve is the youngest part of the State of Minnesota. We think it is the part that has the brightest future. That is why we look hopefully forward to our own future.

WE ARE PROUD OF THIS RECORD OF GROWTH

Kay Barzen to Head County History Group

Pennington Historical Society is Reactivated at Meeting Wednesday

Miss Katherine Barzen, member of a pioneer local family and instructor at Lincoln high school, was elected president of the reactivated Pennington County Historical society at a meeting last Wednesday evening in the council chamber.

About 25 persons attended the meeting, which was conducted by Judge Paul A. Lundgren, former president, assisted by Arch Grahn, field man for the Minnesota Historical society.

Other officers elected include C. E. Hellquist, vice president; Mrs. Alf Borry, secretary; and Paul Roy of St. Hilaire, treasurer. Also named were five directors to represent various sections of the county, including Bert Vigen, Smiley; Edgar Naplin, Polk Centre; Ernest Swanson, Highlanding; Mrs. Vivian Copp, North; and Paul Engelstad, Rocksbury.

Judge Lundgren, who had served as president of the society since its incorporation in February, 1939, recalled that in its early years the society acquired a considerable collection of historical objects and other materials, which were on display in the basement of the Auditorium until the quarters were taken over for other uses. Since that time, he added, the material has been in storage.

Lungren announced that the Pennington county board has made available to the society a room 17 by 34 feet in size for a museum in the new court house now nearing completion, and he added that that is the primary reason that the society is being reactivated at this time.

Arch Grahn stated that the success of the organization will depend on its leadership and on the cooperation given the officers by county residents. He added that when the new museum is functioning properly it will make for good citizenship by promoting pride in the community and interest in family ancestry.

In behalf of the state society, Mr. Grahn presented five books dealing with various phases of Minnesota history to the local group.

The officers and directors of the society were authorized to appoint a corresponding secretary from each of the 21 townships and two villages in the country. H. O. Berve suggested that the board study the advisability of including eastern Marshall and northwest Beltrami counties in the area to be served by the society.

It was recommended that the board fix the membership dues at $1 a year instead of the former fee of 50 cents.

Miss Barzen, in accepting the presidency, stated that she would rely heavily on the assistance and advice of Judge Lundgren and the staff of the state society. She also announced that a meeting of the officers and directors has been scheduled for Friday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock in the council chamber.

Salk Vaccine Supply in State Is "Frozen"

Heads Society

MISS KATHRINE BARZEN
Who last Wednesday evening was elected president of the reorganized Pennington County Historical society. Active in community affairs, Miss Barzen is the daughter of the late Math Barzen and Mrs. Barzen, who pioneered in this community.

Enough Salk polio vaccine to inoculate 138,000 first and second graders now is under refrigeration in Minnesota, and it will be kept in cold storage indefinitely.

The "freeze" came as a result of the recommendation Sunday by Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele in Washington. He suggested postponement of all polio vaccinations until each lot of vaccine already prepared or in the final stages of production has been reappraised.

Dr. D. S. Fleming of the Minnesota board of health said here that the vaccine now stored in Minnesota would be held up until final clearance for its use is obtained.

The polio vaccine already in the state would be more than enough to accomodate all requests under the free injection program, which covers first and second grade students.

Dr. A. J. Chesley, executive officer of the state health board, foresaw no need for any immediate meeting of the Minnesota scientific polio advisory committee.

That group had been scheduled to meet with the health board Saturday to map Minnesota's decision whether to proceed with the inoculations. However, the meeting was canceled when Scheele urged postponement of any further inoculations pending Sunday's announcement.

Drs. Chesley and Fleming indicated there was no point in laying any definite plans for the Minnesota program until the vaccine supplies now on hand are approved.

"We are still convinced the vaccine has lots of real value," Dr. Fleming said. He added that Minnesota health officials had not lost faith in the vaccine.

Len's Tire Service to Show "Dream" Tire May 11 to 14

Motorists of Thief River Falls can get a preview of what tires of the future will be like in a special exhibit May 11 thru 14 at Len's Tire Service.

On display will be a tubeless "dream tire" to match the styling and performance of the new "dream cars," new tubeless colored tires in shades of blue, green and brown, and tires which give 25 to 30 per cent more milage without annoying squeal or hum.

The display, called the "Cavalcade of Tire Progress," was developed jointly by United States Rubber Co. and Len's Tire Service.

With so much emphasis on color and lines by automobile manufacturers, the tire industry has become style-conscious, according to Abbie Johnson, proprietor. "First there was the trend toward narrower white sidewalls, then came smooth lines that eliminated the cluttered effect, and now we have the most recent and startling innovation — colored tires to blend with the bright hues of today's automobiles."

"U. S. Rubber has added color to its white sidewall Royal Master tire—a choice of Damascus bronze, Crown blue or Valley green. The colors won't peel or rub off, and they show scuffing less than tires with conventional black shoulders. The white sidewalls are scuff-proof.

Mrs. Myra Zabel, home furnishings specialist at the University of Minnesota, was guest speaker at the annual extension home program achievement day held Friday, May 6. Over 200 homemakers attended the event.

Achievement Day is held annually in the county during National Home Demonstration Week. It brings to a close the home program for the year, and is the time when homemakers review the extension home program and make plans for the coming years activities.

Mrs. Zabel spoke on "Pattern in Home Furnishings," illustrating her talk with colored slides and fabric and wallpaper samples. She advised homemakers to limit the pattern in rooms to one unit such as walls or rugs or drapes and to plan wisely when selecting that unit. Pattern in the home is important and must be easy to live with, she added.

A highlight of the program presented at the event was an original skit, written and narrated by Mrs. Sig Folkedal. Taking part were Mrs. Andrew Kiach, Mrs. Clayton Mathson and Mrs. Armand Lian. They portrayed homemakers who reviewed the extension home program for 1954-55.

Two views of the program were given. Mrs. A. E. Koglin of Kratka township presented the homemakers' view, while the home agent's ideas were given by Marge Olsen. They evaluated the program as they saw it.

Mrs. Melvin Melln, Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom and Mrs. Edgar Naplin of the Black River and Polk Center groups comprised a ladies trio, which sang two selections.

Community singing was led by Mrs. Rudolph Hanson, with Mrs. Arnold Hammer on the piano.

Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, president of the extension home council, extended a welcome to the group while Mrs. Theodore Bjorge served as chairman of the program.

Exhibits were set up by the exhibit committee, headed by Mrs. Herb Swenson, depicting the lessons on care and repair of furniture, dairy foods, family business and pressure cooker clinics. A display of hobbies of group members was an exhibit.

Drawing of the door prizes donated by homemaker groups and local stores was conducted by Mrs. Charles Sorenson, assisted by Mrs. Kiach. Prizes were given to the oldest and youngest mother, the homemakers who had been in the extension home program for the longest time, and to the woman present, who had traveled the longest distance to Achievement Day. In addition, many names were drawn for door prizes.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the program by the lunch committee, headed by Mrs. George Breznay.

133 Traffic Mishaps in Pennington in '54

In the 133 total traffic accidents in Pennington county in 1954, 48 persons received bodily injuries and 101 accidents resulted in reportable property damage.

In Red Lake county 32 accidents were reported last year, with one fatality, while Marshall county, with 100 accidents, reported eight persons killed in five traffic mishaps. In Polk county 402 accidents were reported, with 13 deaths resulting.

The county's toll of death, injury and property damage on the highways is contained in a tabulated analysis by counties of Minnesota's reported motor vehicle traffic accidents during 1953, issued today by the Minnesota department of highways. The report classifies the state's 26,955 reported for the year as to whether the principal result was a fatality, personal injury, or simply property damage. They also are classified as to occurrence on rural and urban trunk and non-trunk highways.

The 641 deaths reported for the entire state resulted from 535 accidents, the report shows. A total of 20,131 persons were injured in 12,740 accidents, leaving 33,680 of the total of 46,955 accidents resulting in property damage.

As to location, 33,283 accidents, nearly three-fourths of the state's total for the year, occurred on trunk highways and other roads in urban areas, where traffic generally is heaviest. However, 484 of the traffic fatalities, or more than three-fourths of the death toll, took place as the result of accidents on trunk highways and other roads in rural sections.

The urban territories led 10,851 to 9,280 in the number of persons injured. Accidents limited in result to property damage totalled 25,249 in urban areas and 8,431 in rural areas.

Telephone Firm Adds New Cables

5,350 Feet Being Added in Southeast District

Northwestern Bell Telephone company has started placing additional telephone cable in southeast Thief River Falls to serve residents of new housing in that section of the community, according to A. J. Rau, phone company manager.

Besides taking care of new customers, the extra cable will enable the telephone company to fill orders from existing customers with party line service who have requested individual lines. The project, scheduled for completion in early summer, requires placing 4,600 feet of overhead cable and 750 feet of underground or buried cable. It will cost approximately $4,500.

Northwestern Bell is nearing completion of a rural telephone service improvement program in the area northeast of Thief River Falls formerly served by the Agdar Rural Telephone company. This work was undertaken last winter, when Northwestern Bell and the Agdar company agreed the Northwestern Bell would assume service responsibility in this area. The project, costing approximately $9,500, consisting of adding telephone wires to poles already in place, and building five miles of new telephone pole lines.

Keep Streets and Roads Free from Litter, Says Chief

"This being the time of year when everyone is cleaning up their refuse," said Police Chief Elton Cummings, "we wish to remind the people of Thief River Falls that we want to keep the streets clean also, especially the roads to the city dump. When hauling refuse to the dump, some articles fall off the trucks or vehicles used to haul them, and leaves an unsightly mess on these roads.

"Ordinance 202, Section 4 prohibits the dropping and leaving of any garbage or refuse in the city limits, and when anyone is caught leaving refuse along the streets and highways within the city limits, he will be prosecuted.

"Do not rake refuse off from lawns into the streets for burning or otherwise due to the fact that sewer drains become plugged."

Marge Olsen

In spring a homemaker's fancy turns to thoughts of putting away winter garments and blankets. To save your time and worry in this annual task, I'd like to tell you of several new ideas and developments.

You can protect your washable woolens against clothes moths and carpet beetles by adding some EQ-53 to the water when you wash wool garments and blankets this spring.

EQ-53 is a liquid product developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists for mothproofing wool during hand or machine laundering. It made its debut in stores two years ago. It sells under various trade names, but you'll see EQ-53 in prominent print on most containers.

Add EQ-53 directly to the wash or rinse water in the washing machine. A few spoonfuls in the water will leave a small invisible quantity of DDT in the wool to ward off insects.

Treatment with EQ-53 will protect washable woolens in storage for a year or more. It's also convenient for blankets, sweaters or socks in use the year-round. Re-treatment is necessary with each washing or dry cleaning, however.

When you wash your wool blankets . . . or other woolen clothes . . . this spring, try the easy soak method of getting them clean. It saves both energy and shrinkage.

Recent studies by home economics researchers have shown that blankets shrink chiefly because of the agitation of wool in water. They have developed the following blanket-washing method to save shrinkage:

Soak the blanket for 15 to 20 minutes in the washer. Use moderately warm water and a synthetic detergent. Turn the blanket over two or three times by hand, but don't run the washer. Put through the wringer, or spin off the water. Next soak—rinse the blanket 5 minutes in clear warm water, again turning the blanket two or three times. Put through the wringer or spin off the water and repeat the process for a second soak-rinse.

After the final spinning or wringing, stretch or block the blanket to its original size. It's easier to stretch the blanket if two people pull it from opposite ends, but be sure not to distort its shape by tugging only at the corners. Hang the blanket across two lines to distribute weight, and turn end for end several times to prevent line marks.

To dry in a dryer, preheat dry bath towels and "mix" the blanket with them. After 15 minutes at high heat, remove the damp blanket and stretch.

To raise the nap and make the blanket look like new, brush it vigorously on both sides with a nylon brush or a wire pet brush. Steam-press the bindings on both sides to give your blanket a finished look.

Here are some tips to remember when washing blankets:

Wash only one blanket at a time.

If you plan to dry the blanket outdoors, choose a pleasant, warm day so the blanket will dry quickly.

Adding EQ-53 to the wash or rinse water will help protect the blanket against moths and carpet beetles.

With the County Agent

By William Penning Pennington Co. Agent

Weed Control

There are hardly any farms in Pennington County that do not have a weed control problem. Weed control brings to mind three primary weed control practices. These are cultivation, spraying with chemicals, and the combination of these two practices.

Today I will write a few ideas on the second weed control practice that I list, chemical weed spray. And let's narrow the chemical weed spray down still farther to smaller areas where you want complete vegetation control. The areas that I have in mind would be around buildings, parking lots, play areas, ditches, fence rows, or more important where small patches of noxious weeds occur. I would suggest the use of the following chemicals.

Polybor Chlorate, add about 8 to 10 pounds per square rod in the dry form or in 10 gallons of water, will give a quick kill of most herb vegetation except quack grass. This kill should last all season. The chemical costs about 19c a pound, or $1.52 to a $1.90 per square rod on area treated.

Sodium Chlorate, at three to five pounds per square rod, will also give good control. It costs about 18c per pound. It will cost about $2.70 to treat one square rod. These chemicals will not give very good control of grasses, but will do a good job on bread-leafer weeds according to Edwin H. Jensen, Extension Agronomist at the University of Minnesota.

CMU is a newcomer in this field of soil sterilance. Apply at one-fourth pound or more per square rod in fall or spring. It give nearly complete vegetation control for 1 or 2 years. CMU is slow acting and if applied in April it might take until July to kill all vegetation. Certain weeds, such as thistle and morning glory are somewhat tolerant to CMU and on some soils you may need more than one-fourth pound per square rod for a kill. This chemical costs about $3.50 a pound—88c per square rod, applied at the ¼ pound rate.

Today I have covered only a small part of the weed control practices that are necessary in today's farming. You undoubtedly will have more questions concerning cultural and chemical weed control. If this is true I suggest you come to the County Extension Office and pick up Extension Folder 191. This is a new bulletin from the University of Minnesota on cultural and chemical weed control in Minnesota for 1955. I'm sure you'll get a lot of information from this folder.

Marge Olsen Joins in Tribute to Home Program Leaders

Thanks Leaders for Aid in Directing Activities of 406 Women in County

Extension home councilors, local leaders and long-time members of groups in the county extension home program are being praised this week for their contribution toward better living for families in the county.

Dorothy Simmons, state leader of the extension home program at the University of Minnesota, joined Home Agent Marge Olsen in paying tribute to these volunteer, unpaid leaders for the work they have done in helping to forward the extension home program.

"National Home Demonstration Week, which is being observed May 1-7, is an appropriate time to give recognition to these women for the vital part they are playing in making the extension home program a success," Miss Simmons said. "Only through the assistance of the 180 extension home councilors and volunteer leaders in the county is it possible to spread the latest homemaking information. Week, which is being observed in the county".

Extension home councilors represent their townships in working with the home agent to plan, organize and carry out the extension home program.

Local volunteer leaders are the mainstay of the home agent in bringing the latest information and recommended practices on different phases of homemaking to their local groups. After being trained by Miss Olsen at special sessions, they act as teachers, presenting the lessons to their groups.

High School Band Offers Pleasing Spring Concert

An appreciative, if not overly large, audience enjoyed the excellent concert presented last Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium by the Lincoln school band under the direction of John Moum, a pleasing variety of selections being presented. Marilyn Waale, student director, led the band in the rendition of "Deep River Rhapsody", and Kathleen Walker directed the group in the march, "American Patrol."

Junior Musicians to Offer Concert Friday Evening

The Lincoln junior high school band, chorus and orchestra will join forces in a spring concert Friday evening, May 13, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium, Miss Judith Halvorson, director announced today.

She added that this is the first public appearance of the young musicians without the assistance of the senior high school group.

The band, made up of seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students, will open the program with the national anthem. They will continue with a group of the numbers they have been working on this year, including favorite marches.

Breaking the instrumental vein of the evening will be several selections ranging from a Bach choral to one of the popular old rounds, "Row, Row, Row," sung by the chorus.

Following two numbers by a trio, and "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" by the junior orchestra, the senior orchestra whose members are drawn from the fouth through seventh grades will close the program. One of the pieces performed will be a movement from a symphony written by the contemporary composer, Clifton Williams. Teacher Workshop Opens Here in June

Sponsored by Bemidji College for 13th Year

A summer workshop for teachers will again be conducted at Thief River Falls starting the second week in June, it was announced today by Co. Supt. Martha Matheson.

This is the 13th consecutive year these workshops have been sponsored by Bemidji Teachers College. They were first instituted here in 1943 under the supervision of Mrs. Matheson.

College credits may be earned at these off-campus workshops toward a college degree and faculty members from the college have charge of the instruction. It has been an excellent service for this territory being so far removed from the college campus.

This year courses in art—applied design or arts and crafts and children's literature or remedial reading will be offered.

Thieves Defeat RLF; Open League Play at Viking Next Sunday

For seven innings the exhibition baseball game played at Red Lake Falls on Sunday afternoon rocketed along in mid-season style, with the Thieves and the Lakers in a 2-all deadlock moving into the 8th frame. In the 8th, with one away, Shorty Perkins, getting the first solid safety off Ronnie LaChance, drove a ground single down the third-base line; Gene Leslie drew a walk, and a pair of passed balls and a wild pitch scored the two runners. Sid Vraa, after Jack Hoppe had whiffed, walked, stole second and scored on Jack Poole's double into right center, giving the Thieves their third tally of the inning and "breaking up" the game. The locals, on a streak of wildness by lefty Dale Peruse, added four runs in the 9th inning, to win Sunday's tilt by a 9 to 2 score.

The Thieves will move into Red River Valley league competition on Sunday when, on the Viking diamond, they meet manager Rube Rosendahl's Oilers in a league schedule opener. The Lakers of Red Lake Falls will make the trip to Crookston for a league game against the Pirates; while the Argyle Marcons are slated to meet the Alvarado Farmers at Alvarado.

Sunday's game was a no-hit and no-run affair for two innings, and it was the Lakers that broke into the hit and run column first. Russ Carlson singled into left field, and when Milo Hoflus "worked" surprise starter Jack Poole for a walk, Carlson advanced to second. Jack Beadles forced Hoflus at second, the play being Joey Poole to Sid Vraa. Dick Williams lined a double to the fence in left-center, scoring Carlson with the game's first tally. Jack Poole, with runners on second and third, struck out Bozo Emard and Norb Pastir to end the uprising.

A two-base muff of Joey Poole's fly-ball into centerfield in the 4th inning, plus an overthrow of first base on Gene Leslie's ground ball by third baseman Emard, gave the Thieves a run in the 4th. In the 5th, an infield hit by Sid Vraa, a passed ball, a wild pitch, and Joe Poole's ground ball to first baseman Peruse, plated the Thieves' second run and gave the locals a 2 to 1 lead. The Lakers evened the score in their half of the 5th inning when Hoflus opened with a walk, came around to third base when Leslie let Beadles ground-ball skip through his legs into left field, and when Larry Gilbertson made a wide throw to the plate, Hoflus scampered across with the tying run. With Beadles on third base and none out, Sid Vraa retired Williams on a ground ball, short to first; erased Emard on a play, pitch to first; and got Pastir on a called third strike to end the inning.

Prowlers Win 2nd Honors in Dragon Relays

Pile up 32 1/6 Points in Events at Moorhead Last Saturday, May 7

With Dave Kollitz winning firsts in the high and low hurdles events, and with Pete Froehle winning a first in the shot put, Coach Quentin Jones track Prowlers racked up a total of 32 1/6 points to gain a solid second place in the team totals at the Dragon Relays held at Moorhead on Saturday. The powerful Moorhead Spuds, with a total of 65¼ points, easily won the squad honors. Other team point totals were Fergus Falls, 14 2/3; Pelican Rapids, 13 2/3; East Grand Forks, 5; and Crookston, 4½.

On Friday of this week Coach Jones and his squad will be at Bemidji for participation in the Beaver Relays; and on Friday, May 20th, the 31st district track and field tournament will be held at North Dakota University's Memorial Stadium in Grand Forks.

Other Prowler point-winners at the Dragon Relays were George Gifford with a second in the discus; Evan Jones with a second in the mile run; Dick Odegaard with a second in the high jump; Ronnie Severson with a tie for third in the high jump; and Ron and Rick Severson with a tie for fifth place in the pole vault; and Chuck Brandvold with a fifth in the discus.

In addition to their firsts in the hurdles and the shot put, Kollitz ran a 220-yard leg on the winning sprint medley event and Froehle had a fourth in the discus. Other sprint medley relay team members were Dean Christensen, Jim Sauve, and Jack Quesnell. The Prowler mile relay team won a second place; the 880-yard relay team won fourth; and the 440-yard relay team was fifth.

Defeat Bagley Flyers by One-sided Score of 15-0, and Take Erskine 15 to 5

Coach Ralph Skjod's baseball Prowlers, playing a doubleheader against Bagley and Erskine on Thursday, racked up a pair of decisive wins. Playing at Bagley in a game that was an afternoon affair, the Prowlers defeated the Flyers, 15 to 0; and in a twi-light game at Erskine the Prowlers scored a 15 to 5 triumph.

Coach Skjod's club will have a pair of important games on this week's schedule, playing Rusty Miller's Red Lake Falls Eagles at Red Lake Falls on Thursday night, May 12; and then opening the home game schedule by meeting the Alvarado Indians in a night game on the Fair Grounds diamond May 17th.

In Thursday afternoon's tilt at Bagley, righthander Sid Vraa, working the first six innings, held the Flyer batters to a one hit, that a single by Evenson in the 4th inning, and struck out fourteen batters. The leading stickers for the Prowlers in the Bagley game were Larry Jorgenson with four hits in five trips; Rod Collins with two for five; and Joey Poole with a pair of hits in three trips to the plate.

Five runs in the first inning, with Joey Poole blasting an over-the-fence homerun, sparked the Prowlers in their 15 to 5 victory over Erskine in a twi-light game Thursday. Joe Poole followed up his 1st inning homerun clout by hitting a triple, a pair of singles, and drawing a walk, for a perfect "four for four". Sid Vraa, batting the lead-off position, tapped the Erskine pitching for a pair of doubles and a single in four at-bats.

Except for the 3rd inning, when Erskine bunched three hits to score three runs, righthander Jack Poole got the game under control, giving up but five hits over the six-inning route, striking out eleven, and doling out four walks.

Northern Pike May Be Taken May 14th

Attorney General Upsets Previous June 19 Edict

George Selke, new commissioner of conservation who moved into Chester Wilson's vacated office May 2, formally asked—and got—a new ruling enabling the northern pike season to open May 14.

Attorney General Miles Lord issued the order which overruled a previous edict that the northern season had to be delayed until June 19.

All of the trouble stemmed from a 1953 law, sponsored by the darkhouse spearing associations, which called for drastic cuts in the angling season if the spearing season is shortened.

Wilson had shortened the spearing season 10 days, and had expected to shorten the angling season the required 30 days in October and November. But his order was reversed by the first ruling, and season had to be shortened in May and June—hence the June 19 opener.

Now, however, Lord ruled that Wilson's entire order had "no force and effect" and the angling season could open May 14 as usual.

It was reported that the spearing associations, which pushed the whole thing, will not oppose Lord's new ruling for fear of stirring up more resentment among the state's million and a quarter anglers.

Prowlers vs. Eagles

Two of the 31st district's top-ranked high school baseball teams, the Prowlers and the Red Lake Falls Eagles, will cross bats on Thursday when, in a game called for 8:00 p. m., the two clubs meet at Red Lake Falls Riverside Park. The game is a "natural," and with favorable weather should attract a near-record crowd.

Both coaches, Ralph Skjod of the Prowlers and Rusty Miller of the Eagles are well-supplied with talented veterans, and both are possessors of strong pitching staffs. If the two coaches go with their "front line" hurlers, coach Skjod will send righthander Sid Vraa to the mound for the Prowlers, while coach Miller will give Ronnie LaChance, also a righthander, the chore of stopping the Prowler batsmen.

Capable of getting the starting roles in Thursday night's clash are the two club's "second line" pitchers, righthander Jack Poole of the Prowlers and southpaw Ernie Berry of the Eagles. While these two boys, Poole and Berry, don't have the finesse and experience of Vraa and LaChance (Vraa, and LaChance are rated among the better pitchers in the Red River Valley loop), it must be a comfort to coaches Skjod and Miller to have such a pair of hurlers available.

If Vraa and LaChance get the pitching assignments for their respective teams on Thursday night, the hitters on the two teams are due to do a lot of futile swinging. Hits will be at a premium.

Of the two pitchers, LaChance will perhaps have the tougher job on Thursday night, for the Prowler batting lineup appears to have more balanced attack than the Eagles lineup. Rod Collins, Duane Glass, Joey and Jack Poole, Sid Vraa, Freddie Dablow, and Glenn Carlson are boys that give coach Skjod good strength at the plate, and four of these boys swing from the southpaw side of the plate. The Eagles, with Bozo Emard, LaChance, Berry, Beadles, and Kankel, aren't without power either, and in Emard they have, perhaps, the district's best "long ball" hitter.

And don't forget, the two teams, the Prowlers and the Eagles, are slated to play a return game here on Thursday night, May 20th, with game-time at 8:00 p. m.

Wednesday Stag Night

The committee in charge of arrangements was well-pleased with the turn-out at the first stag night held at the golf club last Wednesday, and with the stag scheduled to be a regular weekly feature, it is hoped that the number will continue to please the committee.

Justus Larson, the president, stated that the stag this Wednesday evening will, as an added attraction, have a "string" tournament for the golfers. We haven't the slightest idea what a "string" tournament is, but if it means that a golfer can win by pulling "strings," then we know a couple of boys that should enter. On their golf-playing ability, Jim and Doug are "string" tournament players.

Oen's and Johnson's

The first shoot of the trap shoot league was held last week, and on the results we'll go "out on a limb" and award the championship to Roy Oen's Appliance squad, or to the Johnson Bros. team. Those two clubs could finish one-two; and that means that we're dropping the defending champion Wilson Bros. into third place.

Roy Oen, whose team won their opening match quite handily, defeating the Times, 117 to 104, has same able shooters on his squad. In Dr. Jim Dine he has the league's "scratch" shooter, and in Mel Hyland he has a shooter carrying a handicap of one. Orvis Olen, Dr. Paul Wendt, Helmer Baumann, Chuck Dablow, and Roy, give the squad ample handicap potential.

The Johnson Bros., team, who posted the high-score with a 120 have a complete roster of shooters for, in addition to Ray and Gordon Johnson, they have Stan Dahlen, Russ Williams, Neil McKechnie, Bob Evenson, Milo Gulbranson and John Jacobson.

And while the Oen's, and the Johnson's, and the Wilson's are in a hectic struggle for the league championship; considerable interest will be generated by the contest between the Northern Chevrolet and the Amundgaard-Lunke squads in trying to keep out of the cellar.

Waskish, Shotley, Long, and Morris

With anglers who know walleyed pike fishing best, it's either the Tamarac river at Waskish, the Shotley brook on Upper Red Lake, Long Point, or Morris Point on Lake of the Woods for the season-opener on Saturday, May 14th.

According to the reports of the game conservation officers, who have been busy at the spawn-run station at Waskish, the pike fishing there should be "tops". They report that the walleyed pike "run" this season was of near-record proportions. And, too, when fishing at Waskish, or at Shotley there is always the chance that a "lunker" of a northern will grab the lure.

Oh yes, they say that the best way to prepare walleyes is to roll 'em in flour and fry 'em in butter.

N. W. School Finds Molasses Beet Pulp Is Good Beef Ration

Molasses beet pulp, similar to oats in price and TDN—total digestible nutrients, the animal scientists' measure of feed value—has again proved a more-than-satisfactory beef cattle feed in trials at the Northwest School and Experiment Station.

Homer D. Fausch, station livestock specialist, reported the results Friday, May 6, at a Livestock Feeders' Day. The feeding trial began November 12, 1954, and ended April 28.

In the best of the four groups of Hereford steers, margin over feed cost was $86.36 per steer. Each steer ate an average three pounds of alfalfa hay, up to 33 pounds of plain corn silage and 14 pounds of the grain ration per day.

Half the grain ration was molasses beet pulp, the other half barley and oats—70 percent barley, 30 per cent oats. Soybean oil meal brought the crude protein content up to 14.6 per cent.

Fausch said that gains were good despite the fact that the roughage portion of the ration—hay and corn silage—supplied 44 to 49 per cent of the animals' TDN needs. The highest-gaining group put on an average 2.18 pounds per steer per day and lowest-gaining, 1.95 pounds per day.

In one group, urea replaced about 40 per cent of the soybean oil meal in the grain ration and did not affect daily gains.

Steers in the poorest-gaining group each netted $30.43 over feed cost. Fausch believes this group may have had a little too much urea in its diet. In its grain ration, 40 per cent of the soybean oil meal was replaced by urea and its corn silage contained 20 pounds of urea per ton, added at ensiling time. These steers had good carcass quality, but didn't reach the best-price finish weight. They sold for $21.50 per 100 pounds, compared to the best-gaining group's price of $24.

With this one exception, in which the group got urea from two sources, corn-silage-with-urea proved a satisfactory feed. Another group which got corn-silage-with-urea but no urea in its grain ration did about as well as the highest-gaining group.

In earlier experiments the station found that even when the grain ration was two-thirds molasses beet pulp, animals gained well and graded choice to prime.

'U' M. Graduates Invited to Alumni Reunion May 19th

Members of Class of 1905 to Receive Special Recognition at Reunion

Dates for the 52nd annual alumni reunion at the University of Minnesota have been set for May 19 and 20 this year, according to Executive Secretary Ed Haislet of the Minnesota Alumni association which sponsors the event.

Hundreds of graduates and former students from all parts of the United States and, in some instances, from abroad, will gravitate towards the campus to participate in the many activities which have been planned for them.

Thursday, May 19, the date of the University's traditional Cap and Gown Day ceremonies, has been set aside to honor the class of 1905 which is celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of its graduation. Members of the class have been invited to review the Cap and Gown parade from a reviewing stand set aside for them in front of Northrop Memorial auditorium, after which they will adjourn to a reserved section of Northrop for the special Cap and Gown convocation. All other alumni are also invited to the convocation.

Following the convocation, the class of 1905 will reassemble in Coffman Memorial Union for its Golden Anniversary luncheon. It is an established tradition of Minnesota reunion activities that the fiftieth anniversary reunion is the highlight of any graduating class' history.

There will also be a luncheon meeting of the new Board of Directors May 19 at noon in Coffman to elect officers and determine future policy.

Friday, May 20, will be Alumni Day. Noonday reunion luncheons will be held at Coffman by the classes of 1900, 1910, 1915, 1920 and 1930. In addition there will be a reunion luncheon of non-scheduled classes at the same time.

Peak of the entire reunion will be the 52nd annual Alumni Day banquet, in Coffman Union's main ballroom at 6:30 p. m. when President J. L. Morrill will present the University's coveted outstanding achievement award to outstanding graduates and a roll of the classes will be called.

Reservations may be made for any of the events through the Minnesota Alumni Association, 205 Coffman Memorial Union.

Thomas Schaffer Wins in Statewide Contest

Thomas W. Schaffer, 18, Hastings, was honored as 1955's Minnesota Star Farmer during the Future Farmers of America (FFA) banquet at the University of Minnesota Monday, May 9.

He was chosen from among 209 State Farmer degree candidates for excellence in supervised farming and leadership. The banquet, held at Coffman Memorial Union on the University's Minneapolis campus, was part of the three-day state FFA Silver Aniversary convention.

Tom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Schaffer of Rosemount and during his four years of vocational agriculture, his labor income from dairy, hogs, corn and oats was $10,730. He rents 80 acres and farms with his father on the 320-acre home farm.

He owns $3,168.75 worth of livestock. He has served as chapter president and is at present a district FFA president. During high school, he ranked in the upper one fourth of his graduating class and was active in judging teams and in 4-H and FFA activities, serving as a 4-H president and junior leader. He has planted 1,100 trees on his home farmstead windbreak. His Vo-Ag instructor was Ernest Palmer, Hastings.

Steve Alnes of the staff of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and formerly of Thief River Falls, was a speaker at a dinner Friday evening in Coffman Memorial union on the U. of M. campus in Minneapolis.

Sgt. Neil Deemer to Graduate Soon at Traffic School

Sgt. Neil F. Deemer of the Minnesota highway patrol, formerly stationed at Thief River Falls, is one of 36 police officers attending the 1954-55 class in traffic police administration at the Traffic Institute of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., who left their classrooms May 9 to visit leading police departments throughout the country.

Purpose of the field study trips is to give each student a chance to observe traffic police operations in a department comparable to his own, in communities facing similar traffic problems. Plans and procedures of traffic supervision that the officers have been studying since last September in institute classrooms and laboratories will be seen in actual practice.

When the men return to Evanston on May 16, they will have four more weeks of study before their graduation in June. After that they will return to traffic assignments in city, state and county departments.

During their field survey, the students will observe how other departments carry on such activities as accident investigation, traffic law enforcement, and traffic direction. Sgt. Deemer will visit the Indiana state police.

Disabled Should Protect Social Security Rights

Manager of Grand Forks Office Calls Attention to Provisions of Law

Seriously disabled people who used to work in employment covered by the social security law should get in touch with the social security office by June 30, Walter D. Kistler, social security district manager, announced today.

Kistler pointed out that people who have been totally disabled for 6 months, or longer, and who worked in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law for as many as 5 years out of the 10 before they were disabled should get further information about this law.

Active military service and employment in the railroad industry may count toward the needed amount of work. By applying to have their social security earnings records frozen, disabled people may prevent loss or reduction of future benefits.

Some people now receiving old-age insurance payments or who will become eligible for old age payments in July were disabled for long periods before they reached age 65 and are still disabled. They may start getting larger payments as of July and will get them more promptly if they file an application for a "disability freeze" by June 30.

If the disabled person dies after June 30, the disability freeze can protect his family's rights to survivors payments but only if he had applied for it before death. For this reason, it is important for every person who meets the requirements for the "freeze" to apply for it by June 30.

Kistler emphasized that the law protects the social security rights of a worker who is suffering from prolonged total disability but does not pay cash benefits to him before he is 65.

The address of the Grand Forks social security office is Post Office Building, Grand Forks, North Dakota. If a disabled person is unable to call at the office, he may telephone or write to the office, Kistler said.

Australia Doctor to Talk at Hallock vs. Communism

Dr. Fred C. Schwartz, M. D., noted physician, psychiatrist and world traveler, of Sydney, Australia, will appear at the high school auditorium in Hallock on Friday, May 20th, at 8:00 p. m. o'clock for a public lecture on the subject of World Communism, according to Jim Johnson, Hallock commander of the G. A. Leonard Norberg Post of the American Legion, under whose auspices the meeting is being sponsored.

Dr. Schwartz has been a Christian lay preacher for many years, and his attention was first directed to Communism while at the University of Queensland, Australia, where he debated a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Australia.

He is now on his second world tour in two years, speaking before numerous civic and church groups, endeavoring always to present in simple language just what Communism is, believing that understanding is the irreducible minimum for intelligent counter-action.

VICTORY AT BANDUNG

Representatives of the nations of Asia and Africa, meeting at Bandung to discuss their special problems, were anything but unanimous in their views, and that is a healthy situation. These were the representatives of the so-called backward countries of the world, the colored races of the areas long exploited by the whites. It would not have been surprising if their deliberations had been marred by explosions of racial bitterness. The fact that they conducted themselves with commendable restraint is a testimonial to their capacity for self government.

While there were expressions of resentment over past abuses it is most encouraging to know that we were not without friends among the nations represented there. The Filipinos, for instance, came to our defense, and their report on our record in the Islands was a most effective argument in answer to the accusations that we have imperialistic ambitions. For the Chinese Reds, who had sponsored the meeting, and who probably had hoped it would be a rallying point in support of their own program, the unexpected opposition from many of their fellow Asiatics must have been discouraging.

Out of the conference has come what is the equivalent of a cease-fire in the Formosa argument. It now appears that this problem is going to be discussed before the shooting starts rather than after the fighting is finished, and that is as it should be. The tension seems to have eased a great deal both in Asia and in Europe. Bandung helped a lot.

OFF TO A BAD START

It is unfortunate that the Salk polio inoculation program has been delayed. Because of a bad result among a number of the youngsters recently vaccinated it has been necessary to hold back the release of vaccines until they could be thoroughly rechecked.

It might be well, now that we have been forced to back up for a fresh start, to ask a few questions about the unusual method that was adopted for the introduction of this product. Why, for instance, was it announced with the type of publicity fanfare that might be expected from a carnival pitch man as a build-up for the sale of a bottle of all-purpose pills? We could see no good reason for the suspense technique.

It is difficult for us to believe that several of the leading laboratories of the country went into mass production of a product before that product had been approved. That must have been the general reaction, for certainly the much publicised announcement that was made on a date that had been agreed upon weeks in advance occasioned little interest and no surprise. The nature of the announcement was taken for granted.

The Salk polio inoculation program has gotten off to a bad start partly because of a few unfortunate results. But some of the difficulties are due to the unusual and, we think, unfortunate, way in which it was introduced. The act fizzled because it was too obviously an act—an act that too many people, including the politicians, (now it is Eisenhower's fault) wanted to get into.

There is every reason to believe however that the Salk program is good and deserves our confidence. We are sure that in spite of a bad start it will soon have general acceptance and will measure up in every way to our high expectations.

WE CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT

By a margin of only five votes the House passed a bill that would restore 90% of parity price supports to the five so-called basic farm crops through 1957. These basic crops are corn, cotton, wheat, rice and peanuts. Dairy products would be given a floor of 80%.

This being a bill sponsored and backed by the Democrats in Congress we may assume that it represents the thinking of the Democratic party. And this being true they now are on record officially as favoring 90% of parity for peanuts and only 80% for dairy products.

We could understand a variance of this kind among advocates of a flexible price support program. Conceivably market conditions might justify higher support levels for some commodities than others, and the flexible plan makes it possible to allow for such differences.

But we cannot understand how the advocates of a system of rigid price supports can justify such a difference. If 90% of parity is a must for the peanut grower then it should be a must for the dairy farmer and for the growers of other crops.

And we are completely lost in trying to follow the reasoning of those who represent our dairy state, be they Republicans or Democrats, who give lip-service to a rigid support program and then go along with a preference rating for the southern peanut planter.

NO LONGER AN ISSUE

Democrats and Republicans in Congress joined hands last week in passing by a big majority a bill that will extend for three years the President's authority to reduce tariffs. This action was significant mainly because it indicated clearly that tariffs are no longer a major issue in our country.

During the past 20 years we have been moving gradually toward lower tariff barriers. Because the changes have come gradually they have created few disturbances in our economic order.

While we still are far from being a nation of free-traders, there is a general realization that if we wish to sell our products abroad we must also be willing to buy abroad. Trade must be a two-way transaction and it is possible for both parties to a trade to be benefited.

Flax price prospects are better, says the Wall Street Journal. Increased demand for linseed oil for paint-making has stepped up the demand for flax. Much of the huge surplus that has cast a shadow over the market has been disposed of. Here and there the sun seems to be trying to break through the clouds.

FEDERAL RESERVE HOME ENLARGED

Headquarters of the Ninth Federal Reserve District are in Minneapolis, where an imposing concrete structure of about five stories—no outside windows make it difficult to estimate the height—covers a quarter of a block. Bank activity has long necessitated the use of outside space. Beginning in the summer of 1955, with fall of 1956 as completion goal, the entire 1923 structure will be renovated and modernized and eight more stories will be added, putting another imposing structure on the growing Minnesota skyline. Indiana limestone and aluminum windows are among the features planned. Cost is estimated at around five millions.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, George W. Droppo, who passed away two years ago today, May 11, 1953.

We cherish the love you so willingly gave,

Life is so lonely since you're not here.
How we loved you, bless your heart—
Sad was the day you had to depart.

The mantis puts its eggs in a sort of tailor-made "thermos bottle"—a cluster of hundreds of bubbles of air about the eggs, which serves as insulation to keep eggs from temperature changes. The principle is exactly the same as used in our thermos bottles now—only they have been using it for centuries.

Women's Camp Set at N.W. School June 13

The 30th annual Women's Camp for women in the Red River Valley counties will be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, June 13-16. Registration will start on Monday afternoon, June 13. The Women's Camp is unique in that women return year after year for their annual vacation and refresher courses in homemaking. A number of women have attendance records of twenty years or more.

A program of more than general interest has been arranged for the women this year. Features highlighting the lecture-demonstration during the camp include work with meats and meat preparation, different types of floor coverings and carpeting, and clothing. Handicraft work to be offered includes basketry, woodcraft, and plant propagation.

The recreational and entertainment features are swimming in the school's swimming pool, movies, receptions, and class initiations. An attendance of 125 to 150 women "in residence" is expected. Women who are unable to enroll for the entire camp period are invited in for the day sessions.

This year's officers of the Women's Camp are: Mrs. Ole Johnson, Stephen, president; Mrs. Anton Pulkrabek, Angus, secretary; Mrs. Merle Schenck, Baker, treasurer; and Mrs. Thomas Fixter, Thief River Falls, sergeant-at-arms.

Full information regarding the camp may be secured by writing to the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, Minnesota.

Rural Mail Boxes Being Checked by Postmasters

Some time during the first 15 days of May an inspection is made of all rural mail routes in the United States.

Postmasters are responsible for these inspections and the purpose is to note the extent of rural patron compliance with regulations covering mail box installation.

Right now is the time, says your rural carrier, to "Replace that tired old, sagging, leaking mail box. An up-to-date overhanging installation not only helps your rural carrier get your mail to you in better time, but it greatly helps road maintenance men take the best possible care of the road to your farm summer and winter."

Peanut hulls have many industrial uses. They are used as a grinding and polishing abrasive and sound insulation. They are also sold as poultry litter and for roughage in poultry feed.

Larimer Advises Safety Checkup

Tells Motorists to Have Their Cars Looked over

"An annual, springtime check-up of your car is just as important as having a physical examination yourself," according to Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety in the Minnesota highway department.

He pointed out that winter driving is much more damaging to cars than most motorists realize and that attempting to drive at normal summertime speeds on the the open highways may lead to disaster if any one of a number of defects in the car are not remedied.

"Many Minnesota communities are staging vehicle safety check programs this month," he said, "at which large numbers of vehicles can be checked and their owners informed of any conditions which should be taken care of by qualified mechanics."

He went on to say, however, that any motorist who is concerned with the safe operation of his car can take his car to any reputable garage and have a thorough safety check made for only a nominal sum and can have any needed work done immediately.

These safety checks, he said, should include brakes, headlights, rear and stop lights, wheel alignment, exhaust system and muffler, windshield wipers, glass, horn and rear-view mirror.

NAILED DOWN, UP, OR JUST NAILED?

Weary Roseau man in the soft embrace of a cozy couch yawned more prodigiously than politely. A playful son at that moment tossed a shingle nail aimlessly into the air. Nail down, you know where. Three hours and much worry later the doctors told the victim the nail was in a lung and warned him to cough discreetly. Whereupon the gentleman coughed—but vigorously. Nail up. Vast sigh of relief. Nail down. Now all concerned anxiously await the outcome.

IT'S ALL BUICK
for only $2376.88 delivered locally!
2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$61.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

Because—as any comparison shows—the dollar difference between this brawny beauty and the well-known smaller cars is now virtually erased.
So if you've been holding back, thinking a Buick was out of reach—let yourself go. You can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car—and the price we show here proves it.
Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs
That's a major reason for the phenomenal success of Buick today. So much so, that production and sales are hitting new peaks to move Buick more firmly into the tight circle of America's best sellers.
And a companion reason for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of cars to give you a choice in any price class—the bedrock-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.
But pure and simple, it's all the automobile you get for your money that's winning so many new owners to Buick.
It's the extra pride you feel, the extra room you enjoy, the extra comfort you get, the extra safety you sense—from Buick styling, Buick size, Buick ride-engineering, Buick solidity of structure.
It's the extra lift and snap and ginger you get from Buick high-compression V8 power—and the fun and thrill of bossing such eager might.
As we said—if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—even with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflow† at modest extra cost.
So why settle for anything less than a Buick? Drop in on us, take the wheel, press that pedal, and see for yourself what a whale of an automobile—and a whale of a buy—today's Buick really is.
†Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
DID YOU KNOW—
—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
—that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

IRON MINES MOVE SOUTH

Perhaps few Minnesotans realize that the state's iron ore is not confined to the so-called Iron Range area in northeastern Minnesota. A few feet below the rich, green, gently rolling pasturelands of Fillmore county and adjacent areas nestle layers of yellowish "limonite" ore from just a film up to two feet thick or a little more; above are from one to 36 inches of sand, gravel, and bluish clay, below thick layers of buff colored limestone. First carload of this ore was shipped during the wartime scarcity in 1941. Output now varies from 100,000 to 500,000 tons a year, of a quality classed as "high phosphorous non-bessemer," somewhat short of that of the Range ores.

TRF Hospital Admits 2,511 Patients in '54, Besides Baby Cases

Excluding newborn, the total number of admissions to Northwestern Hospital during the fiscal year which ended April 30th was 2,511, according to a statement issued today by H. W. Peterson, administrator. In the twelve month period between May 1, 1954 and April 30, 1955, 448 babies were born in the hospital.

Newborn infants received a total of 2,364 days of care; all other patients received a total of 17,289 days of hospital care. The average length of stay of patients, excluding newborn, was 6.88 days per illness. Newborn infants stayed an average of 5.3 days in the hospital.

The total number of deaths, excluding newborn, was 83. However, 22 of the deaths occurred within 48 hours and such deaths are not considered institutional deaths by statisticians in the hospital field. The net death rate was 2.466%. Net hospital death rates have been set at 4% as a general standard by the joint committee on accreditation of hospitals. Net death rate in Northwestern Hospital is, therefore, considerably within the standard set.

Of the 448 babies born at the hospital, there were four deaths. These were, generally, premature infants. The infant death rate was, therefore, .89 of 1% which is considerably less than the 2% set up as a standard by hospital inspection authorities. There were no maternal deaths.

The average daily census, excluding newborn, for the 365 days of the fiscal year was 47.37 patients. January 1955 was the month of highest patient census with an average of 63 patients in the hospital daily. Average daily census of newborn for the year was 6.48. Largest number of patients in the hospital, excluding newborn, during one 24 hour period was 75. Largest number of newborn in the nursery for a 24 hour period was 15.

A total of 2,473 patients were discharged from the hospital during the fiscal year. An analysis of discharges shows that 56% were medical cases, 18.8% maternity, and 25.2% surgical. Of the total number of 2,959 patients, which included regular hospital patients and newborn, 15% were newborn infants, 14.7% were children under 14 years of age, and 70.3% were above the age of 14.

The actual expense of care of hospital patients, for the fiscal year was $19.74 per patient day, Peterson reported. This figure included expense for all types of patients in all stages of illness. Per patient day expense to the hospital broken down into some of the main classifications of expense were as follows:

Dietary	2.77
Laundry	.59
Housekeeping	.56
Heat, light, water, power	1.04
Maintenance & repairs	.92
Medical & Surgical supplies	1.85
Nursing service	6.71
Medical records	.03
X-ray	.46
Laboratory	.90
Depreciation	.35
Other special services	1.38

The amount of $200,225.94 was expended to pay for hospital salaries and this amount equalled 58.7% of the total hospital expense for the year. The remaining 41.3% included all departmental and operating expense. Total expense for the year was $341,197.35.

The $8 billion invested and plowed back into the oil industry in the past five years has increased production and reserves by one barrel for every four produced in 1945.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

HAZELWOOD REPUBLIC

The collision of white and Indian cultures on the American frontier bred interesting experiments in civilizing the Indians. One was the Hazelwood Republic in Minnesota. It grew out of the Hazelwood Mission near the Upper Sioux Agency and was established chiefly through the efforts of Stephen R. Riggs. Some of the Sisseton and Wahpaytan Sioux indicated a willingness to adopt the ways of the white man. They drew up a written constitution in 1856 and elected Paul Marekutemani as governor. One of the councilmen was Gabriel Renville.

A major aim of the Republic was to get the Indians off the warpath and onto the farms. The Indians lived together in a community of separate farms with Dr. Rigg's home, the church and the school in the center. The cutting of the hair and the wearing of white men's clothes were symbols of the new mode of life. It was said that the discarding of the blanket as an article of clothing was necessary to change the Indian to work because one hand was always needed to keep it in place. One of the most enthusiastic supporters of the Republic was Joseph R. Brown.

During 1857 and 1858 the Republic made encouraging progress. Construction of homes proceeded and crop production was good. The Republic reported eighty-two members in 1858. However, decline set in soon after. One reason was the lack of protection against hostile Indians. When the Hazelwood station was abandoned, with the Sioux outbreak in 1862, the Republic disappeared. Several of its members, including Governor Marekutemani and John Other Day, helped many white settlers during the outbreak.

FORMING A COUNTY

The establishment of Pine county exemplified the general process of county government growth in Minnesota. What is now Pine county was once part of St. Croix county, Wisconsin. In an enlarged form Pine then became part of Ramsey county, Minnesota, and then part of Chisago. In 1854 Pine County was organized but until 1858 it included the areas later Kanabec and Carlton.

The county was named for its splendid, tall trees. The virgin pine was cut and floated down tributary streams of the St. Croix. Rivers were important nearly a century ago and steamboats made their way regularly up the Kanabec, Rice and Pokegama rivers.

The earliest county seat was Chengwatana. By act of the legislature, Pine City became the seat of government in 1872.

The newborn county had plenty of financial troubles. Two of the early auditors of the county defaulted with part of the money so important to early government. Trails had to be converted into roads suitable for ox and horse drawn vehicles. Rivers were bridged. In 1878, by action of the Minnesota legislature, the county was bonded for ten thousand dollars illustrative of the condition of public finance in those early days these bonds were for ten years and carried ten per cent annual interest.

AN EARLY PROMOTER

All frontiers have had their bad elements seeking to make money quickly, violently or unlawfully. Those from the far west have received more publicity than those who may have lived in Minnesota. In the mountains the prize may have been gold, silver, copper or the easy money of crime and frontier inflation. The Minnesota border was less sensational. Here the frontier was poor but there was plenty of scandal in connection with lands, colonies and townsites.

In 1871 a distinguished appearing Englishman came to Minnesota. He said that he was Lord Gordon Gordon, which impressed the natives. He announced that he was about to select lands on which he was to place a colony of three hundred thrifty and industrious Scotchmen. He made some selections along the newly built Northern Pacific in western Minnesota.

Returning to New York he lived in grand style but undertook some large scale stockjobbing operations. He was arrested for swindling, granted bail and jumped to Canada. One of his bail bondsmen who resided at Minneapolis caused his arrest at Fort Garry, now Winnipeg. There immediately followed complications involving charges of kidnapping and eventual litigation which showed the true character of the promoter.

FRONTENAC MISSION

The first of Minnesota's lakes to be seen by travelers from the south was Lake Pepin on the Mississippi. All who came northward on the big river passed through it. One of the most interesting places on this lake is Frontenac.

In the fall of 1727 a body of French soldiers under command of Sieur de La Perriere founded a trading post on the point that projects from the west side of the lake. Besides the soldiers and the fur traders there were two priests. One was Father Louis Guignas. Homes were built for priests and soldiers, all surrounded with a protective log wall. The fort was named Beauharnois in honor of the governor of Canada.

Trouble between the Sioux and Fox Indians threatened the mission and Father Guignas left after a year. Three years later he returned with some soldiers and rebuilt the fort on higher ground. Trouble still persisted. In 1736 the Indians scalped two Frenchmen near the fort and burned the fence around Father Guignas' garden. In the spring of the following year the Frenchmen burned the fort so it would not be used by the Indians and left, never to return.

The mission of St. Michael the Archangel, as Father Guignas called it, lasted for but seven years. The name was later given to the chapel by academy on the land reputed to be the site of the rebuilt fort.

TRUST FUNDS: SOURCE AND SIZE

From interest, land sales, and other sources of revenue Minnesota added to the state's permanent trust fund the past fiscal year more than $18 million, to bring the total to $233,201,208. Most of this, just under $183 million, is in our permanent school fund, just over $37 million in the university fund, nearly $23 million in the swamp land fund, $400,000 the internal improvement fund. Occupation tax and royalty on iron ore account for nearly $210 million of the total, sale of timber brought in something over $22 million, sale of land about $21 million, leases and interest the remainder. Purchasing power of a trust fund dollar today is estimated at 62.1% of what it was in 1930.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Johnny's Dilemma

"Well, Johnny, what did you learn in school today?" Johnny, who has been in school only a few weeks, is hard pressed to answer that question. He can't explain that he plays games in order to develop muscular coordination, or to learn how to get along with other children. It isn't clear to him that he listens to stories so that he will read his first book with better understanding.

That he tells stories not only to learn how words go together in a meaningful way, but so that his teacher will know more about him. That by painting or coloring he develops control over smaller muscles that he will use later in writing. Or that through these activities he is encouraged to experience the joy of putting his imagination on paper and to grow in the power to create.

Johnny isn't able to explain to an adult that it takes a long time to learn to sit still, to listen, to follow directions, to share, to use tools correctly, to trust this new person who is taking mother's place. He is not able to tell that these things come before he can read and write. He may be reading in a long or a relatively short time, for children of the same age are not ready to learn the same things.

Does Johnny feel that he "ought to" have learned something specific today? If he does, and he is reading from a book and he can't do arithmetic, then he may feel there is something wrong at school.

Johnny's teacher knows that everything Johnny does in school is important. It is related to his learning how to get along with people or to learning the three "Rs". Be assured that Johnny is learning, but don't ask him to tell you exactly what! Ask Johnny, "What did you DO in school today?" and watch his face light up as he tells of games, songs, stories, pictures, and excursions.

STAIRWAY TO GOD

"Since the beginning of time, man has recognized the need for divine worship. He has ever sought a stairway to God." • For nearly two thousand years the Christian religion has pointed man to such a stairway. And through the centuries millions have climbed it. • But millions have not! And the reason they have not is the most serious problem that faces the Church and the world today: • You see, the only stairway to God is FAITH IN JESUS CHRIST, HIS SON. And Faith is not something which men can possess collectively, as all Americans possess freedom. Faith is something we can only possess individually like life itself. The man who lacks it is dead, even though millions around him possess it. • The faith of your wife, or your father, or your son, or your nation is not—for you—a stairway to God. Christ has given you the Church to plant and cultivate faith in your heart. But the Church must have your heart — in person!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOME, TOO, CAN BE HAZARDOUS

Pursuing the hobby of home carpentry results, a casualty insurance company reports, in injury to 115,000 persons annually; nearly 100,000 get hurt fixing furniture and at least 95,000 cut themselves on broken window panes. 300,000 are reported to meet with mishaps while messing with ladders, 76,000 are house-painting casualties, and 33,000 come to grief while pruning trees. Of many serious and fatal farm mishaps perhaps the easiest to control or avoid are tractor accidents. Keep children away from them, don't drive them too fast, don't refuel while the engine is too hot, and don't venture on the early morning or evening highway without lights. Now is the time to take these precautions: most tractor accidents happen in May.

Those who are concerned with such things say about 32,000,000 overweight Americans would like to reduce but just can't make the necessary sacrifices.

Before 1945, less than $1,000,000 a year was spent for cancer research. Since then the American Cancer Society alone has devoted $85,000,000 to that work.

Open House at Oakland Park Home Sunday

People from 4 Counties Are Invited to Inspect Facilities of Rest Home

Residents of Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall and Roseau counties, which maintain the Oakland Park rest home adjoining Thief River Falls, are invited to attend an open house and short program at the institution next Sunday afternoon, May 22, from 2 to 5 o'clock, Donald C. Brandvold, superintendent, announced today.

This will be the first opportunity for most people of this area to inspect the facilities of the home, which began accepting residents in January of this year and is already operating at its full capacity of 60, with others on the waiting list.

Robert J. Lund will preside over the brief program, which will begin at 3 o'clock. Principal speaker will be John W. Poor, director of old-age assistance of the state welfare department.

Others expected to speak are Dr. R. N. Barr and Dr. A. J. Chesley of the state department of health. The Rev. Walter M. Pedersen will offer the invocation, and the Rev. E. Patnode the benediction.

Special guests will include county board members from the four cooperating counties, members of the state legislature and the executive board of the rest home, including Andy Erickson of Roseau county, chairman; Carl R. Anderson, Pennington, vice chairman; Omer Houle, Red Lake, secretary; and Roy Edman of Alvarado, Marshall county, fourth member.

The establishment of Oakland Park rest home was made possible by the merger last fall of the sanatorium here with Sunnyrest at Crookston, the few remaining patients having been transferred to Crookston last November.

Lincoln School Junior Chosen by Classmates to Make St. Paul Trip

Betty Rude, a junior at Lincoln high school, has been accepted by the state American Legion auxiliary as a representative at Girls State, to be held at the state fair grounds in St. Paul the week of June 16-23.

As a result of an election held by her classmates, Betty was chosen to represent the local high school. In order to receive consideration as a delegate, the candidate must rank in the upper one-third of her class scholastically, and must possess the qualities of character, leadership, courage, honesty, and cooperativeness.

Minnesota Girls State is a practical application of Americanism—the participants learn government by "living" it, in mythical cities, counties, and state, where political procedures are based on those in effect in Minneapolis. By carrying out the processes of government, they learn by doing, of both the privileges and duties of citizenship, and are encouraged to become leaders. A well-rounded program which includes music and recreation is a part of the week's activities.

Ecklund-Holmstrom unit of the American Legion is sponsoring Miss Rude's trip. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rude of rural Thief River Falls.

Shirley Anderson, student at St. Luke's school of nursing in Duluth, was chosen by the faculty and her class as the outstanding senior. She was the guest of honor at the Florence Nightingale banquet held May 9 in a Duluth hotel. Miss Anderson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Anderson of rural Thief River Falls.

The load is lighter when everyone pulls together!

And everyone pulled more than his share at the orthopedic field clinic held Saturday, May 14 at Lincoln high school, according to Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, local chairman.

Family physicians, orthopedic specialists, pediatricians, nurses, and parents interested in healthy and happy lives for their children, helped the child with crippling handicaps to receive early attention.

A total of 138 children from Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau counties went with their parents to the clinic for examination by a pediatrician or orthopedic surgeon.

After seeing each child, the doctors recommended surgery, hospitalization, medical care or any special home treatment which would be beneficial. Nurses instructed parents on home care or exercises.

The clinic was open to boys and girls under 21 years of age who have or may be developing crippling disabilities. In most instances, those attending for the first time were referred by their family doctors.

Public health nurses and county welfare workers served as clinic assistants. William Kennan, counsellor from the state division of vocational rehabilitation, advised young patients on job training and educational opportunities.

Mrs. Sagmoen and Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson of Thief River Falls headed the local committee.

Provision is made for loose dogs to be picked up and impounded by a special police officer to be named by the mayor.

At the suggestion of Fire Marshal Roy Langevin, the council gave a first reading to an ordinance prohibiting the installation of any additional above-ground oil storage tanks in the city. It also would authorize the council to order installation of concrete dikes around any existing oil tanks to prevent escaping liquids from endangering adjoining property.

Also given first readings were ordinances setting up a city plumbing code and amending the water use ordinance adopted last fall.

Dr. Axilrod Trial Is Put off to September

The first degree murder trial of Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod of Minneapolis was continued until the fall term of court last Wednesday by District Judge Paul J. Jaroscak.

An attorney for Axilrod, arguing for continuance of the trial, which had been scheduled to begin May 23, said: "The real perpetrator of the murder of Mary Elizabeth Moonen is still running around loose."

The dentist, 40, was indicted May 3. He is accused of strangling Mrs. Moonen, 21-year-old patient, formerly of Thief River Falls, whose body was found the morning of April 23 in an alley in the Lake of the Isles district in Minneapolis.

He said he will continue partially in his dentistry practice, stating that some of his patients insist that he continue working on them.

Sidney Goff, attorney for Axilrod, said it would take several months to complete investigation of the facts in preparation for trial.

Several weeks and hundreds of miles of traveling will be necessary to interview medical specialists, criminologists and other experts, he said.

He stressed failure of the coroner, Dr. William G. Guthrie, to file a report in connection with Mrs. Moonen's death.

He said more time also is needed to carry on the defense's private investigations to determine "the true cause of death and the real perpetrator of the crime."

"It is my opinion," he said, "that we have proof that Dr. Axilrod had nothing to do with the death of Mrs. Moonen, and that the real perpetrator is running around loose."

Goff said further that it would take at least three months to study and investigate facts of the case, with additional time needed to study murder law.

He pointed out that the court has the power to exercise its discretion in setting a trial date, and asked Judge Jaroscak to embrace a sense of justice and fairness in making his ruling.

County Attorney Michael J. Dillon did not appear at the hearing. His assistant, Per M. Larson, read a statement to the court which said the state would leave the question of a continuance to the court itself.

Larson then was asked by Judge Jaroscak if he knew wether the state's case would be jeopardized by granting the continuance.

Larson offered no objection and the judge set the trial for 10 a. m. Sept. 19.

proved. Benefited property owners will be given three years to pay the amounts they owe in annual installments.

Mayor Agnes Israelson reported that C. W. Pope, for ten years a member of the Carnegie library board, had tendered his resignation because of the pressure of other affairs. The council confirmed the mayor's action in appointing Richard G. Mabey as Pope's successor.

Also confirmed was the mayor's reappointment of D. Kendall Gustafson for another three-year term as area director of civil defense.

The council voted to call for bids for the old McIntosh & Seymour Diesel engine in the municipal power plant, the unit to be sold as scrap metal. Chief Engineer Morris Owen was instructed to get figures from local contractors on the work of installing a base for the recently purchased Fairbanks Morse unit scheduled for installation in August, as well as on the piping and electrical work.

In addition to approving a dozen applications for permits for home remodeling, the council authorized Harold Elofson and Elmer Bratsch to move a dwelling from 210 Maple av. N to a new location in the 100 block on the same street. The owners plan to spend $2,000 on improvements.

Olaf Solheim, owner of the Midway Grocery on Main av. N., applied for a non-conforming permit to enlarge the structure at a cost of $1,500. The area being zoned residential, the council ordered a hearing on the matter for May 25.

Referred to the council building committee for investigation was the request submitted by a group of petitioners on the east side for removal of an old garage owned by the late Nels G. Olson, the petitioners stating that the structure is unsightly and a fire hazard.

Making Sewing Easier

Are you interested in a plan for making sewing easier? Here is a plan for convenient sewing center that will speed the mending and making of clothes the same way as a well arranged kitchen makes for efficient cooking. Too often sewing is the most disorganized home job because supplies and equipment are kept all over the house.

Plan a simple, compact, portable U-shaped center for your home — one which can be located in any room where you prefer to sew. The sewing machine takes the center of the U, with a surface for laying out and cutting fabric on the right and a surface for pressing on the left. Underneath surfaces sewing supplies may be kept in convenient drawers. In the middle you sit with everything you need within easy reach. A convenient chair is an armless swivel office chair, on easy rolling casters so you can turn from one part of your sewing job to the next without getting up.

For the cutting center on the right, you might use a flat-top desk or even an old refinished washstand. For the pressing, a low, sit-down board is best, or a little cabinet with a padded top or even a small sleeve board on a cabinet is satisfactory.

With such a simple set-up, Dad's shirt or Junior's jeans can be mended in a jiffy, without running all over the house for scattered supplies.

Let Embossed Cottons Drip-Dry

Cottons with surface designs or embossed finishes will keep their new look indefinitely if a little extra care is given in laundering them. Esther Knight, assistant professor of textiles and clothing at the University of Minnesota, has this suggestion: Wash embossed cottons in warm water and mild soap, rinse well and let drip dry. While the fabric is still wet, shape the garment carefully; then very little pressing will be needed. If necessary, press with a cool iron.

Bleaches on Polished Cottons

Of course you'll want your polished cotton to stay fresh and new looking as long as possible. Wash it in warm, soapy water, but avoid crushing it. Never use chlorine bleaches on any glazed finish. If the glazed finish is permanent, it may be necessary to use a plastic starch after several launderings. If the finish is only temporary, the finish will wash out in the first laundering. In that case, refinish with a heavy starch.

Musical numbers included songs by the Mavie 4-H club chorus; trio by Janet, Carol and Grace Torgerson of Steiner, and a vocal solo by Shirley Oski of Mavie. Joyce Helgeland of Smiley played the piano for the processional and recessional and as accompanist.

Soil and Water Conserving Loans Offered by FHA

Joel Rosengren, County Supervisor, Announces Loan Program Details

That better farm drainage systems would increase the efficiency of many farms in Pennington and Red Lake Counties has already been proved by those farmers who have worked out good farm drainage, according to Joel P. Rosengren, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration.

Interest in farm drainage and other soil and water conservation measures has heightened among Pennington and Red Lake counties farmers and farm leaders because of the soil and water conservation loan program now being administered by the FHA.

Loans may be made from insured or appropriated funds to pay the cash costs of making improvements directly related to soil conservation, water development, conservation and use, drainage of farm land, and related measures. Practices for which loans may be made are limited to those in accord with extension service and soil conservation service recommendations.

Practices or installations include ditching for drainage, waterways, erosion control, sodding, lime and fertilizer for establishing or improving permanent pastures, land levelling, brush removal, tree planting, and wells.

The Farmers Home Administration can make insured or direct soil and water conservation loans to individual farm owners or operators who cannot obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms and conditions from private or cooperative sources.

Under the same conditions, the borrower may be a nonprofit organization or association primarily engaged in extending to its members services directly related to soil conservation, water development, conservation or use, or drainage of farm land.

Sid Vraa Hurls No-hit Game to Whip Alvarado

Rangy Prowler Pitcher Strikes out 17 Batters to Win by 12 to 1 Score

Loren Sid Vraa thrilled a large crowd of fans at the Fair Grounds diamond on Tuesday night when he pitched a no-hit game as coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers defeated the Alvarado Indians, 12 to 1, in a district conference tilt. The Prowlers will meet the ever-dangerous Red Lake Falls Eagles in a night game on the Fair Grounds diamond on Thursday night; and on Monday night, May 23rd, the Bemidji Lumberjacks will meet the Prowlers on the Fair Grounds diamond.

Vraa, in hurling his no-hitter, struck out seventeen of the Alvarado batsman, doled out but three walks, and not a ball was hit to the Prowler outfield. On the one hard hit ball that the Alvarado batsmen hit, Joey Poole made a backhand stab of the grounder, and on a fine throw to first baseman Glen Carlson, nabbed the runner by a couple of strides.

The rangy Prowler righthander lost his chances for a shutout when Alvarado picked up a run in the 1st inning. The Indians leadoff man drew a walk, advanced to second on an infield out. Glen Olson sent a ground ball to shortstop, and was out, Joe Poole to Glen Carlson; and in attempting to get the Alvarado runner who was advancing to third base, Carlson made a low throw, which eluded Rod Collins, and Jerry Pokryzwinski came in with the lone Alvarado tally.

A walk to Ross Sloan, a stolen base, and a throwing error gave the Prowlers the tying run in the 3rd inning. The Prowlers moved into a 3 to 1 lead in the 4th inning when hits by Carlson, Jack Poole, and Sloan, and a walk to Collins, plated a couple of runs.

The Prowlers added another run in the 5th frame when, with two out, Joe Poole singled, stole second base, and scored on Freddy Dablow's double. In the 6th inning coach Skjod's unloaded a barrage of base-hits, hammering righthander Oliver Danielson for eight base hits, including doubles by Larry Jurgenson, Joe Poole, Jack Poole, and Dablow, giving the locals eight runs.

Vraa, aware that he had a no-hitter going, struck out the side in Alvarado's half of the 7th inning. Giving Vraa ample batting support were Dablow, with two doubles and a single in four tries, and Carlson with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate.

                    R  H  E
Alvarado     100 000 0  1  0  1
Thief River Falls 001 218 x 12 16 1

Batteries: Danielson and H. Olsen; Vraa and Dablow.

$77.44 PER ACRE

Based on support price on whole corn, the return per acre on the 9 year field trial average (AGSCO 301 48.8 bu. Cass County) would be $77.44 per acre.

At Grand Forks the 8 year average yield for AGSCO HYBRID 301 is 60.5 bushels, which at local prices would return $[illegible] per acre.

Many growers sell their corn direct from the picker at an average of $[illegible] per ton. Yields range from 1½ to 2½ tons for a return of $45.00 to $75.00 per acre. Each fall feeders are looking for locally grown corn, so anyone not in position to use his own production has no trouble finding a quick market.

As silage no other crop will produce as much feed per acre as corn. When feeding costs need to be kept down, corn silage will do it.

IT PAYS TO GROW CORN

No acreage restrictions in most of North Dakota, northern Minnesota and South Dakota.

Corn seed cost per acre ranges from $.75 to $1.50. This is less than almost any other crop.

Viking Whips Thieves 14 to 3 in Loop Opener

Giving their righthanded pitcher George Erickson near-perfect support in the field, committing but one misplay, that being a throwing error in the 9th inning; and leveling a 16-hit attack on the offerings of the Thieves' Gene Leslie and Swede Lund, the Viking Oilers rolled up a decisive 14 to 3 win over the locals in a Red River Valley league game played at Viking on Sunday afternoon.

Manager Berdeen Nornes' squad will be "on the road" again next week, meeting the Crookston Pirates in a Sunday game on Crookston Highland Park diamond. The Pirates dropped their league opener to Red Lake Falls last Sunday, losing by a lop-sided 16 to 2 score.

George Erickson opened the hectic 3rd inning by poling a double into right field. Marv Lundin slapped a single into center, with Erickson stopping at third. Chuck Barr cleared the sacks with a triple to center field; Gene Hanson lined a ground single into left field, scoring Barr; Paul Erickson singled to right field; and when Joey Poole made a low throw on Vern Wahlstrom's ground ball, the bases were filled. Jerry Potucek lofted a double into left field, plating Hanson and Paul Erickson; and on a wild pitch, Wahlstrom came in with the Oilers' sixth run of the inning. Swede Lund took over the hurling duties for the Thieves, and Wayne Peters was retired, pitch to first. George Erickson sent a trickler down the first base line, and when Shorty Perkins bobbled the ball, Erickson was safe, and Potucek came in with a tally. Lundin and Barr were given bases on balls, and, with three men on, Lund whiffed Hanson to end the Viking "bingo" inning.

Lund, who gave up a pair of runs in the 5th inning, on singles by Potucek and Lundin, and a double by Barr, was rapped for three hits, all doubles, by Wahlstrom, Potucek, and Peters, in the 9th inning; and, with Paul Erickson getting a walk to start the rally, the Oilers scored four runs.

Prowler Nine Records Win & Loss for Week

Defeats RLF Eagles 10 to 2; Bows to Alvarado 6 to 1 Last Saturday

With righthander Sid Vraa giving up but two hits, singles to Ronnie LaChance and Jack Beadles in the 3rd inning, coach Ralph Sljod's Prowlers defeated Rusty Miller's Red Lake Falls Eagles, 10 to 2, in a district conference baseball game played at Red Lake Falls on Thursday night. The two clubs are scheduled to play a return game here on the Fair Grounds diamond, under the lights, on Thursday night, May 20th.

The Prowlers had their six-game winning streak snapped on Saturday afternoon when, in playing off of a postponed game at Alvarado, the locals dropped a 6 to 1 decision to coach Charley Pickens' Indians. The Prowlers were handicapped greatly by the absence of Sid Vraa, Joe and Jack Poole, Freddy Dablow and Russ Sloan. Vraa and Joe Poole were guests of the University of Minnesota at the Varsity vs. Alumni football game; and Jack Poole, and Dablow, and Sloan were working.

Five runs in the 3rd inning, with LaChance giving up three walks and hitting a batsman before being replaced by southpaw Ernie Berry, gave Sid Vraa a fine "cushion," with the Prowlers holding a 7 to 0 lead.

Honor Roll: Fisherman.

Entitled to be ranked as the city's ablest fisherman, at least for the first week, is Al Ulshafer who, on Sunday, caught a 14½-pound northern pike. Ulshafer, trolling a daredevil spoon while fishing the Thief River, just north of the Eighth street bridge, hooked and landed that huge northern.

The walleyed pike fishermen, coming back from their sorties into the pike water at Washkish and Lake of the Woods, report varied luck. Neil McKechnie, fishing out of Springsteel Island in Lake of the Woods, caught and landed, with his wife Tootie being given an assist by her able work in handling the landing net, a walleye that weighed 9½ pounds. That's the best walleye that Neil has ever caught.

Morrie Howick and Harlan Elseth, fishing the Rainy river at Wheeler's Point on Saturday, caught a pair of walleyes that tipped the scales at eight pounds apiece. Ole Ness, who has a cabin at Long Point, came in with a walleye that we weighed in at seven pounds, and that was after the fish had been out of the water for a day.

While the Washkish fishermen didn't have the hurry-up action that prevailed last year, they are agreed that limit catches were the rule on Saturday and Sunday morning, until the strong winds came up, and that complaints on this year's opener were few and mild.

The most fun, though, was perhaps had by that contingent of bullhead fishermen who congregate at the golf club bridge. They got action, and bullheads.

Phil "Ahoy" LeGault, admiral of the Michigan fleet, and his crew of able seamen—Bob Carlson, Bud Schuster, Lenny Helquist, Cotton Langevin, Jimmy Anderson, Nicky Carlson, and Earl Gjerpen—were at Wheeler's Point on Saturday and Sunday. The lake won't be the same for quite awhile.

Calling All Golfers

The first of the season's local golf tournaments is on the schedule for Sunday, May 22nd, when the Spring Shortstop tourney will be played over the local course. Golfers wishing to enter the tourney, which will be conducted on a nine-hole match play basis, should report their qualifying scores to tournament chairman L. L. Tygeson, or call those scores in to the club house.

We can be sure that such "trophy hunters" as Wally DuChamp will be posting high qualifying scores, hoping for pairings in the sixth or seventh or eighth flights. Move over, Doug.

Stan Dahlen, the "prime mover" of the weekly stag nights, notifies us that an entertaining program is on the bill for tonight's, Wednesday's, stag.

Last Wednesday's stag was featured by a "blind hole" tournament, and, with no. 7 being the "blind hole" there were fourteen golfers that posted par fours for that hole. To determine the winners, the names of these fourteen golfers were used in a drawing, and with the following results, John Moum won first prize, Dr. M. C. Johnson won second and Bob Ulsaker, third.

Another interesting tournament has been arranged for this evening.

Thieves' All-Time Team

In a fanning session with a group of local baseball enthusiasts, the talk moved around to the ablest players that ever performed for the city. A recital of all the players that ever played ball here makes quite a list; but it was pretty well agreed that Herman Bauer would be the choice for catcher. Bauer, a younger brother of the New York Yankees' Hank Bauer, had a promising future, but he was blasted to bits in World War II during the invasion of France.

As the right-handed pitcher we picked Helmer "Hemmy" Sahl, a local boy who was developed by George Lee; and the southpaw pitcher would be Bill "Chesty" Halbert. Halbert was a fine all-round player, and until he "threw out" his arm while playing in the inter-allied games in France in World War I, Chesty was a big-league pitching prospect. Len Schroeder, a former Columbus player, or Red Soholt, could handle the first base duties; and Johnny Jaranson or Charley Nason would be at second base. While Eddie Kiefenheim played most of his baseball for Red Lake Falls, he did play for the Thieves in the early days, and Eddie would make a nifty short-stop, being a strong hitter. At third, we would pick Clarence Rasmussen, who possessed a rifle arm and who was a terrific left-field hitter. Ras played much of his baseball with the fast International Falls club.

Patrolling the outfield would be Ramey Walbaum, Wally DuChamp, and Christy Christenson. Walbaum would be in center, with Wally in left and Christy in right. As utility player, and he would be the best, would be Louie Benson. Louie could pitch, catch, play infield and outfield. As manager of this All-Time club we named Pete Morse, the former St. Louis Cardinal infielder.

Miscellany

The news report revealing the death of Emil Hanson in Minneapolis on Monday recalls to mind the time that Emil, a member of the St. Paul Saints hockey team played an exhibition game here against the Thieves. The local Thieves, coached by George Beverly, were a fine hockey team in those days, back in 1917, and a game was arranged with the Saints. Well, that St. Paul club, a leader in the American Association, had an easy task in trouncing the Thieves before one of the largest crowds ever to cram into the Arena rink. Emil was one of the five famed Hanson brothers who made hockey history while at Augsburg College. Joe and Julius were on defense, and Emil, Oscar, and Louie formed a forward line.—Sid Vraa and Joey Poole were guests at the Amateur Sportsman's club at a banquet in Minneapolis on Saturday. Previous to the dinner, Vraa, an all-stater in football and Poole, twice an all-state selection in hockey, witnessed the Varsity vs. Alumni football game. Sid and Joe, according to present plans, will enroll at Minnesota next fall.

Prowler Tracksters 1st in Beaver Relays

Coach Quentin Jones' well-balanced Prowler track squad won the Class A honors at the Beaver Relays held at Bemidji on Friday, rolling up a total of 39½ points to hold a comfortable lead over the runner-up Bemidji Lumberjacks, who totaled 22¾ points. This week, at the Memorial Stadium at Grand Forks, coach Jones' squad will participate in the 31st district's track and field tournament.

In the Class A division at Bemidji on Friday, three new records were set. The Prowlers' Evan Jones, in winning the mile run event in 4:51.1, bettered the mark set by Bagley's Jordan last year, who had a record of 4:59.1. The Frazee high school mile relay team posted a mark of 3:42.5 to better the record of 3:44.9 set by Detroit Lakes in 1951. And the classy, 880-yard relay team from International Falls, running the half-mile in 1:32.7, shattered the previous mark of 1:36.5 set by Bemidji in 1954.

Prowler firsts, in addition of Jones' in the mile run, were Pete Froehle in the Shot Put; Dave Kollitz a tie for first in the 110-yard high hurdles; and a first by the Thief River Falls Sprint Medley team.

250,000 Walleye Pike Fry Planted in River Monday

Sportsmen's Club Also Seeking to Have Adult Crappies Set out Here

Don Lawrence, president of the Pennington County Sportsman Club, reported that on Monday the state game and fish division planted 250,000 walleye fry in the river here at Thief River Falls.

This is part of the Sportsmans club program to improve fishing in the river, said Bob Mattson, secretary. Mattson also said that the department is considering the club's request to trap a large number of adult crappies from Sarah, Union and Maple lakes to be planted in the river here.

Carl Sundstrom, local game warden when questioned said that the department is now working on the details for trapping crappies. He indicated that an effort will be made to plant several thousand crappies in the river at Crookston, Red Lake Falls and Thief River Falls.

'Slow Down and Live' Campaign Support Is Sought by Governor

Governor Orville L. Freeman last night asked for Minnesota's full-scale participation in the nationwide "Slow Down and Live" campaign, which will be conducted from May 27 through September 5. Formally launching the campaign in a talk prepared for delivery at the Minnesota Safety Council's annual Governor's award dinner at Hotel Saint Paul, St. Paul, he stated that the objective of the program is to reduce death, injury and property damage on the streets and highways of the state and nation during the peak period of summer travel.

Governor Freeman pointed out that "8311 persons were killed on the highways of the nation between Memorial day and Labor day last year. Here in Minnesota, 172 of the year's total of 641 deaths occurred during that period."

The "Slow Down and Live" campaign will concentrate on the five major violations associated with speed, according to Governor Freeman. He said that these five violations last year accounted for more than 52% of the traffic accidents in Minnesota, causes most of the injuries and almost half of the fatal accident.

"This Campaign," said the governor, "is not a gigantic speed trap. It is aimed at those drivers who seem to be in a perpetual hurry, against drivers who have a 'me-first' complex, against drivers who don't use common sense while driving."

Violations which will receive the greatest attention from state highway patrolmen, sheriffs and local enforcement officials are excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, following too closely and failing to yield right of way.

"Last year," the governor stated "the 24 eastern and southern states which participated in the campaign achieved a saving of 601 lives. I call upon the people of Minnesota to do their share—yes, even more than their share,—toward the goal of saving more than 1,100 lives during this year's campaign. That it can be done is borne out by last year's campaign record. That it will be done is up to everyone who drives and everyone who walks."

More than 700 local enforcement officers, safety workers, civic, industrial labor leaders packed the hotel to hear Governor Freeman launch the "Slow Down and Live" campaign and present safety awards to winners for achievements during the past year. Fred J. Voss, Duluth, president and general manager of the Duluth, Missabe and Northern railway, served as toastmaster and introduced chairmen of the various award committees.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Says 800,000 Lack Social Security Cards

A representative of the Grand Forks Social Security Office will be at the city Auditorium in Thief River Falls, Minn. on Tuesday, May 24, at 10 a. m. Individuals having any questions regarding the Social Security Act are urged to call on him at that time.

"Many individuals are now covered by old-age and survivors insurance for the first time," Mr. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks office, announced today. "They need to take certain steps right away to be sure that they get social security credit for their present employment."

There are about 800,000 persons in the nation who should apply for social security account numbers. These applications should be filed without delay so that the employer of newly covered individuals will have the employees' social security account numbers which he needs for bi-quarterly report.

Mr. Kistler went on to explain that a hired worker who is paid as much as $100 cash wages in a year by any one farm operator, regardless of the number of days he is employed, must have a social security card and show it to his employer.

Household employees (maids, butlers, chauffeurs, gardeners, cooks, etc.) who are paid as much as $50 cash wages in a calendar quarter by any one household employer, regardless of the number of days worked, will also have to have a social security card. Their employers are required to report their wages to the District Director of Internal Revenue, beginning with the first quarter of 1955.

Special Plates Are To be Available to Impounded Cars

Families of Minnesota persons whose automobile license plates have been impounded for driving violations can now obtain special plates with identifying letters.

The 1955 Minnesota legislature passed a law, believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, empowering courts to impound license plates of a vehicle owned or operated by certain violators.

The law applies to drivers who are convicted of driving without a license or for operating a car after revocation or suspension of driver's license.

The Minnesota secretary of state said Friday the new special plates are available on payment of a $3 fee, but only with court permission. The new plates have the prefix letters "X-W," followed by four numerals, so the vehicle can be readily identified by police.

The convicted person is prohibited from driving a car but his family will have access to the automobile.

State Medics to Meet May 23 to 25 in Minneapolis

Exhibits and Scientific Sessions to Be Held in Mill City Auditorium

Minnesota doctors and their colleagues from Wisconsin, North Dakota, South Dakota and northern Iowa will be gathering in Minneapolis on Monday to attend the 102nd annual meeting of the Minnesota State Medical association.

The meeting is scheduled May 23, 24 and 25, with headquarters in the Hotel Radisson, and exhibits and scientific sessions to be held in the Minneapolis Auditorium.

First sessions of the convention will be the two Saturday sessions of the council, called by its chairman, Dr. C. L. Oppegaard of Crookston. The council meets daily throughout the convention. The house of delegates, official policymaking body of the organization, made up representatives from the association's 32 component county and district medical societies, will be in session Sunday and Monday, with Dr. C. G. Sheppard of Hutchinson presiding as speaker.

Scientific meetings will begin Monday with closed circuit color television presentation on general surgical procedures by Dr. Owen H. Wangensteen, chairman, department of surgery, University of Minnesota, and members of his staff.

Social events for the meeting include the open house on Monday in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the host society, the Hennepin County Medical society; the annual banquet on Tuesday, and many other special dinners and luncheons for groups in the allied medical fields.

Public Told: Let Stray Fawn Alone

This is the time of year when the "wildlife manager" population hits the peak — self-appointed wildlife custodians, that is.

Many well-meaning folks have a tender spot in their hearts for that poor, lost fawn spotted walking along the roadside. Best thing to do for the fawn, the professional wildlife managers point out, is to let it be! The doe will not be far away, and is much better equipped to oversee the welfare of its offspring.

Don't pick up fawns or any other species of wildlife. It is not only against the law — it's contrary to the wishes of the animal and its parent.

Hottest news in Hardtops is the 4-Door Riviera

WHEN you learn what's been done in the automobile pictured here, you can easily see why this beauty is winning rave notices coast to coast.

Buick engineers took the hardtop body design that has been growing tremendously in popularity over the past six years—and gave it four doors instead of two.

Simple? Sure—to all outward appearances.

But it took a brand-new kind of body with wholly new structural principles to do it—to bring this long-awaited new kind of automobile to the public in volume numbers and at popular prices.

For this is a true hardtop—with the sleek and racy look of a Convertible, because there are no center posts in the window areas on either side.

And now it has front doors for the front-seat passengers—and rear doors for the rear-seat passengers—plus room increased to the size of a full Sedan.

(It took some special kind of engineering magic, you can be sure, to hinge all four doors at their forward edges for greater safety, and more ease of entering and exiting.)

HOTTEST NEWS IN AUTOMATIC DRIVES IS VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW

It's the world's first transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. You get better gas mileage in cruising. You switch the pitch just by pressing the gas pedal—and get lightning-like response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power. It's the performance thrill of the year. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Series at no more extra cost than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

So it looks like Buick has scooped the industry again—and come up with the hottest news in hardtops since Buick originated the first two-door hardtop six years ago.

And you can have it now—in the low-price SPECIAL or the supremely-powered CENTURY—and either one at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door.

Drop in on us today—this week, for sure—and see how easily and how quickly one can be yours.

2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan, Model 48 (illustrated) is

State Motor Fuel Taxes Multiply

Revenue Increases Nine Times from 1925 to 1955

It was 30 years ago this week that Minnesota first imposed its gasoline tax—a levy which today collects from highway users nine times as much in yearly revenue as in the first full year it was in effect.

This was pointed out today by H. M. Whisman, executive secretary of the Minnesota Petroleum Industries Committee, who noted that the Minnesota gasoline tax, first imposed May 1st, 1925 at a rate of two cents a gallon, produced $1,805,000 in its first full year. During 1955, the tax, at the present rate of five cents a gallon, will yield an estimated $45 million.

Mr. Whisman said that part of this increased revenue can be attributed to increased use of automobiles. There are now more than twice as many vehicles registered in Minnesota as in 1925. The other significant factor, he said, is the higher gasoline tax rate today.

In addition to the $45 million a year Minnesota highway users now pay in state gasoline taxes, there is also a 2-cent federal gasoline tax, which costs Minnesota taxpayers an additional $20 million a year, Mr. Whisman said. He added

"The 5 plus 2 cents per gallon which motorists here pay in combined state and federal taxes on gasoline is equivalent to about 32 percent of the retail price of regular gasoline."

St. Paul Juvenile Judge Calls Youth Coddled Too Much

A St. Paul judge warned youthful offenders that if they behaved like big-time criminals they would be treated that way by the court.

"There's been too much coddling of kids who want to act like gangsters," said Judge Clayton Parks, acting Ramsey County Juvenile Judge, adding: "I'm not going to coddle them."

He made his remarks in refusing pleas by two attorneys to reconsider sending three 16-year-old burglar suspects to district courts.

"It's going to be my philosophy, as long as I'm in juvenile court," Judge Parks said, "that when groups of kids 15, 16 and 17 years old run around in gangs, vandalize schools, beat up policemen and innocent people on the street, commit burglaries or holdups or use firearms, they are going to be treated like adults."

State Adults Back Salk Polio Vaccine

Minnesota Poll Reports Citizens Trust Product

Minnesota men and women have confidence in the Salk polio vaccine. A survey by the Minneapolis Tribune's Minnesota Poll of city, town and farm people througout the state indicates that: 17 out 20 (or 85 per cent) say that if they had children in the first or second grades school, they want them vaccinated against polio. The proportion is just as high among those in households where there are first or second graders, as it is among people in homes where there aren't any.

Nearly 19 out of 20 (or 94 per cent) approve of the plan to give vaccination priority to children and pregnant women.

About half of the adults (51 per cent) plan to be vaccinated themselves as soon as supplies are adequate.

The field work in the study was carried out after it already had become known that the U. S. public health had placed a temporary ban on the vaccine produced by a California firm, because some children had become ill with polio after being vaccinated; and when widespread publicity was given the fact some western states had suspended mass vaccinations pending further investigation. Nonetheless, a large majority of Minnesotans showed confidence in the new preparation.

Takes Optimistic View of Drivers' Records in State

That was the statement made today by E. Ray Cory, Austin, Minnesota, president of the Minnesota State Automobile association, and chairman of AAA's national committee on traffic and safety.

In terms of miles driven, the record proves, he said, that Minnesotans have cut the fatality rate by 50% since 1935.

Traffic accidents would have killed 1,240 Minnesotans in 1954 instead of the 638 actually killed, he pointed out, if the deaths per one hundred million vehicle miles of travel were the same as in 1935.

In both 1935 and in 1954 Minnesota had an equal number of traffic deaths—638. Cory said that this was the bright spot in the traffic accident picture, "holding the line on traffic deaths despite more cars and more drivers driving more miles each year."

Admitting that any traffic death "is just one to many", Cory cited the record to bear out his contention that victories are being scored in the campaign against traffic accidents. Minnesota's death rate per one hundred million vehicle miles was 11.3 in 1935, Cory noted, as compared to a rate of 5.8 in 1954. The average death rate for all states last year was 6.2.
